SHIFT FOR VIC HIGH

Students at Vic High will have to share nearby Central Junior High for an indefinite period starting next month, the first month of the new school year.

A delay in construction at Vic High—the school is undergoing a $1.6 million renovation program—means the school won't be ready to accept its 1,100 students this fall.

Bill Stavdal, spokesman for Greater Victoria School District, said the contractor, Dura Construction Ltd., blamed the construction delay at Vic High on "lagging delivery of supplies."

Partial occupancy only will be possible by Sept. 24 at the earliest, depending on approval from the Victoria fire marshal's office, Stavdal said.

Stavdal said Central will operate a shift beginning at 7:45 a.m. each school day and ending at 12:15 p.m. Vic High's school day will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 5:30 p.m.

Central Junior has about 760 students.

The double shift schedule will cause a disruption in family life for some parents, the president of the Confederation of Parents Associations of Victoria said Tuesday.

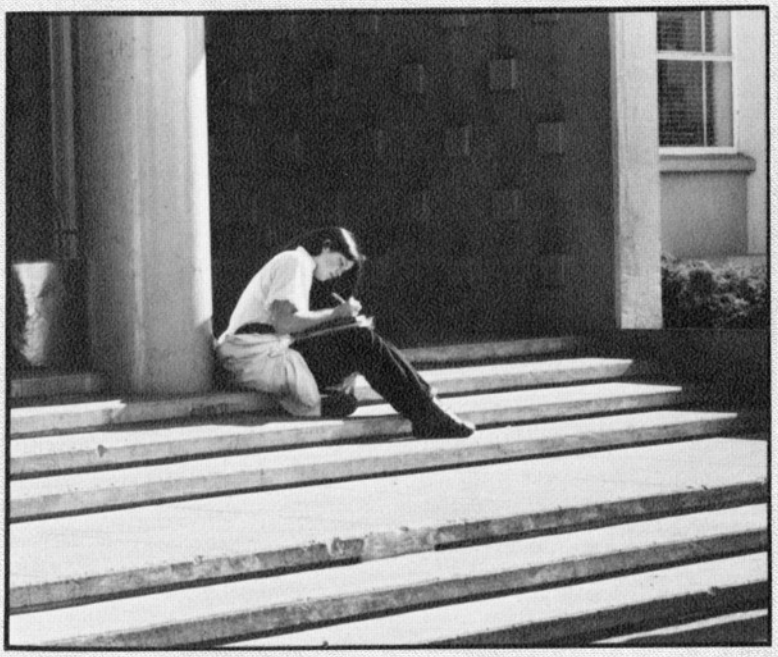
Marilyn Berry said in an interview the doubling up of students at Central would cause inconvenience to parents, particularly working parents.

"Working parents will have some difficulty coping with that schedule, especially if both are working.

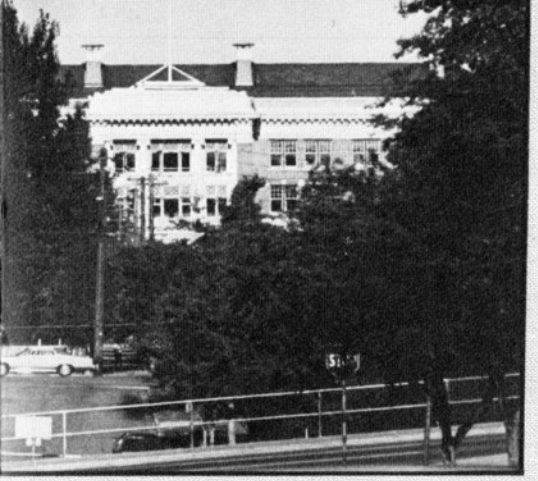
"It will mean a disruption of family life.

"There will be a scheduling problem for older children who are counted on to take care of younger kids in junior secondary school."

"Now that you're here, I'd like to point out that you were all five minutes late."

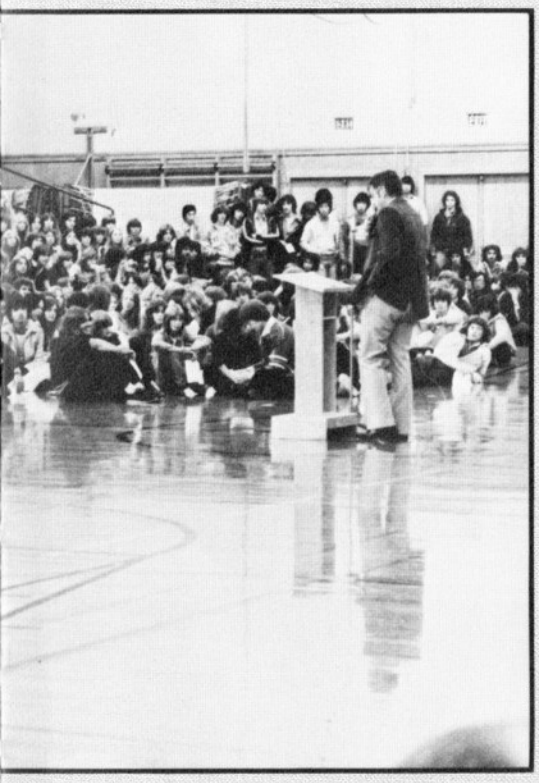


Dear Diary...

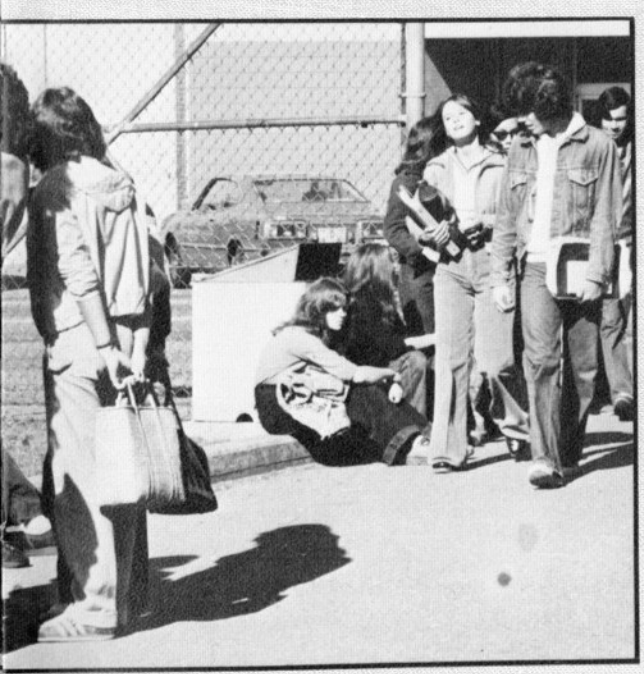


Dear Diary: Well, I'm back at school for my final year, but I'm at Central Junior. Vic High's renovations for fire safety aren't finished, so we're on an afternoon shift from 1:00 until 5:30. Some of my friends have permission to leave school early so they can keep their jobs, and most of us don't get home until it's dark. The new principal, Mr. Garner is handling the situation well.

Not ready but waiting.



Every school has its ups and downs.

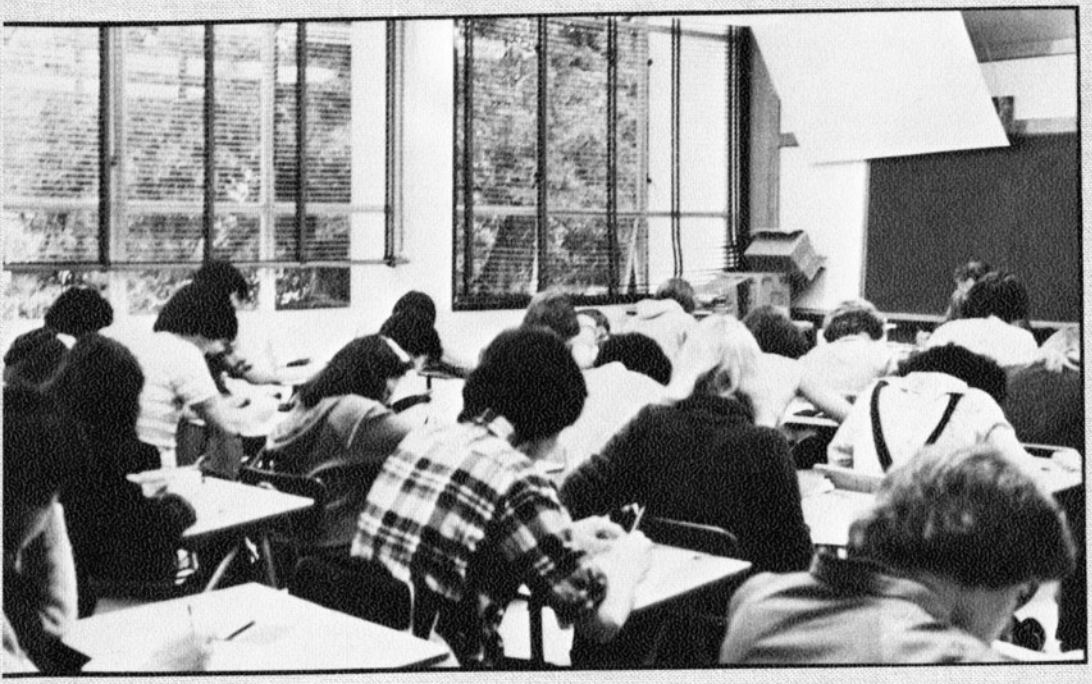


"A dead WHAT on the road?"

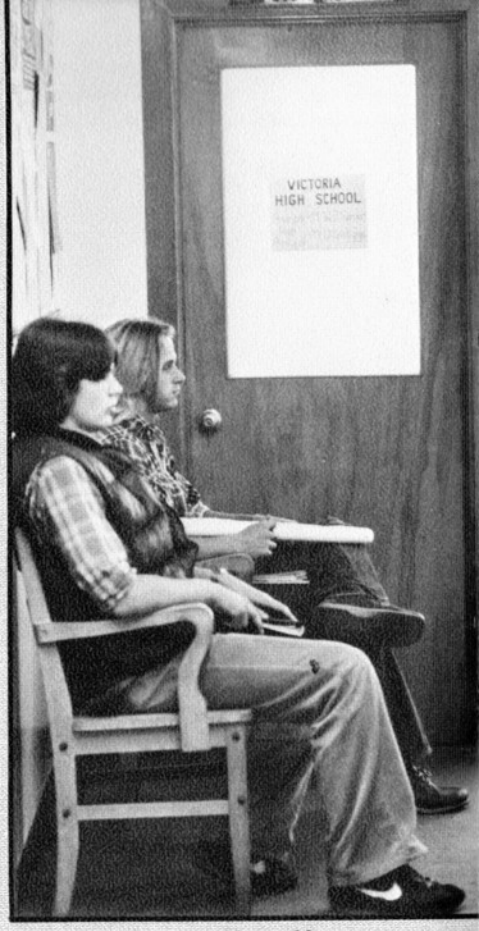
Home away from home?

There are good, as well as bad points about this shift. Everyone can enjoy a nightlife seven days a week, sleep in, and still get to school on time. Nobody has a locker, so we have to carry our books everywhere, and lots of people have to walk to and from Fairey Tech. for classes. Classes are often crowded, and are found pretty well anywhere where there's room. It seems our return to Vic High is being postponed every two weeks.

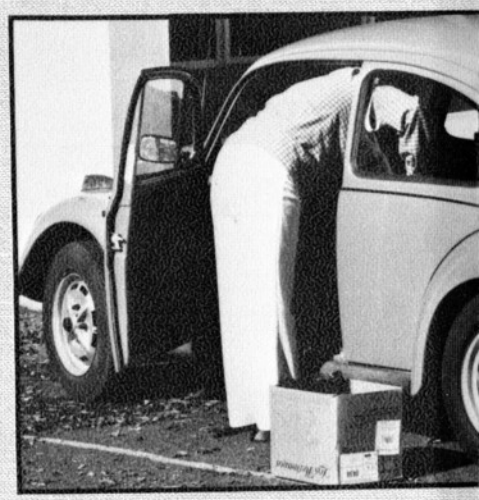
To and fro pros.

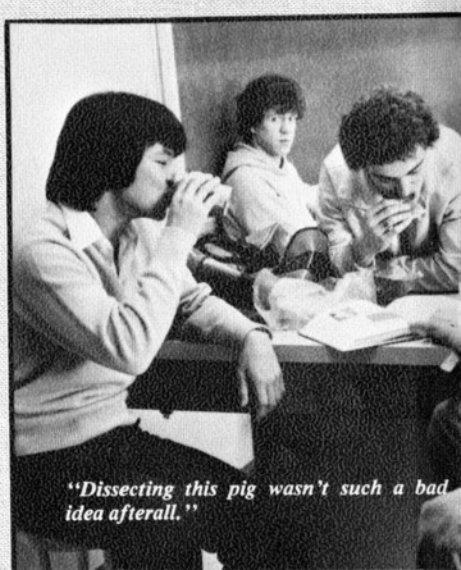


Studious Students



Double trouble.

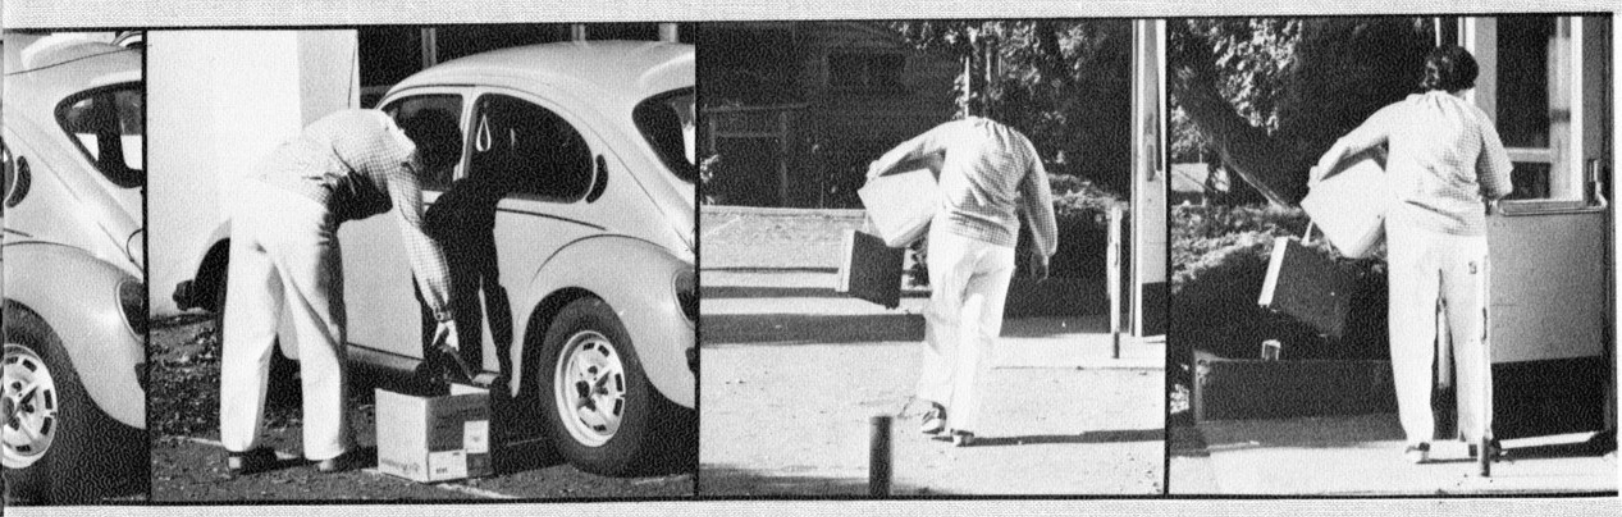




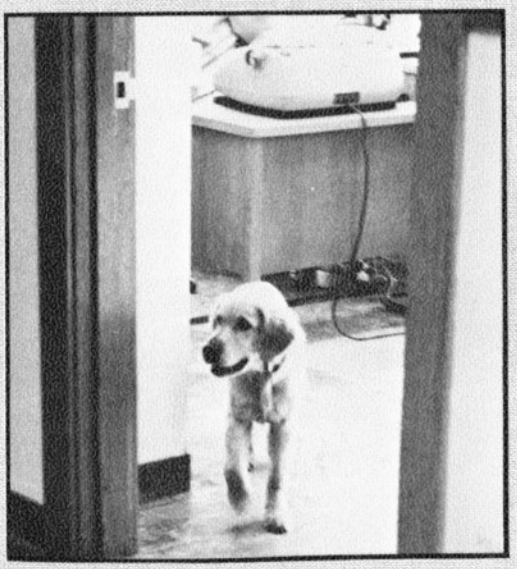
"Dissecting this pig wasn't such a bad idea afterall."

"This place is full of quacks."

Pie in the sky.

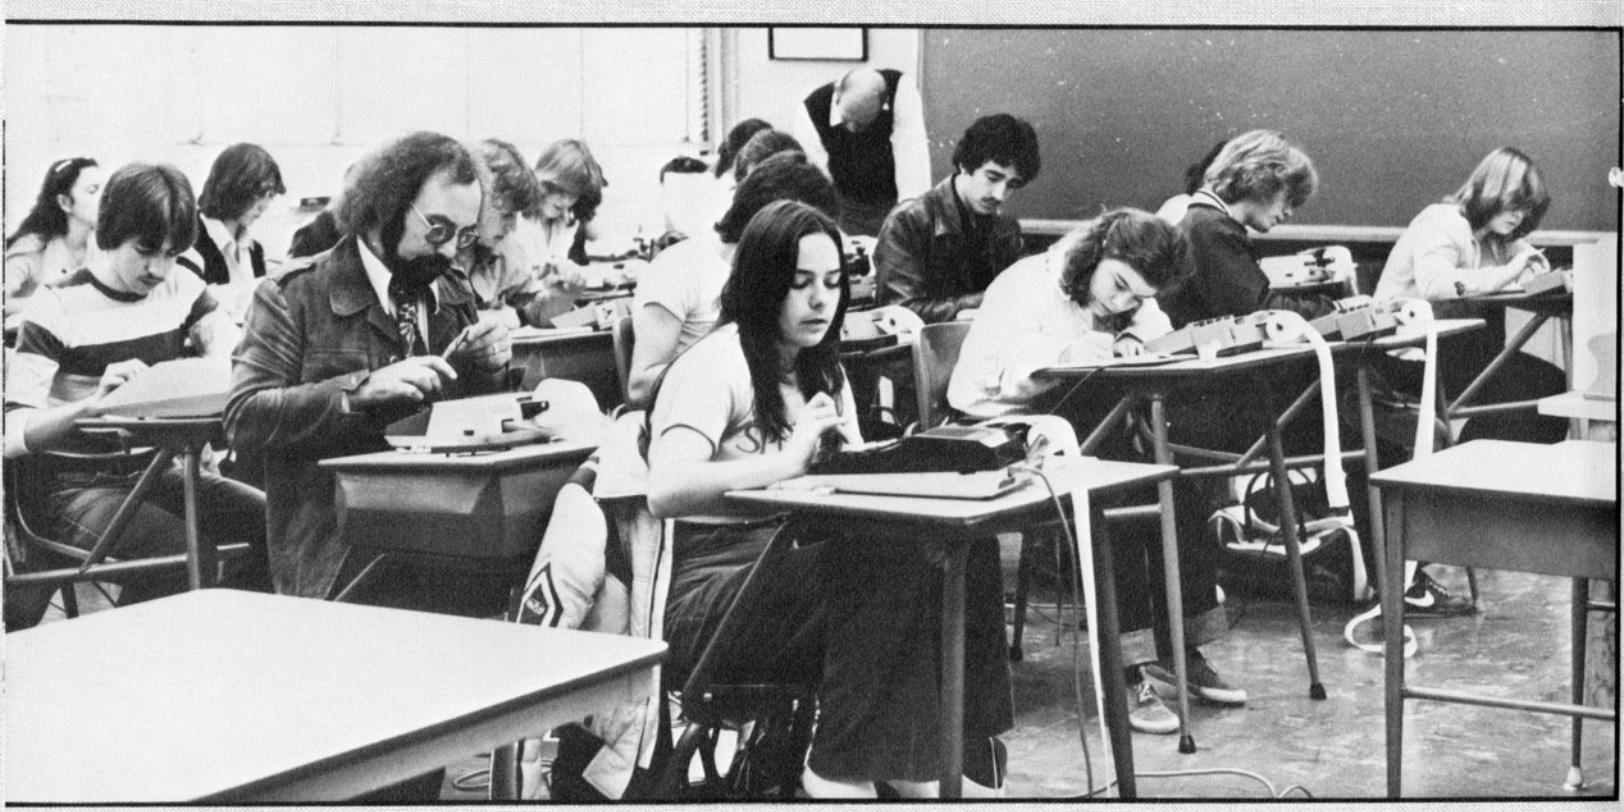


Duckin'.....an' truckin'.



"I think I took a wrong turn."

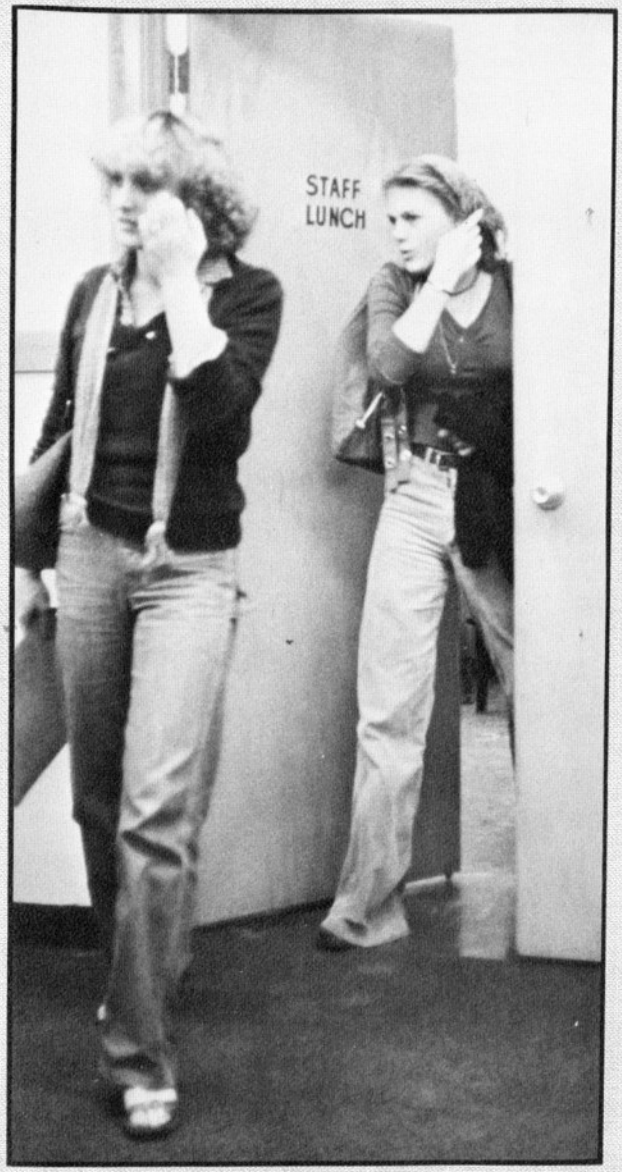
We're finally getting ready to go back home. I think everybody's looking forward to it. Books and supplies are beginning to be packed into boxes, and the Fire Marshall has promised us that November first is definitely okay to go back. The student Parliament is selling all sorts of memorabilia such as buttons, hats, pendants, etc. to promote the March Back.



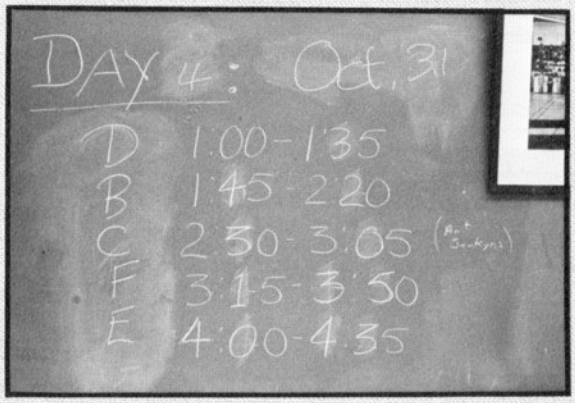
Tapeworms

"They'll never find us."

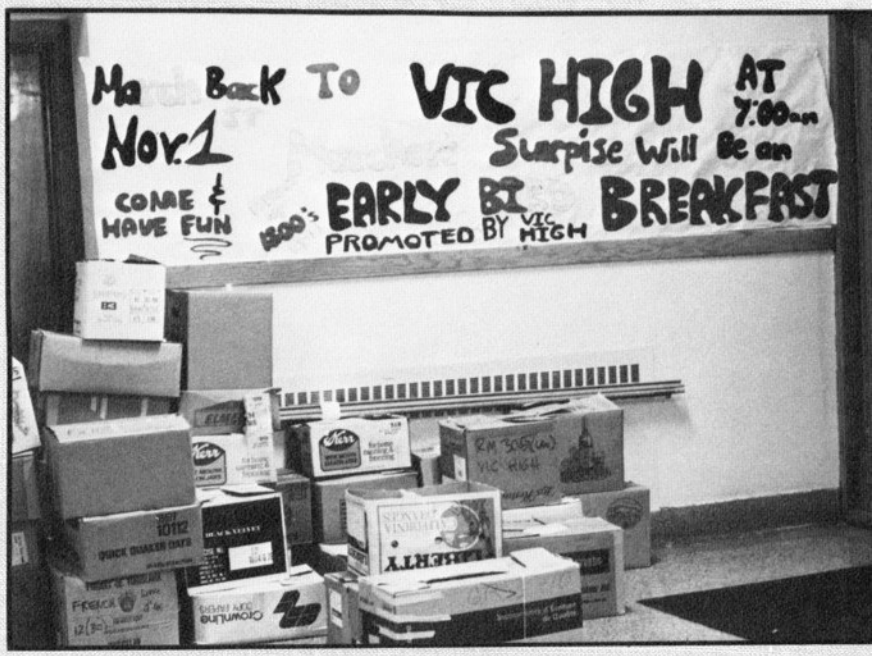
"Wrong building!?!"



Out to lunch?

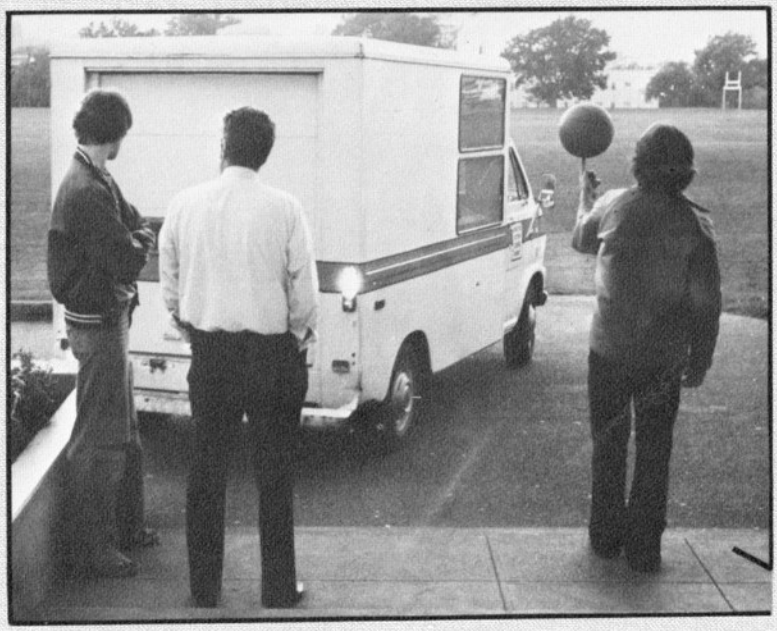


Sign of the times.



Cardboard breakfast?

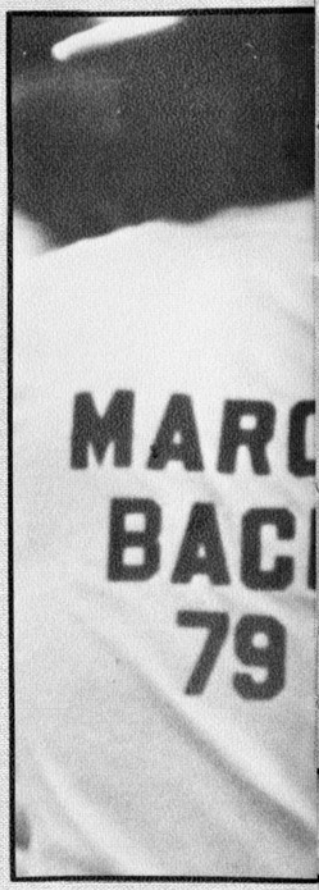
"It's just a bit of dirty strip."



"You say it's got padded walls?"

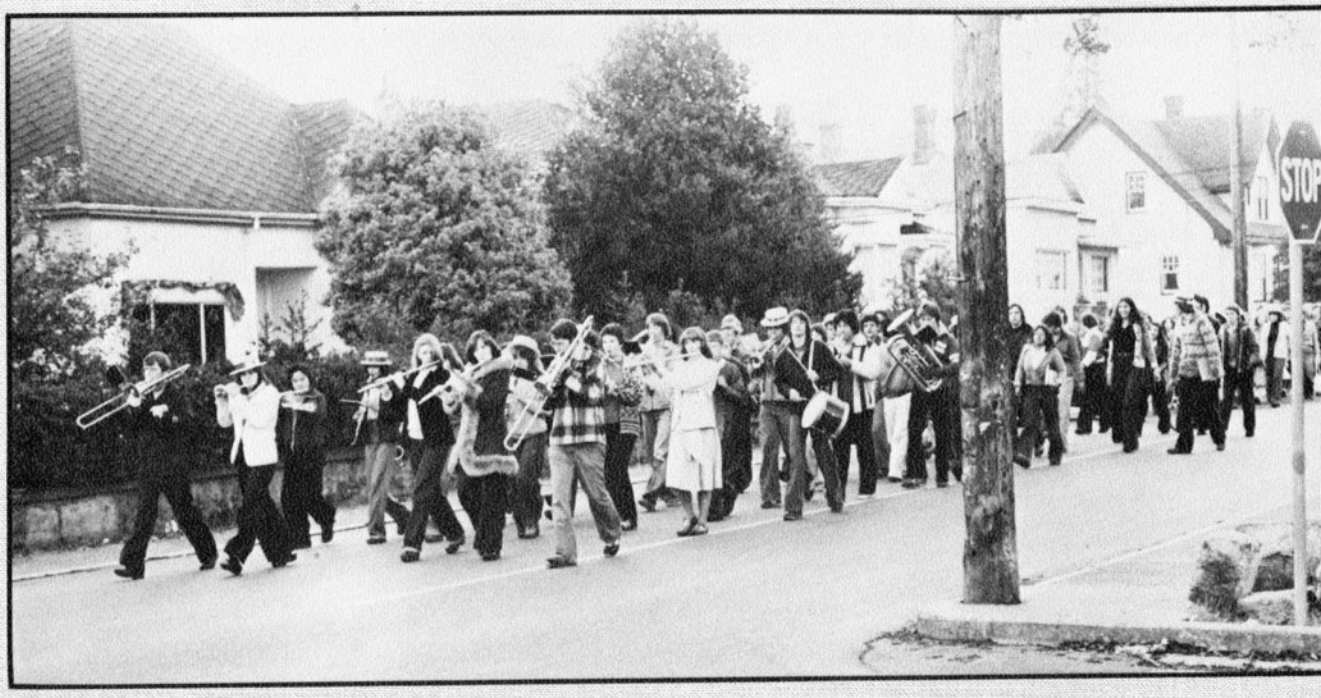
I must have been crazy to get up so early! About half of the school met at Central at seven a.m. where Mr. Garner presented Dr. Eggert (Central's principal) with a plaque expressing our appreciation. Several speeches were made, including one by the Superintendent of Schools, and there were T.V. cameras and reporters recording it all.

"...and I have a rather lengthy list of people I'd like to see after these announcements..."



?Whose back?

"Going my way?"



Going in style.

"I knew I should have taken up flute!"

"Go for the gold!"

The spirit lives on.

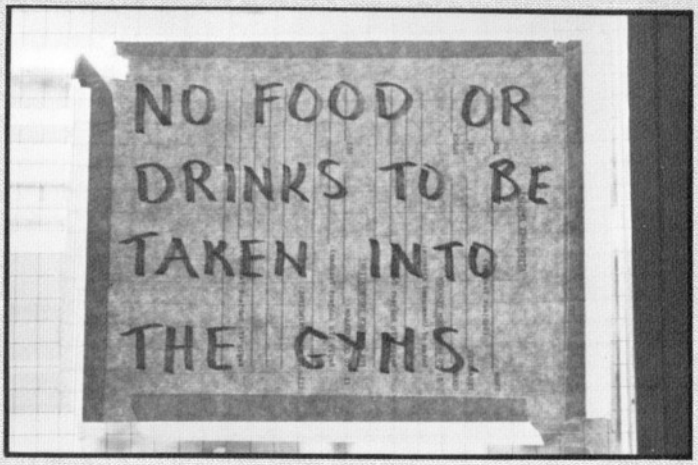
We marched down Fernwood, singing the school song, keeping in time with the band, screaming and waving banners, and showed a police escort all the way! We even delayed three buses. The amount of school spirit was incredible!

When we reached Vic High, we filed into the Andrew's gym and listened to a few more speeches. There was a free breakfast for all, which consisted of sausages, eggs, toast, and Tang. There were a lot of sarcastic jokes made about the food, but it wasn't really that bad. We ate standing or sitting wherever there was room, then went our ways to explore the 'new' school.

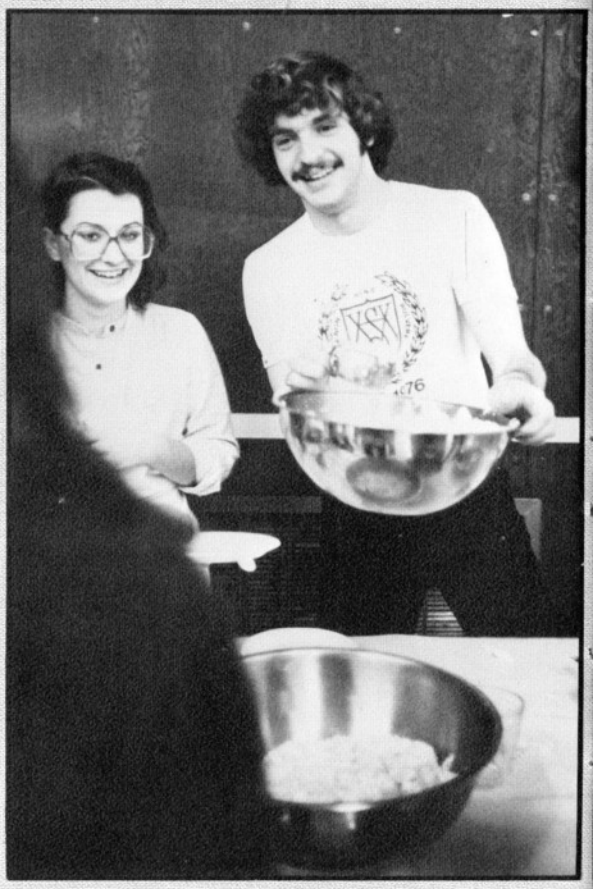
"Step four: Turn sausage over."

"Would you quit throwing those sausages around?!"

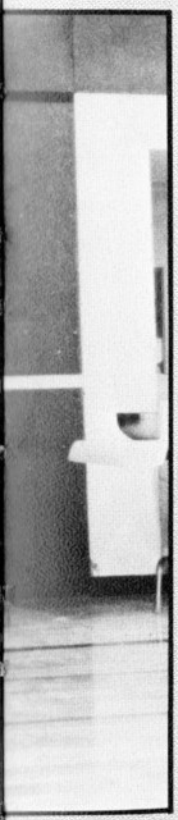
"Whatever it is, it's still moving."



Rules, rules, rules.



"Better to give than to receive!"



Andrew's Eatery

"Put it in my purse, we'll dump it later."

"Seconds anyone?"

What are they doing to old Vic High?

By PAUL MINVIELLE

It'll still look as great as ever from the outside, but a little bit of Victoria High School's soul has been spirited away.

Some teachers, students and others who have developed an attachment to the imposing structure on Grant Street wonder how much of the old magic will be there when the school reopens, hopefully within the next two weeks.

When the last of $1.6 million has been spent to bring the 1914 building up to 1979 standards for fire safety, 1,018 students will stop attending the afternoon shift at Central Junior High School and return to normal hours at Vic High, one of the most imposing school buildings in Canada.

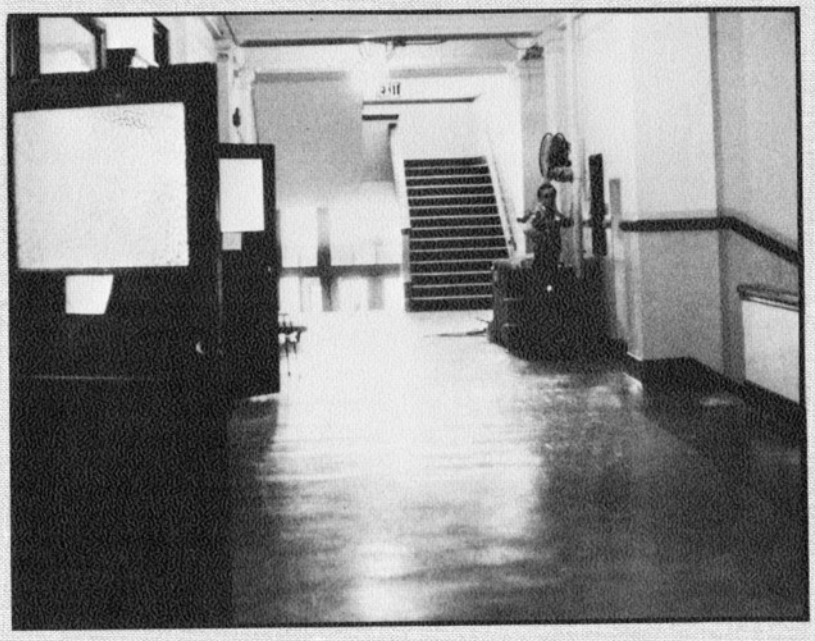
Although the building is 65 years old, Vic High's history goes back 103 years, making it the oldest public high school west of the Great Lakes.

The exact date of the reopening is still in question, even though the contractor has said the building will be ready Sept. 24. It could be be later as Greater Victoria School Board trustees learned Monday night.

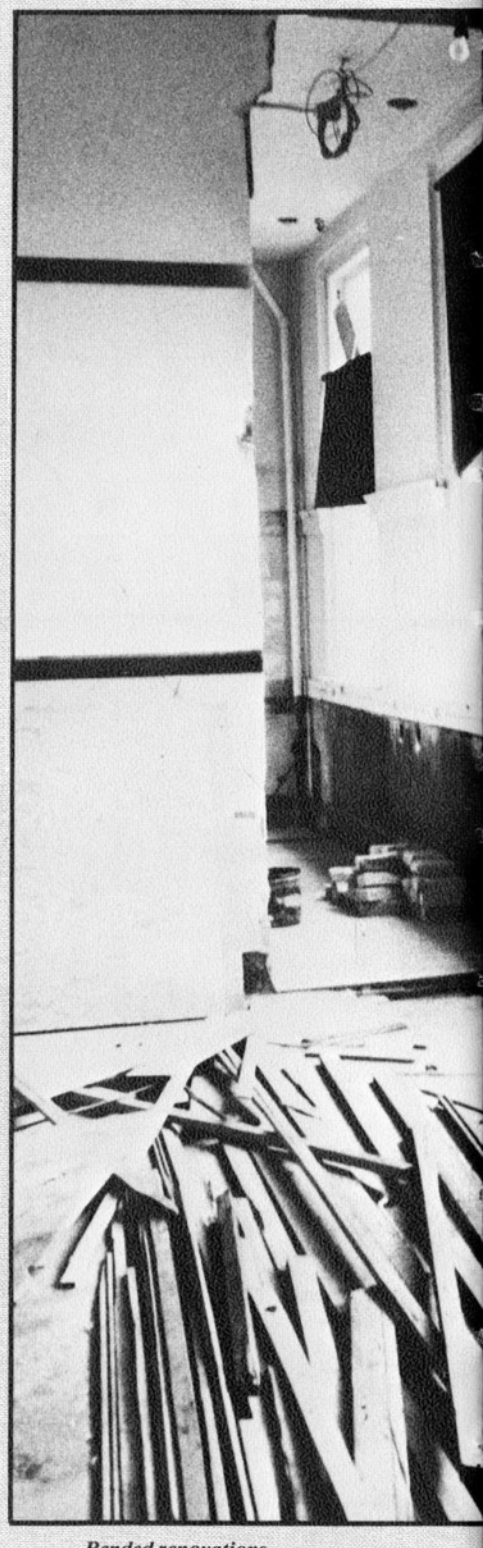
Superintendent of schools Allan Stables said the project had been "bedevilled" from the start. He cited instances of materials for the school in a railway boxcar being lost on a siding in Toronto for weeks. Doors left exposed on a Vancouver wharf got wet and had to be returned to the factory for refinishing.

While everyone involved with the school grudgingly admits the need that existed for fire safety, few appreciate what the renovations have done to the character of the place.

Fire safety spells diminished character for city landmark

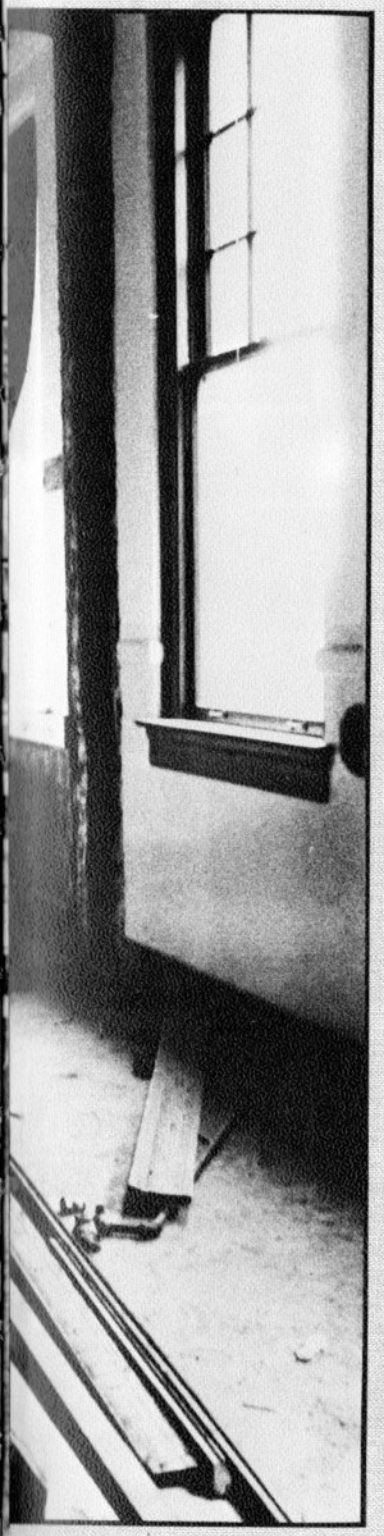


A last look.

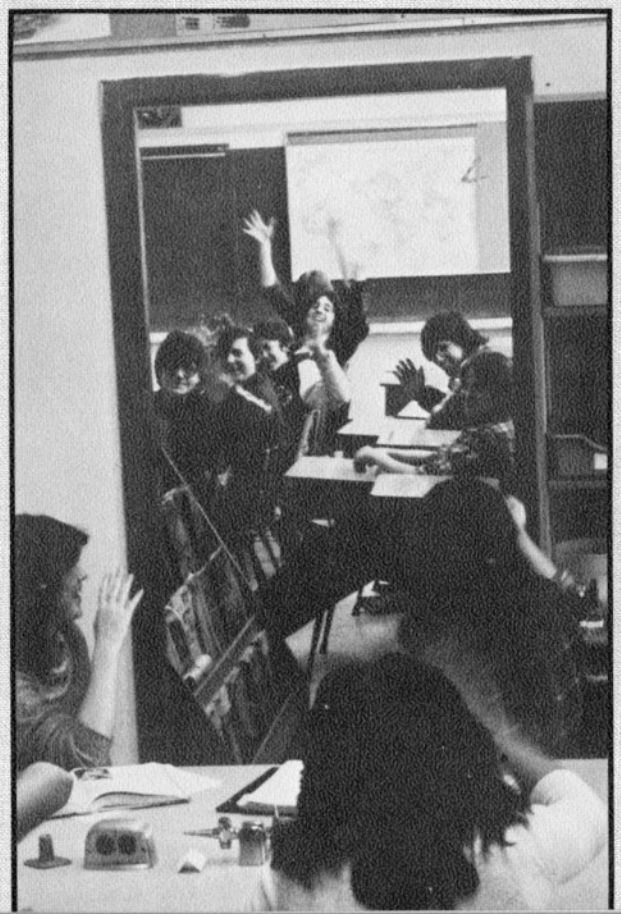


Rended renovations.

I can't believe how much Vic High has been changed! There are fire doors everywhere, the halls are much narrower, and the once unique, high ceilings are now modern and lowered. Almost everybody, grade twelves included, got lost in the halls. Very few people appreciated the renovations, but as Mr. Garner keeps reminding us: "It's not the building that makes the character of a school, it's the people in it." There's still work to be done, but we're keeping our chins up.



"There's got to be some way out!"



In keeping with the renovations...

Mixed class?

The direction of our ships journey shifts with each new sea of faces.

1979-1980! Certainly, for all of us at Victoria High School, it will be one that we will never forget. Commuting between Central and our own vocational facility was a real experience — especially when the late fall rain arrived. And who could not give 5:30 p.m. as the time when classes finished in our two months on shift?

There were good things happening in all this: the tutorials with the UVic students; the flexible approach adopted by our staff to cope with the needs of the working student, and the exceptional hospitality extended by our friends at Central.

Then came "The March"! Wasn't it nice to get back into our own building even though much construction remained to be done?

Throughout all these trials, teams worked out, played their league games, and did well. Drama students rehearsed in preparation for public presentations, and the Band worked on the material for their California trip. Most clubs were organized and, in general, things went on as usual despite some minor problems with the facilities.

It is a great credit to all of the Victoria High School community that we survived so well. Supportive parents, a concerned staff and a generally responsible group of students all contributed to our successfully coping with the problems.

I would like to close by thanking the members of Student Parliament who worked so hard to bring the school together and commending the Camosun staff for the long hours of hard work that went into the preparation of this yearbook.

BILL GARNER

Tall, dark and . . . see for yourselves girls. Baseball, Soccer, Volleyball, Rep. Basketball, Alpha Vice-President, Red Cross, Big Block Club Treasurer, Honour Student.

This picture comes from the Camosun of 1950, the year Mr. Garner graduated from this very high school.

The year's theme, "Changes", is particularly appropriate — we have experienced considerable change since September.

Basically, we are very conservative — we thrive on the familiar and resist unfamiliar settings. To survive in the world of today, we must be prepared to adapt to an ever changing environment — whether this is some familiar landmark or physical structure which is altered to provide greater safety, or whether we suddenly find ourselves alone as our peers choose different paths. We must adapt, and seek new friends or find new meanings within the old.

Hopefully, your experiences at Vic High, and the people with whom you have associated for some two or three years, will have provided you with the strength, determination and skills to enjoy life as it is and seek a meaningful role in the years that lie ahead.

The journey through life has many roads. Those who have travelled before us can help us choose which roads to take.

Mr. H. Runer: He's carving his career quite nicely.

Mrs. M. Coburn: A civilized lady with a flare for telling stories.

Mr. R. Wickstrom: Renowned for leaving the room, and coming back with a cup of coffee. What about the "Danish pastry"?

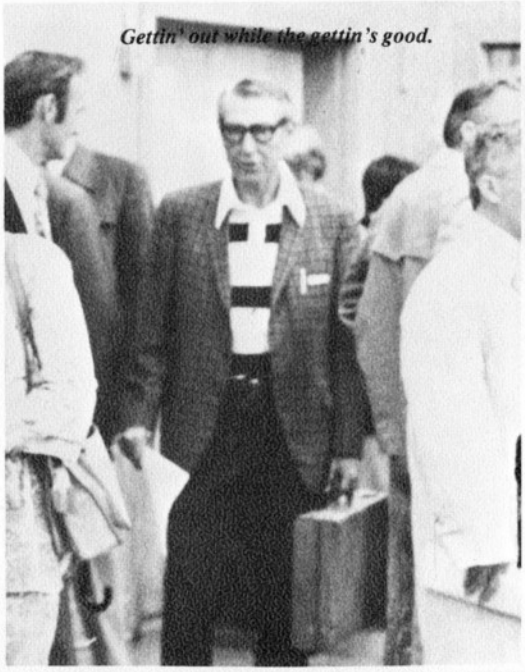
Assistant to the principal

Mrs. J. Burgis: Has no sympathy for latecomers.

Mrs. E. deVilliers: "By the way class, we're having an exam tomorrow"

Mr. G. Andrews: "Everything's cut and dry."

"Look at the jerk with the camera."



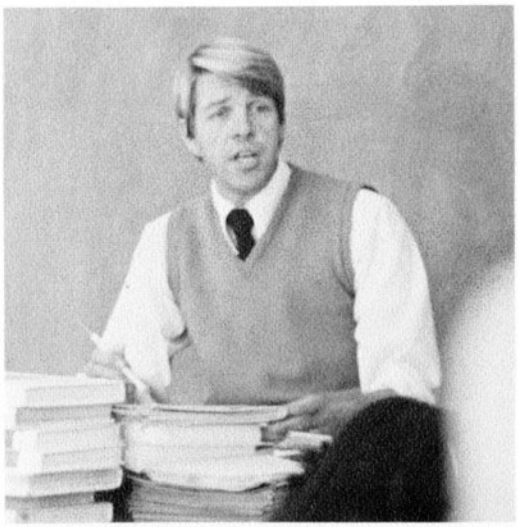
Gettin' out while the gettin's good.

Mr. R. Blasner: It's amazing how he comes up with skiing stories relevant to science and math.

Mrs. V.Egan: "Come on you guys!"

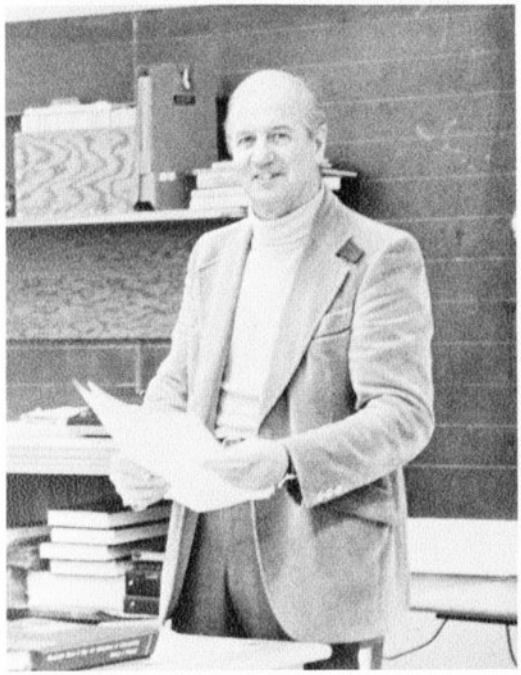
Mr. Blasner always projects a good image.

"You want a WHAT for Christmas?"



Mr. J. Peramaki: He justifies his racial jokes with his last name.

Mr. D. Johnston: Gets started in the morning with a cup of cafeteria caffeine.



Mr. W. Brooks: "A modest amount" Brooks is known for his dazzling smile and fairness to others.

Mrs. M. Fishwick: How many fish would Mrs. Fishwick pick, if Mrs. Fishwick could pick fish? Try that in shorthand.

Babbling Brooks

Mr. F. Sedgwick: "A job worth doing is worth doing right."

Mr. L. Owen: A regular POwerhouse in the Reading centre.

Mr. J. Chell: If you think YOU'VE got problems, talk to Mr. Chell.

Mr. R. McTavish: Believes there's no hope for a messy mechanic.

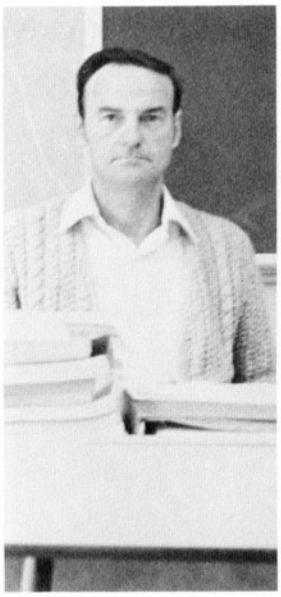
Miss M. Law: "Parlez vous Francais?"

Mr. K. Newell: "There's your answer. Right?"

Mr. M. Lund: Doesn't much care for chowderheads.

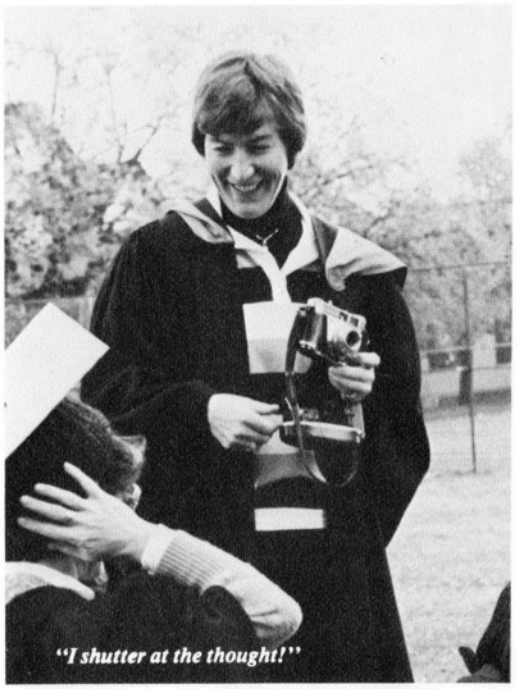
Mr. F. Packford: We've heard of Olympic gold, silver, and bronze medalists...but not a sheet metalist?!

Mr. B. Chan: "Eyes on the elbow... here it goes now."

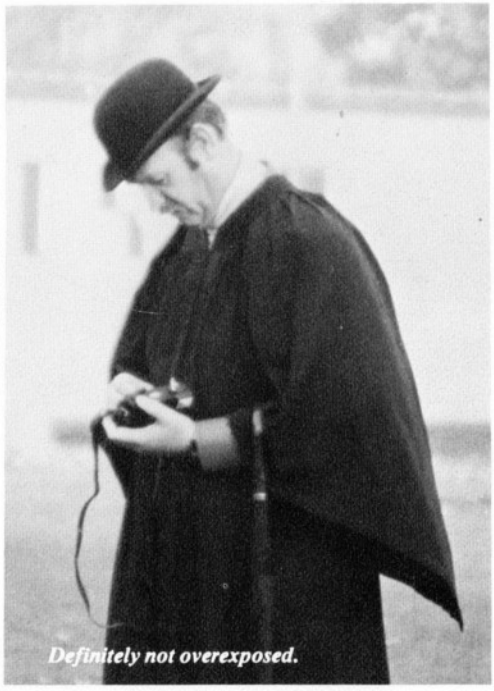


Miss B. Armstrong: "Do you have any idea what that's going to cost?!"

Mr. T. Briggs: A unique "type" of guy.



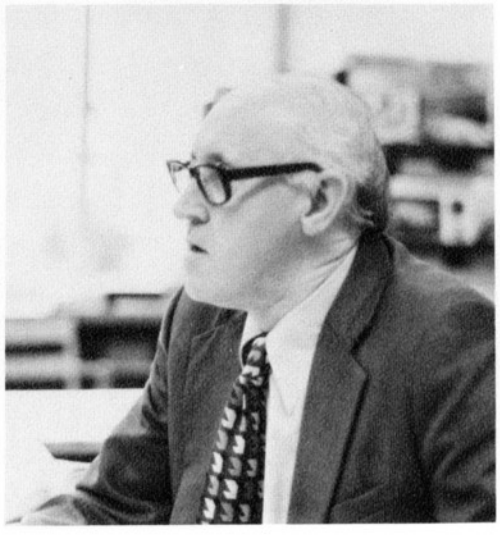
"I shutter at the thought!"



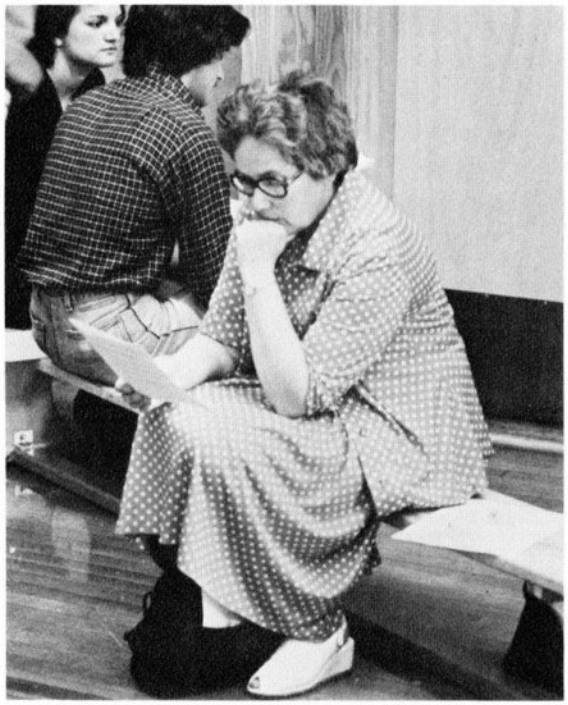
Definitely not overexposed.

Mr. B. Ashwell: The employment information centre of Vic High.

Mr. J. Hopper: If silence were golden, his library would be twenty-four karat.



"Do you ever feel like a wallflower?"



The Thinker

Mr. T. Harris: "A snowball's chance in hell!"

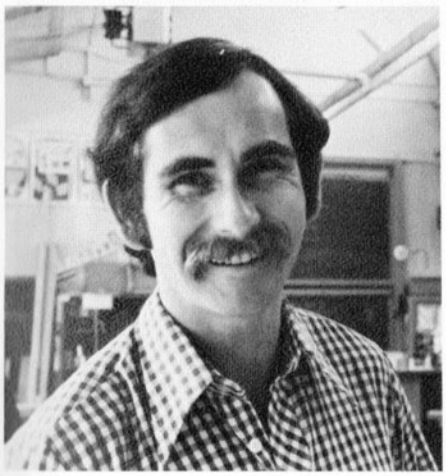
Mrs. M. Andrews: Believes students should be equal opportunity employers and employ their brain cells once in a while.

Mr. R. Fell: If you love homework, you'll love Mr. Fell.

Mr. P. Gammon: We've concluded that the mysterious egg-man is planning to take over for the Easter bunny.

Mr. C. Nesmith: He could probably stare a grizzly down if he had to.

Mrs. F. Reimer: Her major goal is to remember to send the absentee list to the office on time.



Mr. B. Somers: He scares most girls out of the shops.

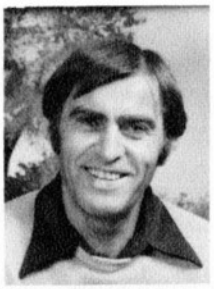
Mr. R. Underwood: Really gets into choir and his beard. Blueberry pie?!

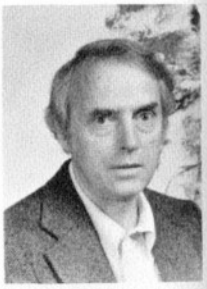
Rick's chicks?

Ms. N. Guilmette: She's got a patent on patience.

Mr. J. Kreiser: He's got the tidiest desk in the West.

Mr. B. McCarron: Has taken to standing guard over the counselling area most mornings.





Miss B. Hanslip: "I beg your pardon?! That's MISS Hanslip!"

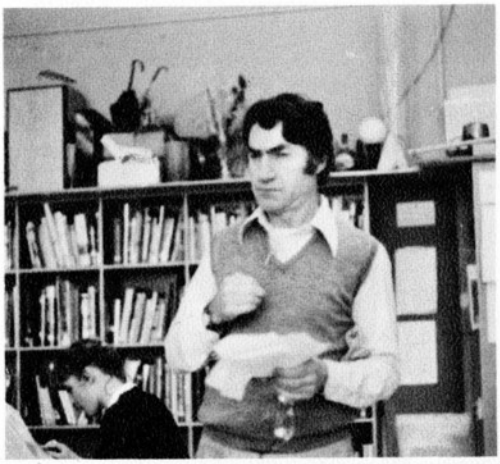
Mr. B. Brice: Is often found raising a racket.

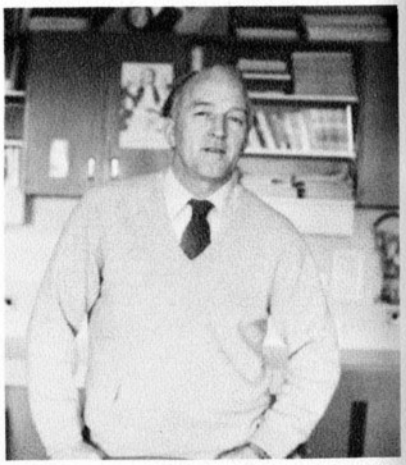
Mr. R. Kent: Very Mechanical Man

"misplaced my glasses again..."

Mr. M. Hemming: Has rotten luck with stereos.

Mr. B. McHugh: Probably couldn't teach with his hands tied up.





Mrs. D. Nancarrow: There's no fooling her with a slap-dash job.

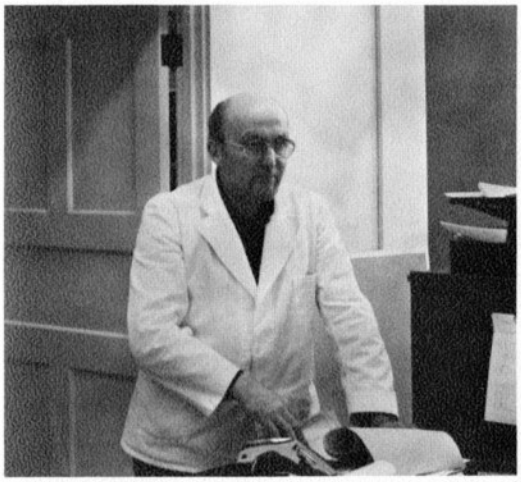
Mrs. C. Masters: With her, you get a little "l" if you're a little late, and a big "L" if you're a lot late.

Mr. M. Scott: "Now look lads..."

Mr. A. Cullin: Thank goodness somebody still believes in multiple choice!

Mr. A. Valdal: Makes sure his classes get the most mileage out of their runners.

Sorry guys about these photos.



Mr. B. Camp: "My name is Mr. Camp. Charlie-Able-Mary-Peter. Camp."

Mr. G. Sinclair: He's wired to his profession.

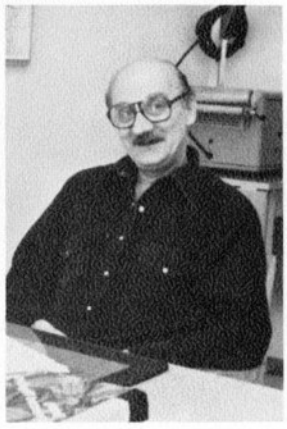
Mr. E. Bryans: The only Drivers Ed. teacher who broke the record for saying, week after week, "the cars should be ready by next week."

Mrs. J. Donaldson: Unwillingly was titled the official second floor girls washroom attendant this year.

Surprised?

Mr. A. Paone: Often heard to be calling "HAYNee"

Miss H. Ruckle: Gone but not forgotten.



Mr. G. English: He got his last name into the wrong occupation.

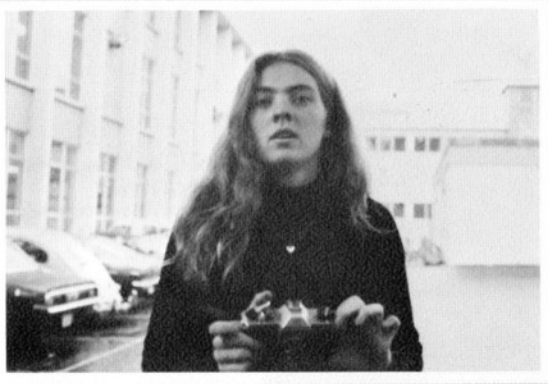
Mrs. L. Allison: Smokers beware of the tree outside of her room!

Mr. J. Baur: We've heard rumors he's leaving us to do impersonations in Las Vegas.

Another assignment well done.

We must look to the future....and remember the past.

Camosun Congregation



Beaten at the draw.

The Camosun Corner

The past year has been a milestone for Vic High, as we have experienced significant changes in both structure and administration. In this first Camosun of the new decade we have tried to keep up our reputation as one of Victoria's best high school yearbooks, and simultaneously apply new ideas such as the untraditional cover design. We started the year with plans to produce an all new, super-duper one-of-a-kind yearbook, but found we spent more time trying to figure out what we were supposed to be doing. So many things go on in and outside of school, and since the purpose of a yearbook is to record these events, we found ourselves running from place to place with cameras trying to catch all kinds of people doing all kinds of things. We hope we've been successful in portraying at least a small part of every aspect of Vic High.

We'd like to thank the Photography Club and our staff for their hard work and co-operation, and enormous thanks go to Mr. Chan who recieves so little recognition for the many, many hours he spends every year to ensure the success of this book. Despite the problems and a few nervous breakdowns, we've really had a lot of fun making the Camosun and hope all appreciate our efforts.

The Photography Club

Once again the Photography Club has worked in close association with the Camosun staff this year. Guided by Mr. Chan, the members spent many hours in room 411 and the dark room to meet our demands for MORE PICTURES! We thank Val Stewart (the president) and all of the regulars: Paul Modos, Paul Baker, Rudi Vandenbroek, Bill Cawker, and Lisa Thomlinson. Thanks also to the members who occasionally drifted in, and provided us with some great photos; Pat MacMillan, Adrianna Premat, Delores Belusic, Jackie Brens, and Laura Marwick.

We shall grow and experience with each new day we face.

Now that we've been back at Vic High for a few months, school has settled down to a regular pace. Classes aren't cramped anymore, and we have more facilities available to us. We finally feel a sense of permanence.

THE SCOFFER

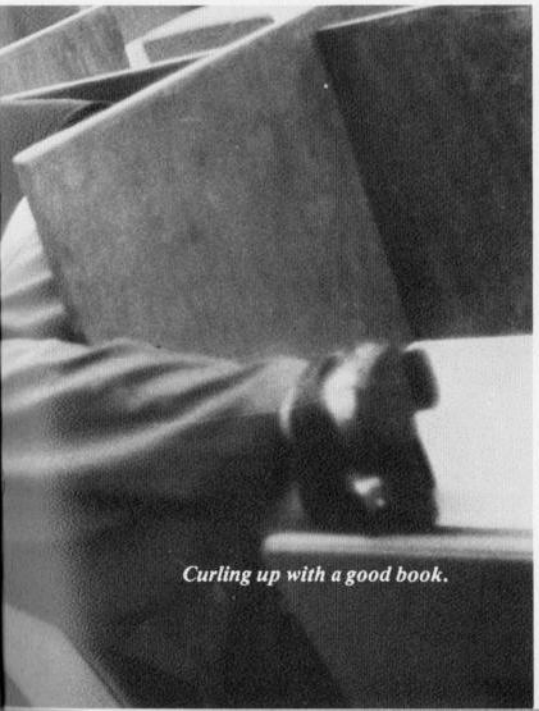
By: Kathleen M. Clarke.

"O ye simple, understand wisdom: and ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart." Proverbs 8:5.

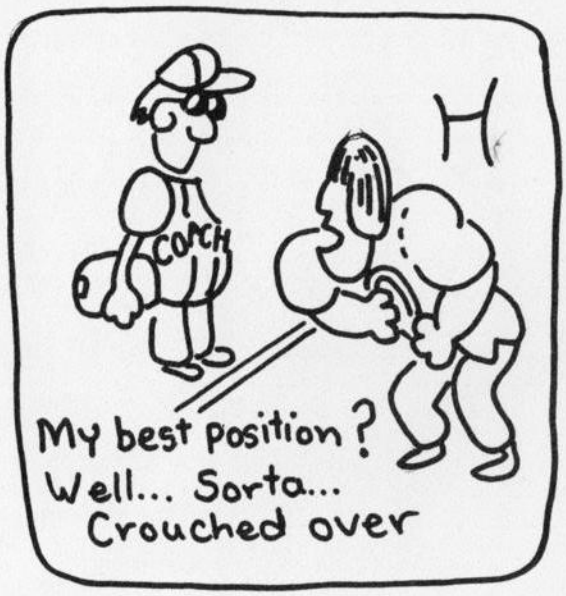
Like a flash of steely light
The farmer wields his tool,
The learned one when passing by
Is apt to say "Poor fool."

But who is he to scorn the toil
Where hands and faith are needed?
Let him whose fingers bear no soil,
Make sure his soul is weeded.

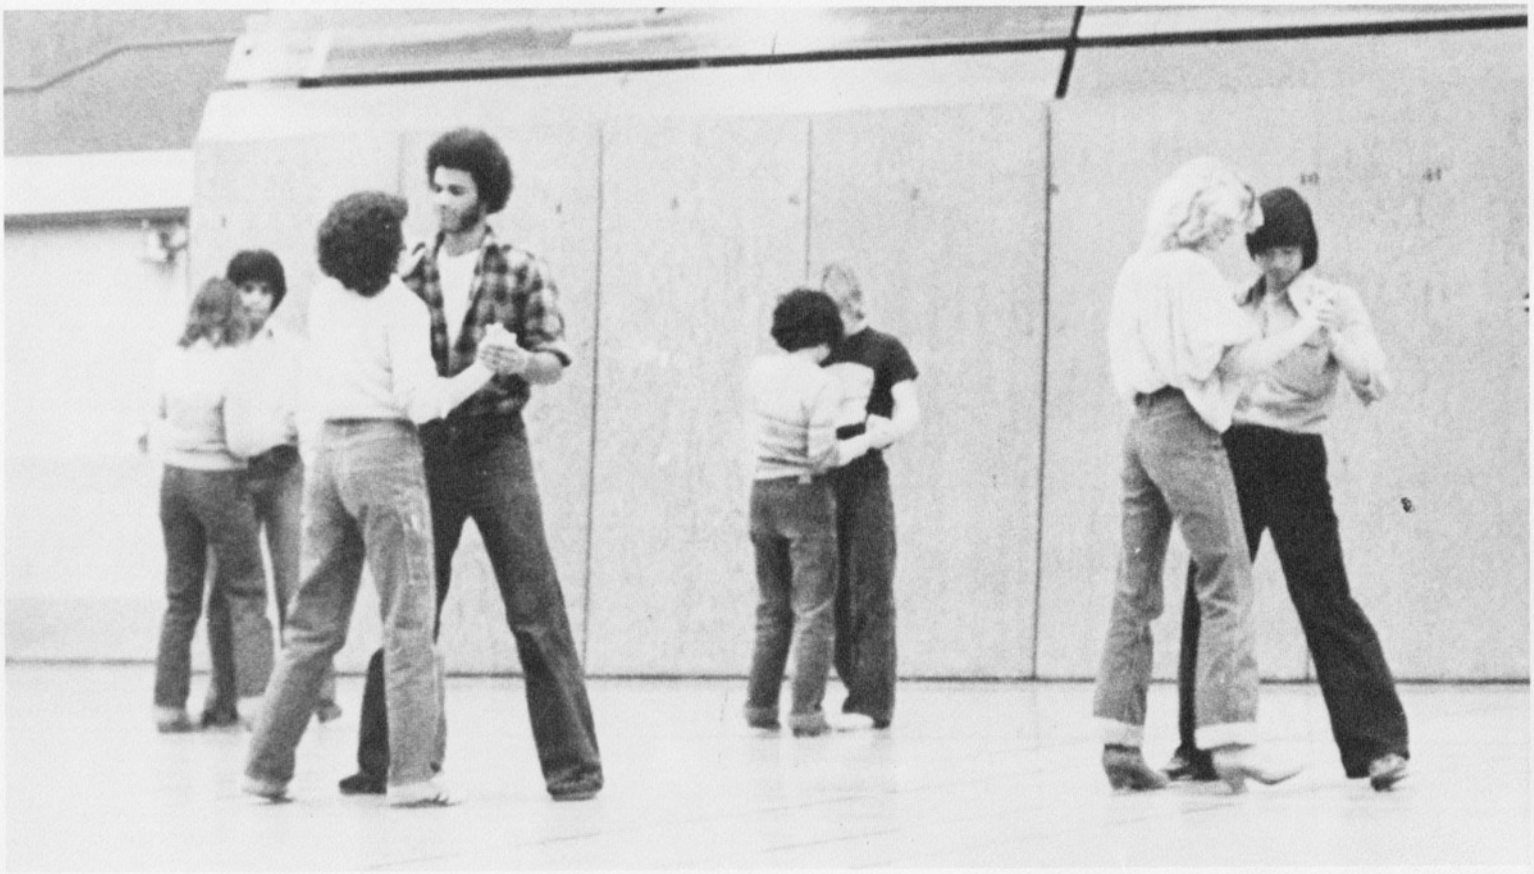
Mrs. Clarke, our senior French student.



Curling up with a good book.



We have reached the top of the mountain;
the peak is now ours to develop.



Swing your partner round and round...

DARYL ADAMS: "Yank" understands females much better than patriotic Canadians. Daryl feels he'll be best remembered for his good looks and has plans to become a U.S. senator, but he would settle for President.

CHERYL ALEXANDER: "Sebe" hopes she'll be remembered by her friends for being there. Cheryl doesn't like the morning or the renovations but seems to be making out O.K. In the future, she wants to go to university.

CORRINE ALEXANDER: "Cor" must have been lady luck herself. She had two study blocks! Thus, she leaves early except on days 2 and 5; and would like to demolish the enclosed staircases. Cor had some smart advice — "Grade twelve is the best, don't mess it up by quitting."

DARREN ALEXANDER: Darren has one big fantasy — to find that special lady of his dreams (could her initials be A.B.?). Darren would've liked to change his schedule so he'd have that special lady in all his classes. He'd also like "hound dog" to mellow out a little.

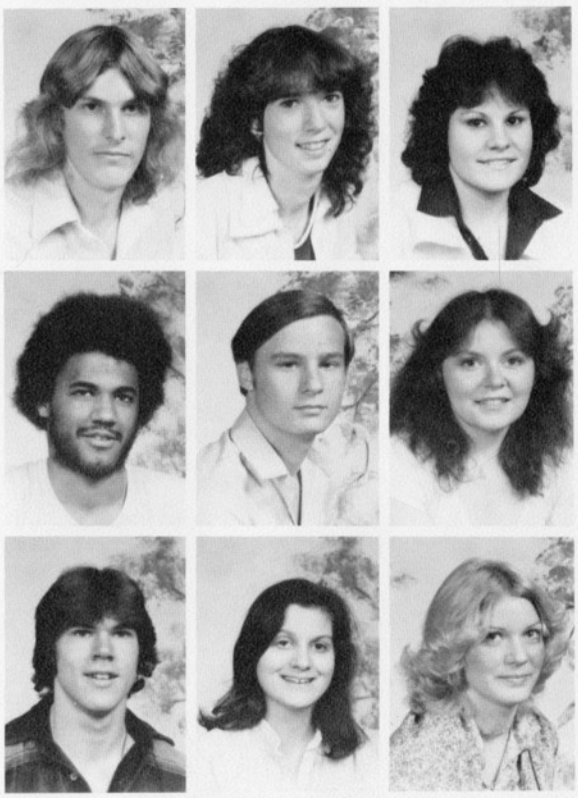
JAMIE ALLAN: "Drummer Boy" took spare periods to inspect the halls throughly. He would signal Lisa in sign language whenever she passed. Jamie objected strongly to picking up those "damn fish" in Mr. Chan's class. He plans to marry Lisa in 1982 and have a (permanent) honeymoon in New Zealand.

LESLIE ALLAN: "Ralph" was never caught without a good excuse for her slip-ups. She leaves the spazzy teachers behind to have fun and says "Adios!"

RUSSEL ANDERSON: Russ likes leaving school more than anything and will probably be remembered for his cowboy boot(?). Maybe you'll find the other one in the boonies, unless you're too busy "being rich!"

SUSAN ARAG: Susan left us before we could get her to answer our questionnaire.

JANICE ARMOUR: We know one question sheet Janice forgot to answer.



ALANNA ARMSTRONG: Alanna was in field hockey, soccer, and managing basketball. She liked the opportunity to travel and get involved, but not catching up on homework and being confused. She says "England will never be the same" (now that's confusing).

DARYL ARMSTRONG: The class "silent observer" was into chess and sleeping in. Daryl wants to install some means of moving transportation to the fourth floor. His last words are "School isn't so bad if you just learn to study hard." (Sure Daryl, but you're leaving.)

STEVE ASHWELL: Steve likes chemistry so much that we found chemical equations on his questionnaire. He enjoyed many clubs including drama, and plans to get a B.Sc. and become an M.D.

DAN ASKEW: "Mini man Dan" smiled alot this year and enjoyed getting small with M.R. Dan complained about a shortage of grass(?) around the school. His future plans include getting small and a place. Rent's cheaper when you're small. "Mini man" says "see you next year everybody."

JEANNIE ATCHISON: "Meanie Jeannie" enjoys studies, locker grafitti, and wandering the halls with D.D. She would like to shorten all classes, and completely wipe out English. Hopefully, she'll be rich one day.

CHERYL AVRAM: Cheryl liked the friendships which she formed over the years but she could do without getting up at 7:00. Cheryl's future goal is to have a good time and to become successful at whatever she chooses. Good luck Cheryl.

CAROLINE BACKHOUSE: Caroline supported our many teams, and found herself always lucky with "the marks." She hopes to travel, saying "At the end there is always a beginning."

TINA BAILEY: "Tuna" contributed to many teams and clubs at school and took pride in sassing her teachers. She enjoyed cruising in her beast, last period studies, and warns "Don't sass teachers in bad moods."

PAUL BAKER: We occasionally saw Paul eating his lunch in Mr. Chan's room, but Paul refused to fill out the questionnaire.

SHARON BAKER: "Jockey" ran down the hall singing the school song. She also sailed for ski clubs. (?) She plans to marry Burton Cummings, (Wonder what Burton thinks about that!), and to just "let the good times roll."

LORETTA BALDWIN: "Smiley" probably got her name as a result of her many toke breaks, which she'd like to lengthen to make classes shorter. "Parting's such sweet sorrow" she says as she leaves to travel the world.

JOHN BANKY: John's main ambition is in architecture. His interests are sailing, chess, and D&D. John, best remembered for "Red Man", likes Vic High people and dislikes the new alterations.

PHOTOPHOBIA

WILLIAM ALLER: William is the first case of questionnairephobia.

KARIN ALDRICH: Practised at the art of vandalism, Karin's name stands proud on the south wing. She looks forward to grad and says "Behave yourselves or be careful!"

KARIN ANDERSON: "Kinky Karin" enjoys goofing around with her friends and doesn't think too much of teachers that nag. She hopes to be happy if she ever gets out of Vic High.

AUBREY BAIRD: "Corgey" will be remembered for hitting little white balls over big green tables. His pastime is either table tennis or air-billiards. He cherishes friends and hated having to leave them at graduation. Aubrey hopes to succeed in the Canadian Navy.

It takes two to tango.

DON BARNES: "Barney" lived it up at the parking lot parties. He liked study periods but not new rules and old stairs. His future goal is to become rich (Good Luck Don, but it doesn't come easy).

CLARE BARRON: Spent his time talking to blondes, and will be best remembered for spazzing at Mr. P. Clare plans to become a Doctor and advices teachers to "Quit while you're ahead."

BARRY BARTON: Barry enjoyed walking around looking for women (lonely trails?). His art teacher couldn't stand his loud music (only into visual arts, huh?). Barry also wishes he could get us all a three hour lunch with twenty minute classes (Good luck!).

GURBI BASI: Unfortuantely Gurbi just couldn't think of anything to write on his questionnaire.

CATHY BATEMAN: "Bateman!" says she'll be best remembered for something she hasn't done yet. Her favourite time at school was anytime she wasn't there. If she can sleep in, she'll go to university. "Miss Paradox" really sums it up when she says, "Ha! Ha! I'm finished school."

CATHRYN BATES: "Cathy" spent time playing basketball and searching for a certain person. She liked soccer and rugby but not cheerleaders. She hopes to find a fantastic job with many parties! Cathy says "Good luck and enjoy life."

NANCY BEADALL: "Skinny Mimme," best remembered as Rod's old locker partner, has spent her spare time "Bugging Shirley to death." Nancy enjoys new Vic High hours and hopes to manager her own business in the future.

CINDY BEASLEY: Cindy enjoyed the finer aspects of school... the holidays; and, of course, hated tests. She hopes to travel and become a secretary. "Good-bye and good luck" are her parting words.

ERVIN BEISIEGEL: "Bike" likes to leave school in a hurry, and will be remembered for his famous name. Ervin doesn't like leaving school after finally getting the hang of it (he's had twelve years practice) but salutes it and says "Remember, do it tomorrow. You've made too many mistakes today."

DOLORES BELUSIC: "Legs" will be best remembered for her bad temper and hallway fights. Her favorite pastime is complaining about everything. Dolores's future goal is to roller skate across Europe, make lots of money and live it up. Sounds great, Legs.

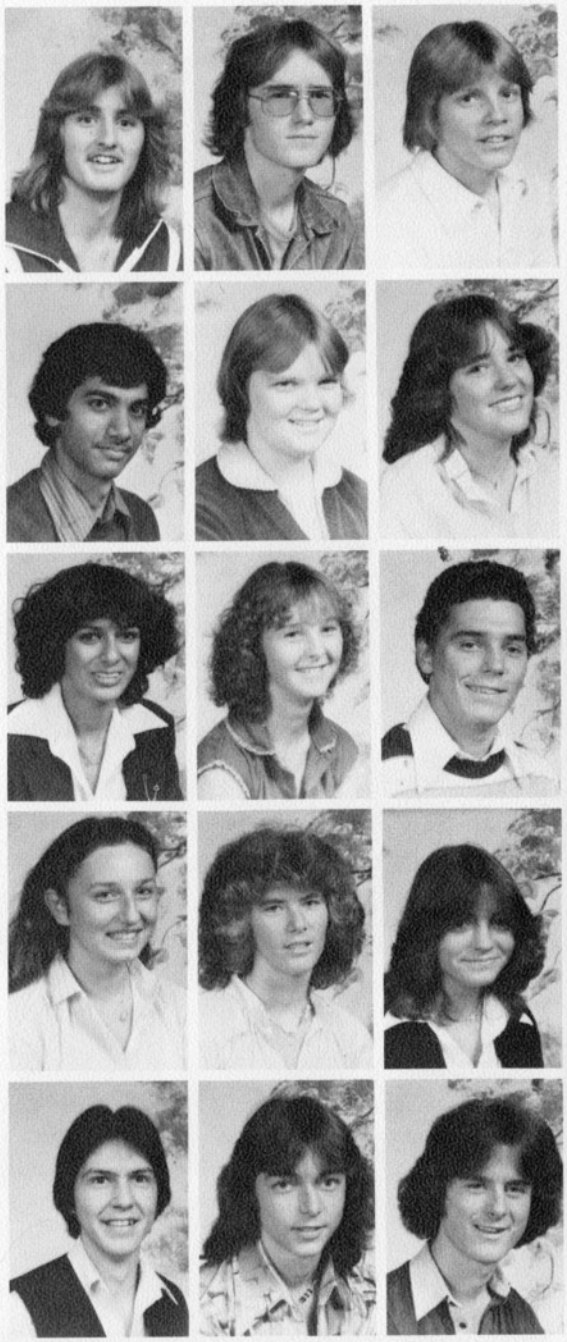
CAROL BENNET: Carol would like to be remembered for gossiping in the halls. Her pet peeve was mornings but she would like her fellow students to "Stick with it". After graduation Carol plans to become a hairdresser.

JACKIE BERTRAND: "Sprat's" pastimes were causing trouble with N.W. She will best be remembered for always being sent down to the office. I guess she thought that would give her lots of experience since she wants to become a legal secretary. Good Luck Jackie.

GREG BILLY: "Mr. Bill" is usually seen in black and white and loves watching girls but hates inconsiderate people. He wished that teachers would make copies of their notes instead of writing them on the board. In closing he says "Never compare yourself against others."

STU BLASNER: "Green?" enjoyed D.S. and R. and R. in the parking lot, as well as the social aspects of partying in general. He hopes to ski Mt. Everest, and says "Keep Vic High."

JOHN BLUNDELL: That fast car you saw zooming around town was probably "Johnny Mopar's". He spent time "getting small" and avoiding teachers and leaves to become an airline pilot. His last words are "Skip out!"

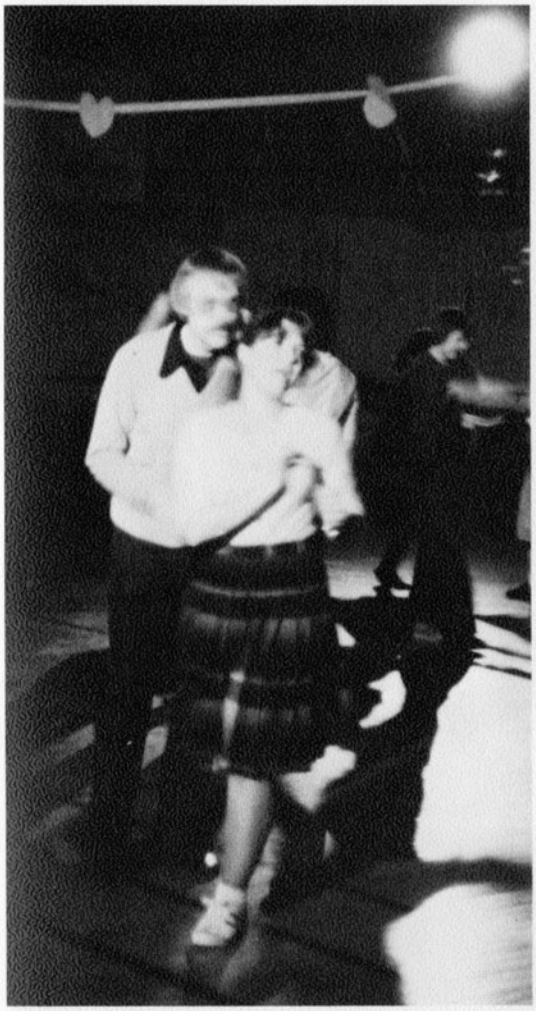


PHOTOPHOBIA

CHRIS BEAUBIEN: Chris did not only have photophobia, but he also had questionnaire-phobia.

RICK BOUDEWYN: Rick will best be remembered for "Mr. English's little go-for." Rick disliked a certain "inglish klass", and his future goal is to get a job. "I bequeth my knowledge to anybody who is stupid enough to want it."

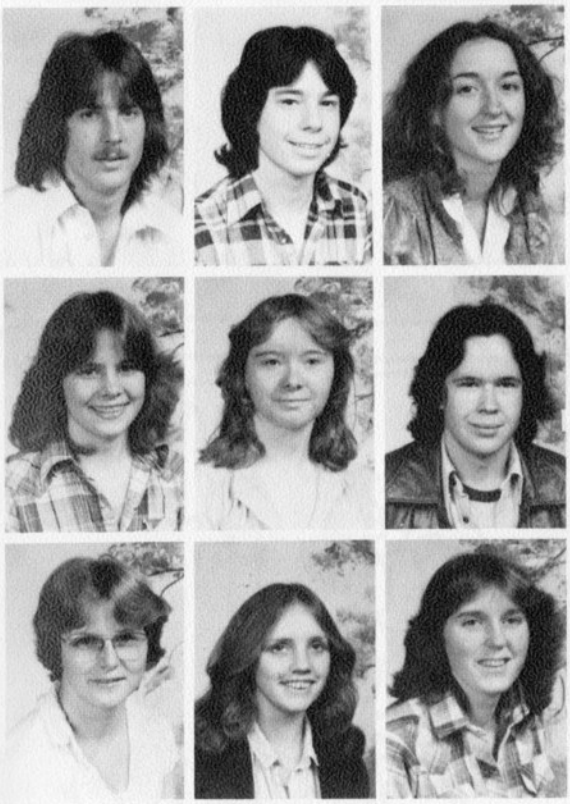
Swat Team member.



"Don't go away mad."

Wallflowers

Slick High



ROB BOURKE: Too bad he left Vic High without filling out a questionnaire.

JEFF BRACE: Oh well, you'll know better next time when someone asks you to answer a questionnaire.

SANDY BRACKS: Sandy is the kind of person that would like to accomplish something. So that's why she dislikes groupies! She will best be remembered for telling people, "If we had nine lives it might be different" and for her last words to us "Bon Voyage!"

ANITA BRAEUTIGAM: "Burger" wasn't too enthused with school but did participate in choir and the looney society. She hopes to become successful and says "Do unto others..."

KAREN BRASCH: "Kris" is often found in the library rewriting her notes and getting tangled up in her jewelry. She'd like to change everything at school, hopes to get married, and says "So long suckers."

GLEN BREILAND: Glen liked the girls but he wasn't too fond of Mr. G. Maybe his pastime D.S. and R&R in the parking lot had something to do with him being late. Glen would like to be happily rich and his last words are "Good bye."

ROSEMARY BREITHACH: "Eve" is another of Vic High's famous hall-walkers. She liked going to school with the new hours, provided she didn't have to wake up. Rosemary says, "You only have a few years left." Does she know something we don't?

JACQUELINE BRENS: "Jackie BB" misses the original Vic High but enjoys school entertainment and social gatherings. She plans to attend Camosun College and become the richest member of the V.C.P.D. Jackie would like to be remembered for coming to class wearing a perma smile.

CAROL BROAD: Yes, Carol just couldn't think of anything to say.

TED BROWERS: "Teddy Bear" liked sitting with the "Hooters" in the parking lot but he didn't get off on listening to the announcements. Ted plans to be an electrican, make a fast million and own a Porche. Ted wishes all grads "Good luck in the future."

SHARON BURLEY: Sharon despises tests of any sort, and doesn't think very highly of the renovations. She plans to move east and work for a year or so, then attend University. "Keep trying- no matter what."

GEOFF BURNS: Yes, folks, he's back by popular demand — but not for P.M. We'll remember Geoff for his help with student Parliment and Cabinet. Geoff wants the old Vic High back. He plans to travel the world and become a teacher.

LUDUINA CABECINA: "Lid" disliked getting up early, but once here, her pastimes were being thrown into the boy's washroom and standing at corners "rating guys". (Must want revenge on Bo Derek!) She's going to study art, get married and have kids, in that order!

GEORGINA CAMPBELL: "Cricket" hopes to race all the fast cars in town in her '73 Nova SS. She will be remembered as a Mohawk petroleum dispatcher. She likes guys, holidays, friends and "liquid lunches." She says, "School isn't so bad."

NORMA CARBAJAL: Norma has a case of questionnairephobia.

DAVID CARLYLE: Messing around in the back hall was as regular to Dave's school life as soccer and physics. He hopes to become a rich engineer by not working and says "Try again, J.J."

RANDELL CARR: "Shrub" spent his year arguing with Darrel and watching the women at school. He'd like to turn Camosun St. into a drag strip and abolish English. He leaves saying "It was a great year" and hopes to get "somewhere" in life.

SCOTT CARROLL: Scott is a very private person who enjoyed history assignments and will be remembered for being very studious (Non-typical student). He wishes to become an architect who will design lasting buildings and remain a sign of the times. (Like Vic High?)

DAVE CASH: Dave enjoyed getting to school late after he had left early. The change he really didn't like was the block "A" first period deal. His final words to the staff and students are "T.G.I.O." (Thank God It's Over.)

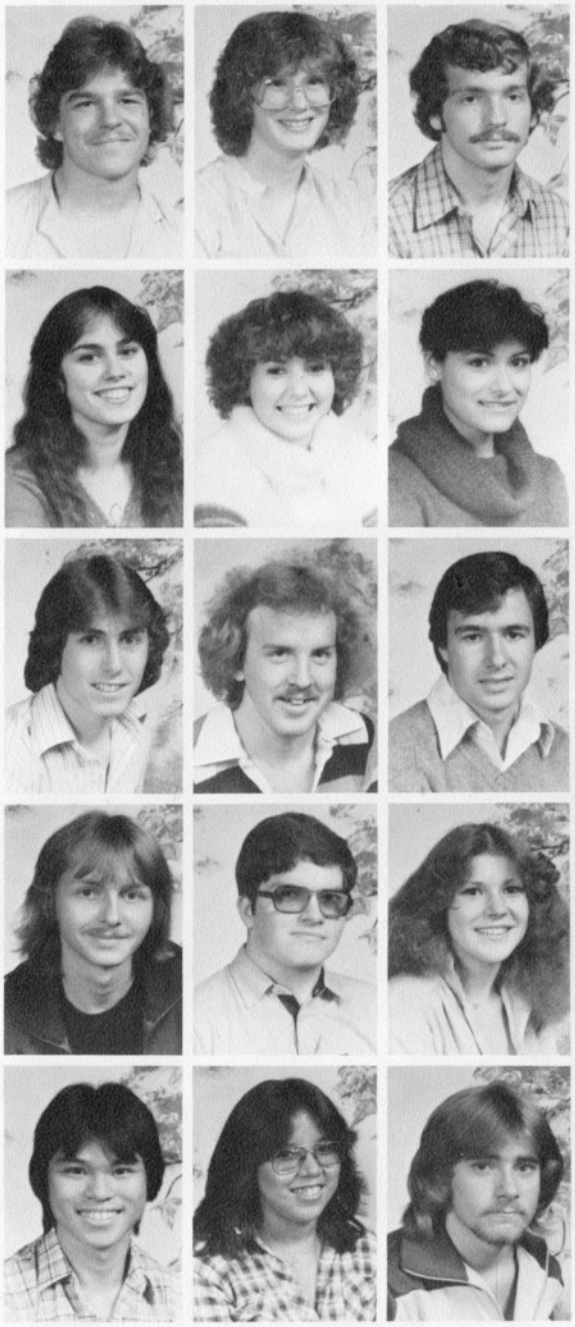
BILL CAWKER: Those of us who were at Vic High last year remember Bill's devotion to the cafeteria. He's glad to say good-bye to homework, as he leaves for B.C.I.T. to become a travel agent. Good-luck, Bill!

JOAN CHALMERS: Joan's pastime was riding shotgun in a mysterious mustang. She didn't like being here at 8:30 (maybe that's why Joan will best be remembered for not being here). Joan's future plans do not include school.

TERRY CHAN: Terry didn't like boring classes or Monday mornings this year, but he did enjoy badminton and table tennis. He feels that "One can never be satisfied with oneself until one gives ones best effort." Good luck Terry and have a good time.

GLORIA CHARLES: Too bad Gloria left so early.

RON CHEEKE: When not in his 340 Austin, Ron was cruising the halls in search of a 36-24-36. He wanted Vic-high to be a nudist colony, but settled for the females tight pants. As a trucker, "340 Gordie" is going to let the good times roll.



PHOTOPHOBIA

ALAN BURNS: Alan also has a case of questionnairephobia.

JANET CAMPBELL: Janet left Vic High early this year and didn't get a chance to fill out a questionnaire.

HUGH CARSON: A lot of people knew Hugh, but he didn't hand in his questionnaire.

WAI CHOW: Wai wants to become an engineer after some further education. He became infamous for his car's loud exhaust system. Wai enjoys leaving class early to go to study (he should use this time to fix his car!)

Next year's renovation crew.

PENNY CHOW: It's amazing that such a small person can have such a big mouth. "Shortcake's" second home was the front steps where she met alot of people. "Pup" plans to travel everywhere, and says "Take a C blk. study!"

BENNY CHU: Benny is a mean sort. He played rugby and hit birds (badminton). He forgot what he'll be remembered for. What he liked best about school was girls, what he liked least was coming (you have to come in order to see the girls, Benny). He says "Good luck" to all.

DANNY CLARK: "Danno" likes to play sports or watch members of the opposite sex. He hopes to be a full time photographer for playboy, and is going to have "One hell of a grad."

GARY CLARKE: Gary didn't go to too many classes this year so he feels that he will not be remembered. When asked what he disliked most about school life, he replied with a lively "not much." Gary's future plans include becoming a lawyer and he leaves us singing "Don't look back." Good luck, Gary.

DAWN CLARKE: "Mornin's" favourite time is the afternoon (?). She claims she'll be remembered for her loss of brain cells (i.e. will be rememberd for forgetting) and has definite plans of raising a family in a Lambroghini Countach. Dawn will see everybody at the parties.

DOUG CLEMENT: Some may wonder if Doug was hostile. Just because he beat up teachers (Fantasy or truth?), spray painted Esso stations, wants to be head of the Mafia (won't Brando object?) and tells us to "Drop Dead", it doesn't mean he's hostile.

BRENDA COAD: Brenda, like a few grade twelves, didn't hand in her questionnaire.

SHAWN COATES: "Benny" was great at getting framed. He enjoyed the people here but thought signing in for study was a waste of time. He wants to change all the teachers (shades of Carter's cabinet), and hold the first rock concert on the moon. (Won't the neighbors complain?)

DONNA COLE: Best remembered for driving the ugliest car, Donna amused herself this year by watching strange people. The morning announcements made getting up early even worse for her. She leaves Vic High to become a nutritionalist.

LINDA COLE: "Lindy" will be remembered for "lack of height" and being involved in many clubs. (Drama, paper). She enjoyed lunch with friends, but considers the school's change vandalism. She wants to become a fashion designer (and put Christian Dior out of business). She leaves us with this great saying "Together was a nice place to be."

KELLY COLLINS: "Mouse" won't be remembered by her teachers as she was never in class. The only thing that drew her to school were the parties. She hopes to see the world and keep on partying.

JIM CONNER: This year "Syph" found the perfect solution for avoiding homework; he avoided going to his classes. A member of the outdoors club, Jim enjoyed the finer things in school life...taking it easy.

GORDON COOKE: "Nose" will be best remembered for his big mouth, which he ate with often. Gordon thinks he's the foremost combination Casanova/hitman. Gordon W. and Mr. Garner have been warned.

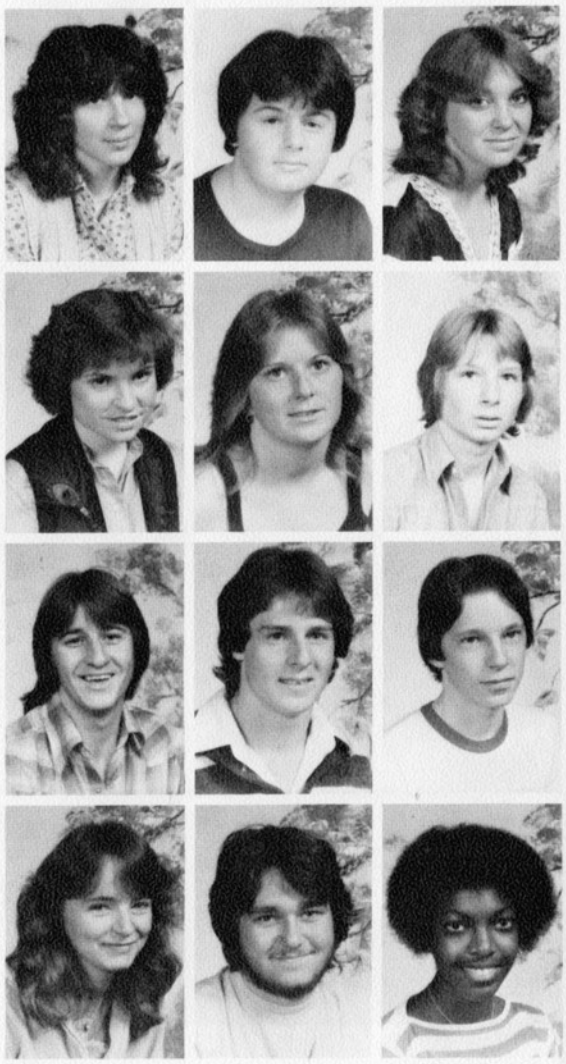
DAN COTE: "Captain Dan" thinks grade 11's (crew) should have more respect for grade 12's (first mates). He plans to be a journey man carpenter (build his own ship?). Dan enjoyed hanging around with friends whom he liked.

KEN COWIE: Ken wants to make lots of money. He's already started by conserving space on his questionnaire.

MARY-JEAN CREALLY: There really wasn't a shortage of questionnaires Mary-Jean.

DOUG CROSSFIELD: An active Ku Klux Klan member, "Riff Raff" will be best remembered for yelling suggestive comments at assemblies. He hopes to play drums in a rock band, and one day meet Frank Zappa. He bids us all "Good ridance" (thanks Doug).

SHARON CUMBERBATCH: "Cumbie" enjoyed grass hockey, basketball and many other things. The big change from last year, however, isn't one of them. She says she'll be best remembered for being a member of the big "6". Her last words are "Always have a good time."



PHOTOPHOBIA

DAVID COOK: David enjoyed smoking and his auto course; "Everything else is useless." He plans to make money doing nothing, due to his severe case of laziness. Good luck.

ROBERT COOKE: Sorry Rob. No questionnaire, no comment.

DAVE COOPER: Dave was one of the many in T.C.G. 41 who didn't hand in a questionnaire.

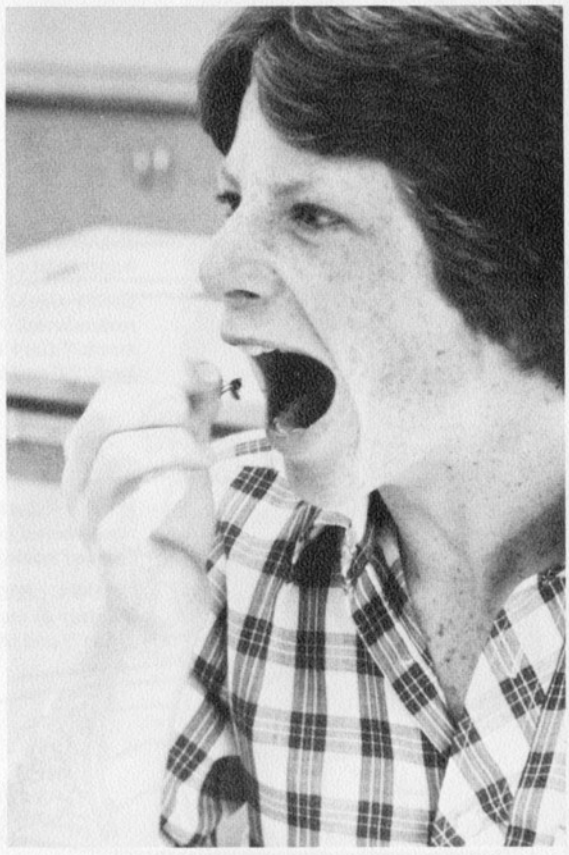
DOUGLAS CROUCH: The C.I.A. couldn't find out where Doug hid all year.

BRIAN CURRIE: Brian likes the social life at school, but not the daily routine. Brian would like to (in the future) buy a big old house "in bad shape" and restore it. His departing words are "I was happy to be here and I'm happy to be going."

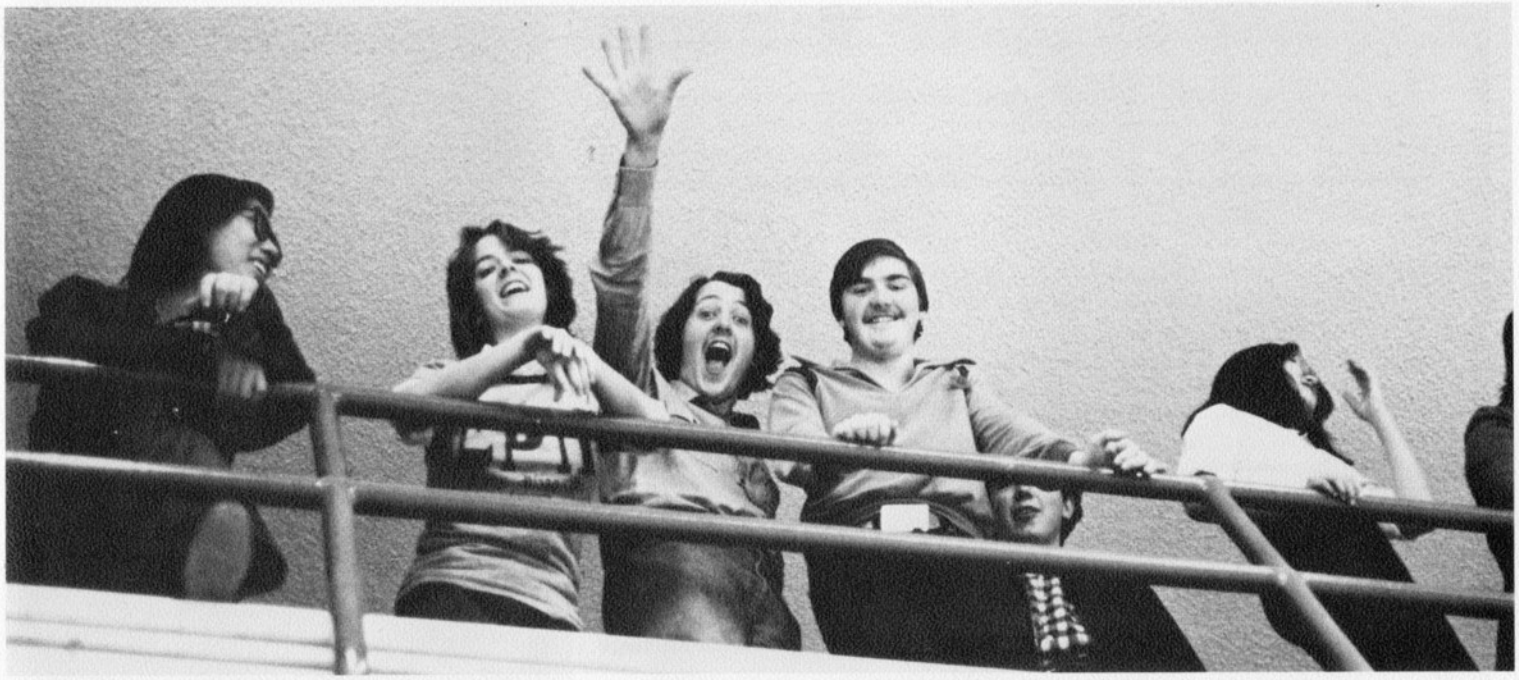
GLEN DARLING: Outside of cars, cars, and more cars, "Fester" has few interests, but to undo renovations at Vic High. (What's your favorite group, Glen?)

TONY DOSOUTO: Tony is yet another one who has questionnairephobia.

RICK DHEENSAW: Better known as "Hindu", Rick had fun skipping out, swearing, and getting out early. He'd like to have every Friday off (legally) and hopes to become richer than Howard Hughes. "Good-bye!" he says.



Between meal snacks.



Hello world.

APRIL CUNNINGHAM: "Buttsy" hates fire drills in the middle of her cooking class, and will best be remembered for her good nature. Her future goal in life is to get married July 11, 1981. To staff and students she say's "I made it!"

JIM CUTHBERT: Hooter "Stubby" will be remembered for adding to Vic High's party life. The next Hugh Hephner also liked hanging around the parking lot. When asked his pastimes, Jim took the fifth amendment.

GISELA DANCKERT: "Shorty" likes going to the library (why?) and will be best remembered for her height (see nickname). She knows how the library should be run (that's why!) Gisela wants to take up childcare at college and wishes us the good luck we'll need.

TOM DARE: "Tom" had clean feet; perhaps because he passed his spare time washing them. He enjoyed watching girls (in certain circumstances), but had some personal grieviences about gum. Tom's future goal: to become a donkey hunter in Brazil. Good luck Tom.

TOM DARLINGTON: "Tommy's" pastimes were sitting around in the parking lot. Tom didn't mention what he likes about school, but he had a long list of dislikes. He would like to fire Mr. G. and change the school back to the way it use to be. "keep on hootin."

DAWN DAVIES: "Jocko" often wandered the halls with J.A. looking for likely lockers to attack with her pen. She resented getting up in the mornings and would rather have escalators than stairs. She hopes to get rich.

CHERILYN DAVISON: "Limey" practised her great sense of humor as she continually walked the halls at school. After another year at Vic High, she plans to go home (to England) or visit the Caribbean.

CAROLINE DEAN: "Dash" is usually seen eating, smiling or enjoying her spares, and wishes they would paint the ceilings and walls with bright, cheerful colours. Caroline wants to become a teacher in Europe and leaves with a short sweet farewell; "Keep smiling."

GRET DEMEDEIROS: "Munchkin" spends so much time going to classes, she doesn't have many pastimes. However "Kid" did have a little trouble going to math 11. Gret plans to get married and some day work with kids. "Good luck. You'll need it."

MARK DHILLON: Mark feels the best thing about school is girls and the worst is girls with boyfriends. After grad Mark wants to gain some weight (great thing to throw around!). He'd like to change the questionnaires to his own liking.

GRAHAM DICK: A member of the "high" society, Graham likes to avoid school. If he doesn't become a great guitarist, he'd like to be a porno photographer and reminds us of Dylan's words: "Everybody must get stoned."

CONNIE DOUPE: Connie feels the best thing about school was the friends she made, and the worst is Christmas exams, Easter exams, and final exams (you get the idea). Connie hopes to go to Autralia and breed show dogs.

DAVE DOWNMAN: "Due to lack of interests in school activities, I have no comments." (If that's the way you want it, Dave!)

CINDY DOWSLING: Rosanne Rosanna Dana's laughter was often heard echoing down the halls. Cindy liked the people at school, but had a hard time getting here every morning. She thanks God it's her last year.

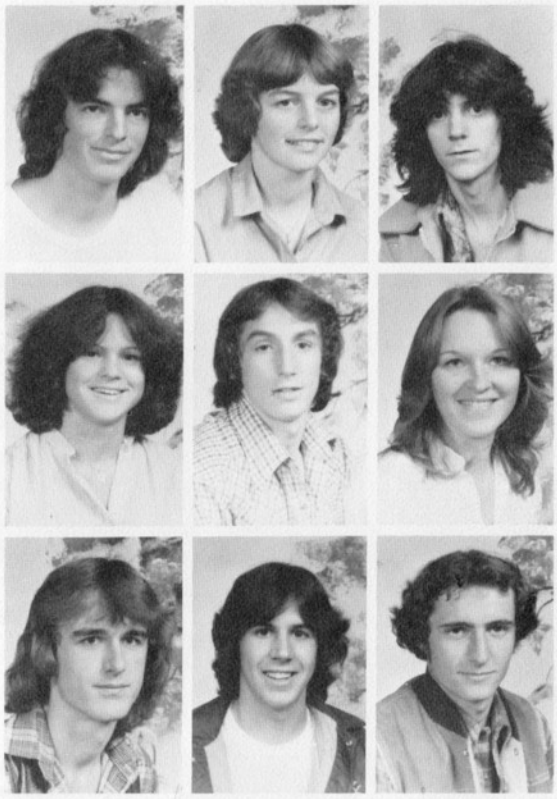
CALVIN DROVER: "Cal", a noted outdoorsman, often passed his time at sports practices. He was interested in the shop classes, but not so for impatient teachers. Calvin would like to become a forestry technician and organize a better school system.

MARGARET DUFFILL: The lady with the camera likes meeting people and has lots of school spirit. "Duff" hopes to get a good job and closes with "Go for it."

BILL DURDLE: Bill's best times at school were spent at parking lot parties and playing Led Zeppelin and Pink Floyd in the band. He hopes to be a rock star and says, "You're here for a good time..."

ADRIAN DYRDA: "Ajax's" pastimes were playing rugby, skipping out and being late for classes. He will be best remembered for feeling good at soccer games? He would like to change the cafe. into a bar. "Party" Adrian says.

CURTIS ELLIOT: Curtis insisted on hanging out in the halls, even though he disliked the oceans of beautiful music that could be heard there. He would like to change the school back and replace the principal (again?). He hates wasting money as he plans to become filthy rich.



PHOTOPHOBIA

MARCEL DIDIER: Yet, another case of questionnaire phobia.

DOUGLAS DOTY: Douglas didn't like much about school, especially the last 12 years. Doug is looking forward to spring so he can "Go out in the real world." Douglas feels that Vic High could do with a few changes! Douglas' future goal is to (eventually) die.

OVID ENG: Ovid will probably do what he likes best (meet people) in his travels to Brazil and Australia. He plans to attend university and wishes us all the best in the years to come.

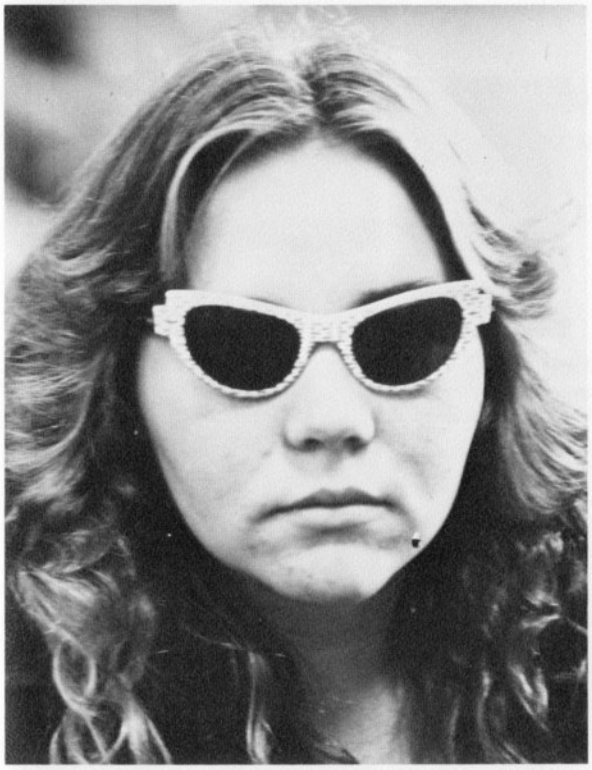
GARY FLEETWOOD: Gary is someone who is very into sports, including basketball and girl watching. He wants to become a millionaire and live on the interest plus buying such normal luxuries as a Porche and the Philadelphia 76 ers.

SHAWN GALBRAITH: Shawn wasn't seen or heard of!!

DAVE GARTSHORE: Dave specialized in rape, pillage, burning, and generally harassing people during "that stupid lunch break." He hopes to raise a family, drive a Ferrari, and parts saying "Duck!"

GEZELLE GAZDA: Gezelle was too shy to hand in a questionnaire.

"Get out of my breakfast."



"You'd hide too."

"...then without warning, this beer bottle attacked me..."

TERESA FANNING: "Terez" has a thing for school spirit. She doesn't like people without it. She'll be remembered for missing her post? She enjoyed field hockey and cheering wildly, and wants to be a rich travelling nurse. Her secret message is: The big "6" loves the big "K."

BARBARA FAYLE: Socializing was "Bionic Mouth's" main pastime. She thought the rules and regulations were of juvenile level, and would've changed the entire staff if she could have. She wants to be a nurse's aid and visit Montreal.

LYLE FISH: Lyle was drama's first electric powered human torch. Watt an experience! He spent most of his time doing technical work in the auditorium and attic. Lyle didn't like the fire marshall, snobs and people who took things without asking. His goal was to impeach Gordon Wilson.

BRIGID FLYNN: "Scarlet" likes Rhett and telling cute jokes. Best remembered for the field hockey chorus, Brigid plans to see "every little corner of the world", wearing her cowboy hat.

STEPHEN FREISINGER: "Enjoy it while you can because these are the last few years in which you can get away with nearly everything." Are Stephen's words of wisdom? He also says "the teachers are the greatest!" Oh well, so much for wisdom. He wants to join the police dept., and work on old cars.

MIKE FRIEBE: A parking lot partier, Mike's hoots were often heard drifting out of his "pink" mini. He plans to do "the usual", get rich and live on champagne and cocaine. Need we say, have fun!

DEBBIE GALE: Debbie enjoyed the social aspects of school and all the people she met. She hopes to work and study to be an accountant. "Good luck," she says "You'll need it!"

LYNN GARRIOCH: Lynn was another one who didn't fill out her questionnaire.

LIONEL GAUDET: Lionel didn't care much for school outside of carpentry and mechanics, and spent many lunch breaks with his wood work. He plans to become a professional carpenter and live in Alberta.

ERIC GEORGE: Eric plans to build a rocket ship crewed by clones of himself and "they will do the pedalling." Eric plans to go at the speed of light to the nearest galaxy and back. "You can scoff at me now, but in 3 million years we'll have the last laugh."

SCOTT GERMA: Scott just didn't get that questionnaire handed in.

AMIR GILL: Amir could often be found cursing the halls in the school. She'd like to go to college and do some travelling and tells undergrads to enjoys grade 12 while they can.

JASKARN GILL: "Chu-chu" will best be remembered for being places she's not supposed to be. Jaskarn likes friends she has grown up with but she doesn't like homework. Her last words are "Good luck."

JASPALL GILL: Sorry Jaspall no questionnaire, no comment.

ALAN GILMOUR: Two cases of questionnairephobia in a row.

HEATHER GOLDSWORTHY: Heather spent much of her time searching for ski meetings, because she felt that school took up skiing time. Heather thinks they should have raised the low water fountains. Heather hopes to become a high fashion buyer.

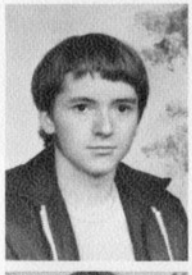
MARINA GOOD: "The Chick" likes getting out early and dislikes school. In the future she plans to find something she likes. Marina warns, "Don't take algebra, you'll be sorry."

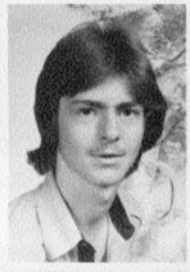
TONY GOODMAN: Tony's glad to be leaving school and has only one goal in life; that is to play piano as well as Scott Joplin, using only his toes.

IAN GORDON: Probably remembered for his funny haircut and his weirdness, "Flash" spent much school time with the theatre and chess clubs. He hopes to attend university and foresees a hearty life including theatre work.

CAROLINE GRAAFEN: The official page turner in choir will be best remembered for blushing when a guy said "hi" to someone else. Caroline reminds staff and students, "It is not the building that makes a school, but the people inside."

MARLON GREEN: Too late now Marlon.

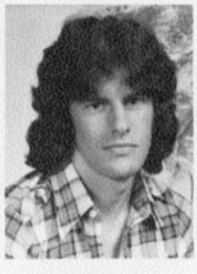




CECELIA GRIFFIN: Cecelia liked having a study in blk F, as well as any other block! Cecelia would like to change the school back to the way it used to be, as well as get rid of the flourescent lights. Cecelia advises us all to take Lit. 12, "It's so easy."

MARK GRIFFIN: "Bullwhip's" pastimes were cross-country running and camping. He didn't like having to go around a wall to use the stairs, or the offices attitude towards the students. Mark's future goal is to go into biochemistry.

COLIN HALL: Colin hates waking up in the mornings. He plans to become a lower-class citizen, and he could be found drinking Labatt's Blue in the parking lot. Colin plans to graduate sometime after a big graduation party. (Or was that an after-grad party?)



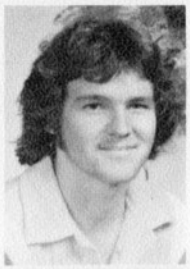
"Gee your hair smells..."

STEVEN HALL: Steve just couldn't think of anything to say.

JACQUELINE HARPER: Any relation to Steven?

WENDY HARRIS: If Wendy was sleepy in first class, it was probably due to a 7:45 band practise. She plans to attend UVic, then teach elementary school, and advises us to further our education and be happy.

LUCILLE HASTINGS: Hello, Lucille, are you there?



KAREN HAWKINS: You know you've seen "Red" in the back hallways at lunch if you happen to spot hair of that colour. Her major goal in life is to decide her major goal in life. She leaves us with these words: "Don't let life or school bring you down."

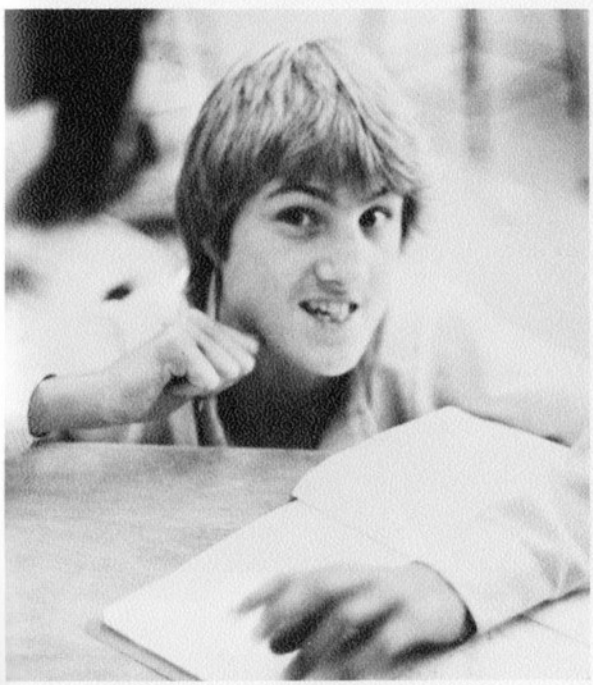
BILL HAYMAN: "Buster Cherry" will be best remembered for running his car into highway dividers. Bill really liked the parking lot and the girls at school. Buster doesn't have any immediate goals and leaves us saying "Glad its over."

LYNNE HAYTON: Lynne is another person who would like to see Vic High back the way it was. Her future plans are to finish school and get out on her own. Lynne advises everyone to stay as far away from Bi 12 as possible!

BRENDA HAYWOOD: "Poops" liked to sit and watch Mr. Garner bawl people out. She would like to change the school back as it was, fire regulations aside. She wants to be a secretary typing "Go to classes everyday 'cause Garner is looking over your shoulder."

CHRIS HEALEY: Chris forgot to hand in his grad questionnaire.

JOAN HEMINGWAY: "Bones" would like to see a few teachers changed, and said she does like the social aspect of school. Her future goals are to become an airline stewardess, get married and have a few kids. Good luck on all counts, Joan!



PHOTOPHOBIA

CAROL GODDEN: Carol also has questionnaire phobia.

ROBERT GRANT: Refer to Carol.

TONY HALL: Tony is the typically average Canadian student. He liked lunch hour, after school, discretionary days, and early dismissals. He hated homework, detention studying, tests and Mondays. Tony wishes to express his thanks to shop teachers for putting up with him.

JACKIE HARPE: Any relation to Jacqueline?

"I studied 27 straight hours and now he cancels the test."

Rowdies saying howdy.

CYNTHIA HENDERSON: Cyndy will be best remembered for being shy(?) and her dislike of Hondas! "P.T." liked going to soccer games and other school activities. "Cyn's" future ambition is to knock two stories off Vic High, and then go to UVic to become a teacher.

BRENDA HENIGMAN: Brenda liked to listen to music in her or Shirley's car, when out of class. She feels Vic High is the best school around and leaves it to travel around the world for a few years.

DAN HENIGMAN: Dan disliked the "inaccurate" attendance records, and he would like to see fewer doors throughout the school. In the future Dan would like a descent job! "The food is rotten and stale and Expensive!" Dan says.

SUSIE HERZOG: Susie, despite the fact she hates school life, wants to become a teacher. She will best be remembered for asking what she will best be remembered for. (This sounds ambiguous). Her last words to students and faculty are, "Keep on trying!"

JANE HEYNSBROCK: Jane was late a lot this year but that didn't stop her from doing nothing. She enjoyed meeting people but didn't like getting up early. Her future plans include graduating, but not right away because her last words are, "See you next year."

JEY HILLS: "Jey Bird" claims that she's the only person with the nerve to ride a moped to school. She loves competitive sports but hates exams. Jey's ambition is to become a physiotherapist.

DIANE HINCHCLIFFE: Diane was an avid fan of the Tyees, and rarely missed a game. She liked "a certain P.H.," and may spend the rest of her life wondering what the top shelf of her locker looks like.

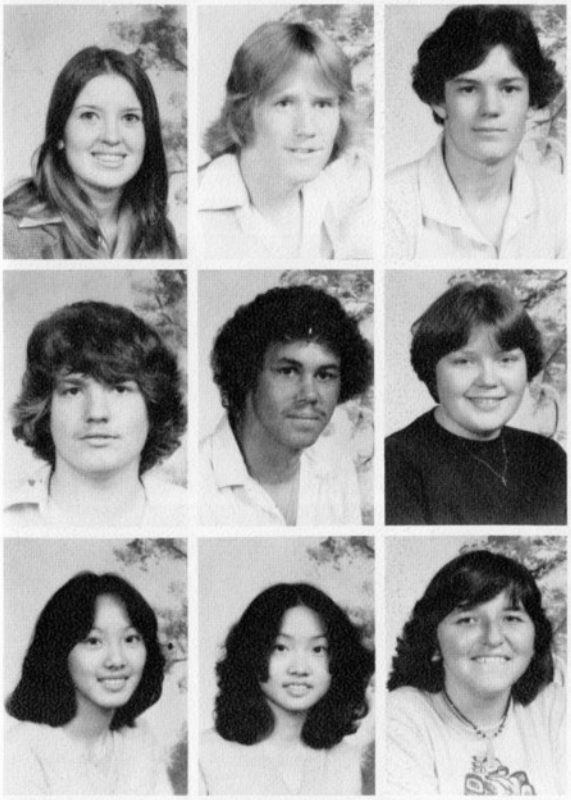
KERRY HODGKINSON: "Kree" dislikes monotonous and neurotic teachers who, talk in circles (potential politicians). Kree was a member of the Tomahawks (Get it?) and hopes to play on the Canadian National Field Hockey Team. She also liked Mr. Higgs' smile.

ROLAND HOHEISEL: Roland drove around in his car. He'd like to change the teachers and principal, and as for the future, Roland plans to blow up the Sannich, Oak Bay, and Victoria police departments.

DOUG HOLLISTON: An optimistic pessimist, Doug will be remembered for his many profound statements. He hates grad comments, but we did some research and found out he intends to travel in Europe, and unlike most he probably will.

CINDY HOLMQUIST: Cindy played the piano and made money this year. She was crazy about clubs and activities, but not so crazy about climbing four flights of stairs while she rushed to classes. She inspirationally says "No reward without effort." (Seems we've heard that before.)

SCOTT HOOPER: Scott was an active member of two social clubs, the afterdark and the parking lot. He claims to have no future goals, but probably yearns to be a magician as he'd like to transform Mr. Garner into Mr. Lorimer.



NINA HOPPER: "Hoppsy and Wonder Bunny" will be best remembered for reading "how-to-do" books in the library. Nina's future goal is to write a book on bunnies and the environmental effect of the roto rooter man on their surroundings.

BILL HOSKINS: "Flash" could be found tossing "the old pig skin" around out front. Bill likes Fridays but not Monday morning hangovers. If he had the chance, he'd change the staff at VHS. "Just mellow out a bit," he says.

DENNIS HOWARD: Howie won't be remembered for his badminton career, but for his picture in this book. He feels that students deserve free lunches and his future goals are 12 - 3 for Montreal over Boston, and 49 - 0 for Pittsburgh over Dallas.

CONRAD HRAPPSTEAD: A dedicated basketball player, Conrad will best be remembered for his size. He didn't like coming to school, but was drawn here by the girls. We hope you'll make it as an accountant, Conrad.

EVERETT HUDLIN: "Spook" was mostly seen with J.C., and talking endlessly in class. He hopes to teach P.E. or become a cop, and advises to "watch your step around P.E. teachers."

DARLENE HUGHES: "Dar" had a ball singing in the halls. Her favourite time was lunch. She plans to be a teacher/missionary in deepest, darkest Africa. Dar's parting words were "Spirit was not in the building, but in the people who wander the halls."

AMY HUNG: Amy is one of the very few who appreciate the renovations. She enjoys her friends, expanding her education, and is grateful to those involved. Her plans are to work in a bank.

JENNY HUNG: Jenny really liked school life and learning things. Her favorite pastime was strolling around the school and making friends. Jenny's future goal is to become a professional worker. She wishes us all "The best in all the ways we go."

DAVINA HUNT: Davina is keeping her activities under wraps.

Crooked Kerry

"99 bottles of beer on the wall..."

PHOTOPHOBIA

DARREL HOLM: Zooming around in his mean mini, "Runt" threatened the lives of many 16 year old boys. When he wasn't fighting with Randell, he was watching foxy blondes or fixing cars. His words of wisdom are "Drugs, sex and rock n' roll."

DEBBIE HUNT: Debbie's pastimes at Vic High are playing soccer. She doesn't like the fact of not seeing all her old and new friends as much as she used to. Her goals are to go to Camosun College and then travel to Hawaii.

TERESA HUNTER: Teresa kept busy watering all of Mr. Chan's plants for two years. She disliked tests, Monday mornings, snobby people and exams. She wants to be a Medical Lab Technologist, get married and raise a family without aging. (Can't be done!). She reminds us we only have to impress ourselves.

DAVE HWANG: Dave is another one of our enthusiastic students who didn't hand in his questionnaire.

GREG IKLE: "Ike" didn't think as highly of school as he did of his good friends and rock'n roll. He'd like to wipe S.B. off of a ski mountain. He says "Mellow out, you scurvy kitten!"

ANDREW JACKSON: A theatre member, Andrew is most proud of not conforming to the masses. He hopes to design the perfect wardrobe, eventually, and advises "Be an individual."

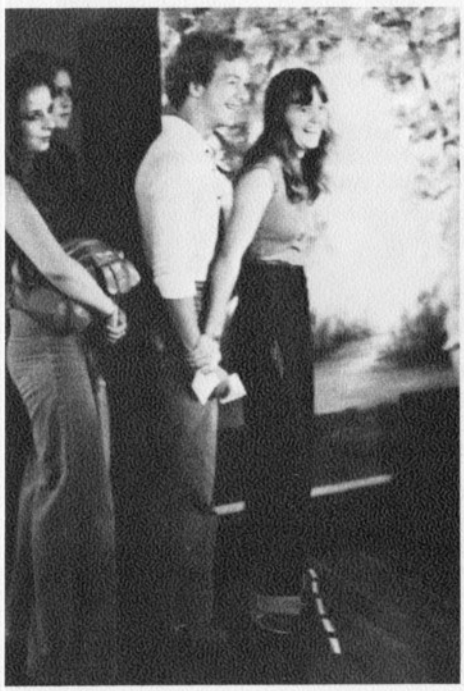
LEANNA JANE: Leanna (that's not LANA) swears she's not crazy, but has done a great job of proving otherwise. She spent many wacko weekends with the Hum Bees and plans to live a life of sinful indulgence. Ar-ar!

KRYS JARRETT: Krys had a rough time getting to school in the morning, but found it paid off with the 2:00 bell. She'd like to see more younger male teachers (about 6'2") and hopes to teach in Africa or Australia. Good-luck Krys!

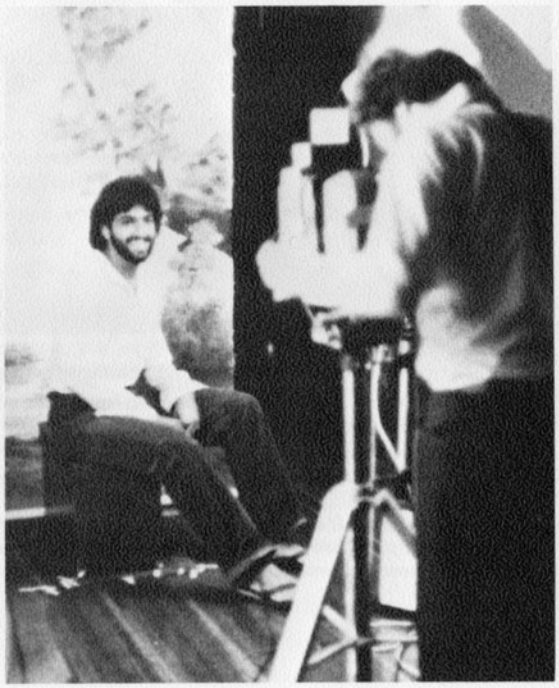
ROBERT JAY: "Dr. J." will be best remembered for poisoning hundreds of students during the Vic High March Back breakfast. His last words to fellow students (those still alive) "Don't let the teachers get the best of you, fight for every mark you deserve and then more."

RESHIE JOHAL: Reshie did her best to avoid classes and enjoyed meeting crazy nutso, and nice people. She'd like four day weekends and hopes to be teaching pre-school in the future.

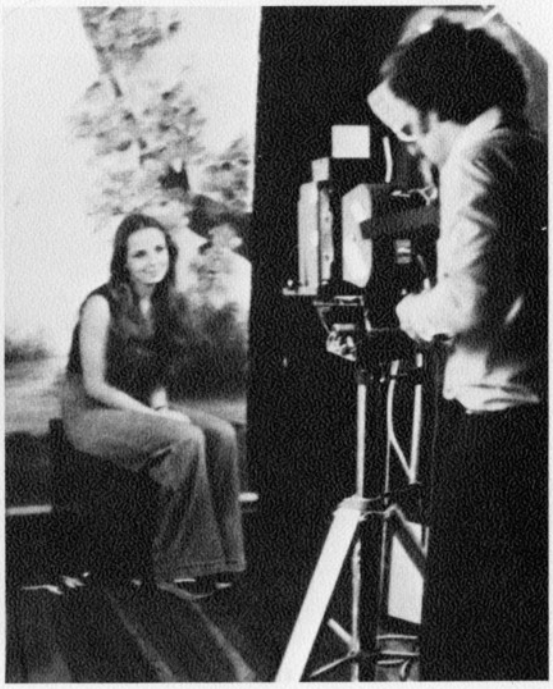
CORY JOHNSON: Cory purposely ate lunch in the electronics shop alot this year so he could use the TRS-80. He'd like to have a catwalk built over the field and is obviously on his way to becoming an inventor.



"Can I bring Steve with me?"



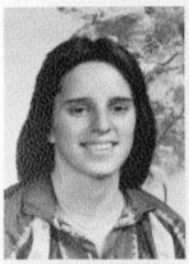
"Cheese, please."

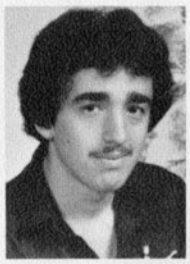


"Watch the birdie."

KATHIE JOHNSON: "Kat" spent alot of time in the shops making plans for a party room in that part of the school and complaining about the lack of heads. She hopes to teach nursery school in London, own Euro Rail, and says "Give it your best."

PETER JOHNSTON: "Bobo" couldn't begin to list his dislikes about school and did his best not to look totally confused. We hope he'll keep in touch as he plans to be a generous millionaire.



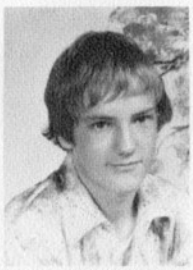


CAROL JONES: "Jonesy" will be best remembered for her "Big Bird's cousin" suit at Halloween. Carol kept herself busy with numerous clubs and meetings. Carol wishes there was more school spirit and as for the future she plans to be a recreation technician.

JIM KATSIGIANNIS: "Greek" believes in good student bodies (especially the females) and enjoys history. He plans to take his jokes to Greece in the summer and claims it is impossible to win an argument with Mr. N.

HEATHER KAYE: Better known as "Pest", Heather seems to have a magnetic force with a certain S.V. She enjoys meeting people and running, but hated the cold school in the morning. She plans to live long and happily.

KATHY KAYE: "Special K" spent alot of time watching reruns of S.V. and H.K. and loved watching and meeting weird people. Kathy wants to become an educated bum, and leaves us saying "Keep up the school spirit of '79 and never let it die."



JULIETTE KIRK: "Little Hobbit" had fun dodging her teachers to go for tea. She's practised at the fine art of confusing people, and feels all students should pass whether they attend or not. Good plan!

HERKY KLINGSAT: Herky passed time at school eating, sleeping, drinking and avoiding teachers. He was pleased with the availability of high grade ganja, and hopes to take over for Mr. Garner.

DAVID KNEZACKY: Dave's pastimes around Vic High are playing sports. He likes the teachers, but would like to see the school hours changed. He plans to be an accountant in the future. Good luck Dave.

SHELLEY KNIPSTROM: Shelley thought highly of the people at school, but found film strips and video tapes useless. She'd like to eliminate the lunch break and have a shorter day. She's off to Newfoundland, then to become a nurse.

DAVE KNODELL: Sorry Dave no questionnaire, no comment.

JOE KNODELL: Joe will be best remembered for always roaming the halls and never being in class. He plans on becoming an engineering apprentice in Grand Prairie Alberta. Good luck "Joey".

PHOTOPHOBIA

SHERRY HUNT: Sherry spent her time participating in sports, and will be best remembered for her attendance. Sherry wants to help bring understanding to all people. Her future goal is just to survive. "When you succeeed you have gone one step higher."

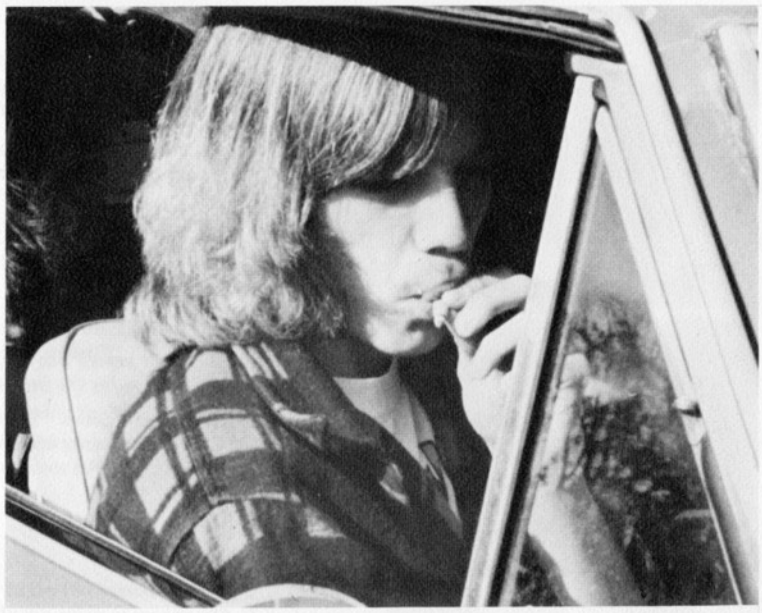
TONY HUNT: Well Tony, it's too late to hand in your questionnaire now.

LYNNE JACKSON: Lynne left Vic High without filling out a questionnaire.

MARK JORDISON: Another anonymous student.

KRISHAN KLEAR: Sorry Krishan, no questionnaire, no comment.

PETER KNOWLES: Refer back to Dave Cooper.



Two heads are better than one.

GEORGE KO: George is another anonymous student.

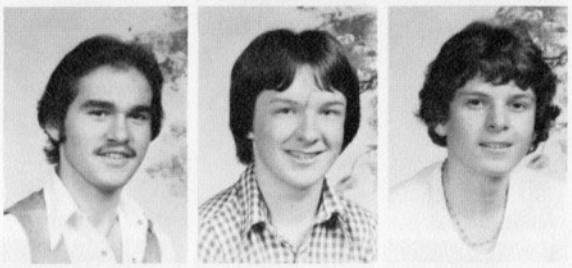
SALLY KO: Sally spent more time in the halls than in her classes, and would have loved to abolish final exams. She plans to attend Camosun and hopefully make it to the beaches of the Bahamas. "Get involved and cherish your memories," she says.

RODGER KABIERSKI: Rodger claims there's nothing he likes about school, and nothing he hates more than boring teachers. He hopes to become a machinist and bids all undergrads "Good-luck."

TOM KOCYANCIC: "Hair's" pastime was going around giving everyone a hard time, and he will be best remembered for trying to give Mrs. A. a nervous breakdown. Tom warns "Going to school is dangerous to your health."

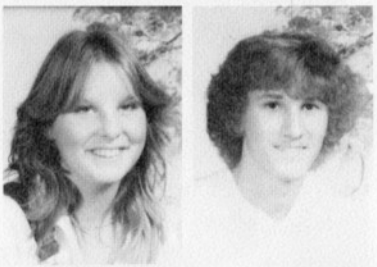
PAUL KOETSIER: Paul spends his time wandering the halls boycotting cafeteria food and complaining about early morning biology. He's decided to become a millionaire, open a recording studio and be a D.J. on a rock station.

FRANK KOHL: "Dick" wishes to abolish report cards, picky people, and a certain teacher. He hopes to have his own rock group and comments "So long you egg-layin' ducks."



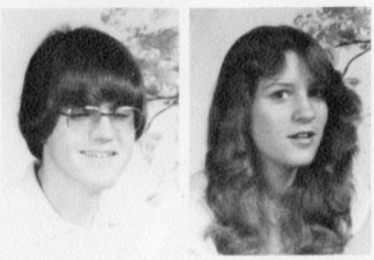
CLARA KOVATS: Although we all saw Clara at school, she claims there's a difference between physical and mental attendance. The "lunched break" and Fried-ays made school a bit easier for this future fashion illustrator.

KEITH KRESSE: Keith resented switching back to morning hours and made up for it by sleeping in class or leaving school. He bowled, swam, batted birds, and frequently visited Mr. Garner. He plans to relax with his grad certificate.



SHELBY KYCA: Shelby's pastimes were playing golf and wondering the halls. Shelby liked the "quality" of teaching but he didn't like meeting "all kinds" of students. Shelby hopes "you do better the second time round."

ROSANNE LABERGE: "Roz" doesn't like snobs or classes and has three goals in life; to meet the guy in locker E200, become a chef, and to own a 1958 Corvette. "Vic High, you're #1!"



MEGHAN LAMBETH: We heard from friends that Meghan participated in cross country. That's all.

REINHARD LAUSER: Most of us will remember Reinhard as either the boy with Sir Ernest of Hobo on his hand or the boy with rotten spelling. A year long trip to Europe is definitly included in Reinhards future. He didn't leave us with any last words so we'll say viel Gluck.

MADELEINE LEBEL: Vic High has yet another case of questionnairephobia.

AK-YAN-LEE: Ak is known for not saying much. This also applied to the questionnaire. He did say, however, that he believes in chemistry and better course selection, and hopes to get into engineering.

DAN LEE: "Big-boy" wants school to go from 8:30 - 9:30. He either wants a one or thirteen hour day. (Take a guess!) He hopes he finished grade twelve in one year, and wants to go north (pole?).

JENNY LEE: Jenny's favorite pastime was her incredible ability to drive people insane. She will be best remembered for "I hear laughter in the hall(?)" Jenny also thinks we should have escalators, elevators and 1½ hour lunches.

KELLY LEE: Kelly will be best remembered for being nuts about chess and thinking math is the best thing about school. The future will find Kelly either in the field of mathematics and/or computer programming. Kelly wants to thank Mr. O. and Mr. W. for their help.

RAY LEE: When not picking on big guys, 'Riceball" likes rugby, running and hanging out. He hopes to be the best scrumhalf ever to wear #9 and parts saying "Nanu-Nanu."

VINCE LEE: Q.P.P. (Questionnairephobia person.)

IRENE LEONG: Searching for ski meetings, Irene feels there isn't enough time for skiing!! Irene liked the friendships she formed at school and hopes to succeed as a fasion designer. Good luck Irene in getting your pilots lisence.

TOM LEONG: Tom likes to study in the library and he will remember his teachers and friends. He likes lunch time but hates class time. Tom would like to be a lawyer and says thanks to his teachers.

DICKY LO: Dicky was often seen driving a black honda, looking for a certain C.H., so say his friends.

"I wash your dishes...non?"

PHOTOPHOBIA

ROB KUGEL: "Koog" spent most of his time trying to get a big V, although he wasn't on any teams. He enjoyed the "herds of nice chicks" in the new narrow halls and says "Go for it."

BEN KUM: Ben was one of the 11 people in T.C.G. 15 who didn't hand in his questionnaire.

LYNN LANDRY: Lynn left Vic High early this year.

NORM LECHELT: Yes, Norm also had questionnairephobia.

JACK LEUNG: Refer back to Ben.

THOMAS LINDSAY: Sorry Tom! No questionnaire, no comment.

The Captain and Edith M.

Très shiek.

TIM LO: "Tippy" of the volleyball team loved to "pig out" at lunch. He didn't have much else to say, but his plans are clear: He will move to Hawaii after winning Winsday and dozens of native girls will squirm (swarm?) around him. (Ah, the price of paradise).

DEHN LODER: "Logan Loder" does like exams and dislikes holidays(?). Dehn would like to change the school motto: Ex Nihil Nihilo Fit. In the future he plans to seek help?

MIKE LOVEGROVE: "Mikey" was often seen getting lost in the new halls, but always found his way to this morning auto class which made school worthwhile. He plans to be a heavy auto mechanic after grad.

LINDA LOW: Linda loves money and had a fair hand in it with the cabinet this year. The future executive anxiously awaits grad and parts saying, "Yahoo! — I'm finished!!"

TARI LOWE: "Shorty" likes being on the grad committee; she also likes the tennis team and ski club. She will be remembered for calling certain friends "Witch". Tari would like to see co-ed washrooms and she wants a degree of grad 80 with Warren Beatty.

THERESA LOWRY: "The Kid", or better known to some as "The Worst Worrier" enjoyed her social life and block G studies. She hopes to become an x-ray or medical lab technician and says "For God's sake Miss Armstrong — SMILE!"

TOM LOWRY: Tom's best achievement this year was living through Mr. P's construction class. He has pledged not to give surprize tests when he is an I.E. teacher, and little homework. Is it true band members have more fun?

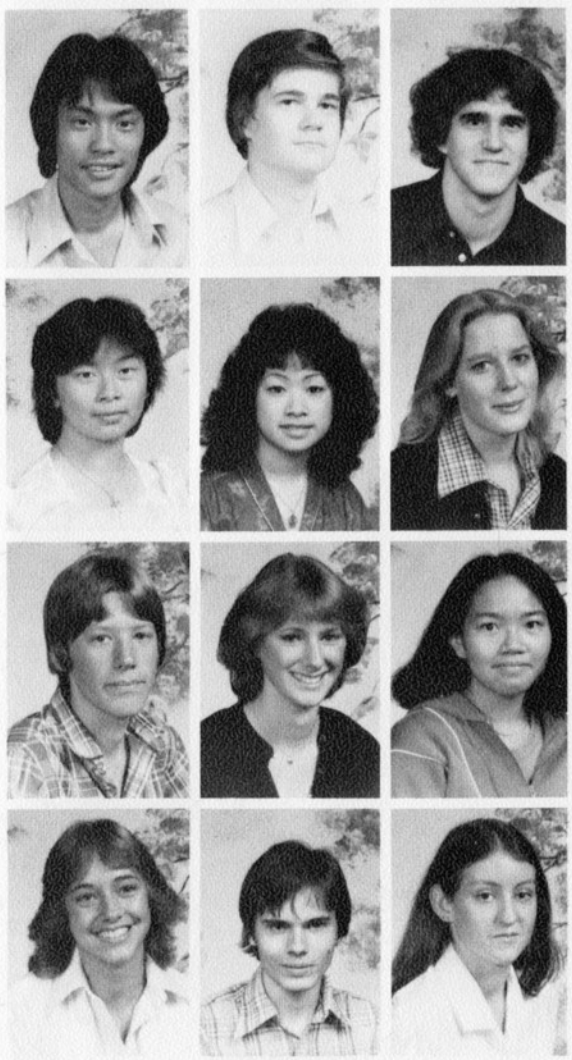
TERESA LUKAZ: Teresa was quiet, she was so quiet she didn't even fill in her questionnaire.

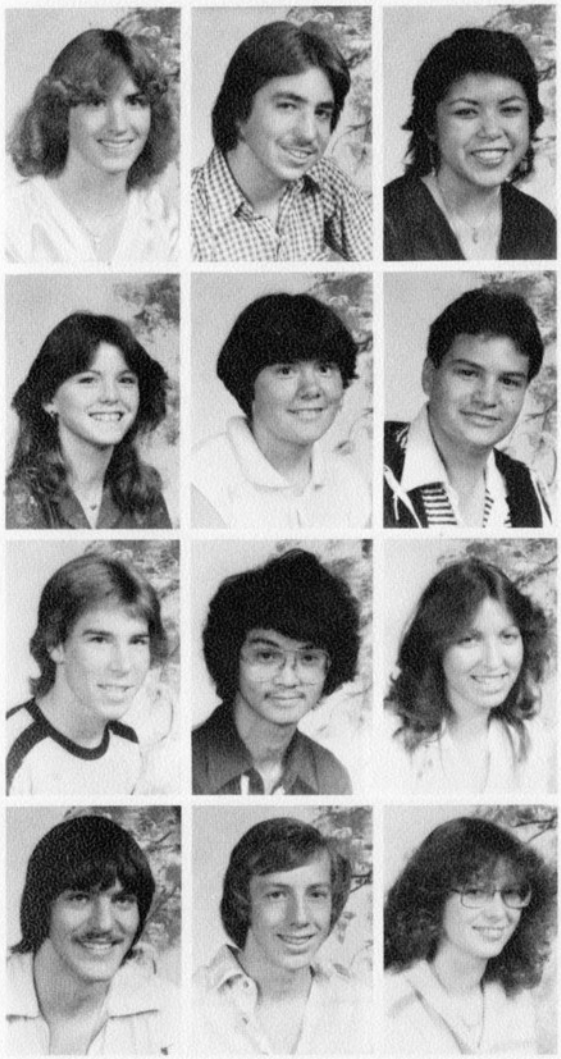
JEANNETTE LUM: "None what so ever" is seen a lot in the library doing nothing Jeannette has no comments on school life and wouldn't change anything at Vic High. "See ya soon" she says.

LAURIE LUM: "Lump" was often found on floor 200 with the mad dogs, or watching the Tyees games. She hopes one day she'll be driving Jay Jay around in her black and gold Fiat X1/9.

TIMOTHY LUPTON: Tim likes chess clubbing along with debating and not commenting on questionnaires. In the future he plans to act, direct and write a movie and warns to others: "If one day you never wake up, you're probably dead!"

DARLENE MACDONALD: When not in class, Darlene could be found at the nearest corner store. She disliked work (don't we all?) and enjoys meeting people, which she undoubtedly will in her travels around the world.





DEBBIE MacDONALD: "Peaches" takes pride in Vic High, and is rarely seen not smiling, laughing, cheering or singing. She would have liked more activities and less homework, and now hopes to work with animals.

KEITH MacDONALD: You all remember Keith, he was the one in the halls trying to look cool. As a D.J., he wants to meet Loni Anderson, the Dallas Cheerleaders and buy Hollywood and Boeing Aircraft (known locally as the "Great Kite Factory"). Say Keith, selling shares?

GLORIA MACK: Gloria is another one who left Vic High early.

PAT MACMILLAN: "Pat Mac" wants to go to Banff for the summer, ski all winter, take off around the world and then go to university. Have fun Pat! Pat was in cross country and was seen talking in the halls. She leaves VHS saying "Be happy in everything you do."

ROSE MAGUIRE: "Rosy" spent most of her time selling "junk" for field hockey, and didn't like much about school. She plans to continue sluffing through life and says "PLEASE, no more changes!"

JOHN MALYSHELF: What can we say John, without a questionnaire?

WILLY MANN: "El Macho" found girls more amusing than classes with the exception of Construction. "Scrooge #2" would like to make a million and hopes we all have a ball at grad. (We know he will.)

ROD MAR: When not cruising in his '67 Mustang, Rod was partying, meeting people, or bowling. He didn't like exams or coming to school, but is going to force himself through Camosun and hopefully become an architect.

HOLLY MARSH: Holly spent her time hanging around in the back halls. Holly will be best remembered for cheering up a storm at all the sports, and her departing words are "Watch out for Mr. C in Bi. 11."

DWAYNE MARSHALL: "Sasquatch" enjoyed "hootin'n hollerin'", getting high, and all around partying. His plans include visiting Mexico, Columbia, Cambodia, and Hawaii. (What ever for Dwayne?).

GORDON MARSHALL: Gordon will be best remembered for his collection of sports team jackets. He likes meeting people and school skating parties. His future goal is to become an engineer and to further his hockey career. Gordon asks us "to wake me up in time for the weekend."

LUCIE MARTINS: "Lucie Goosy" will be best remembered for driving people insane, crazy and nuts. Lucie likes the friends she sees at school and would like to see more dances and activities. Her departing words "Keep that school spirit going."

Tense moment.

"I think I rolled it too big."

PHOTOPHOBIA

JOHN MACBAIN: Refer back to Dave Cooper.

CRAIG MARSHALL: One that does not hand in his questionnaire, is without a comment.

ROSANNA MATKOVIC: Though gullible, "Rosanna Rosanna Dana" never wasted a study or lunchbreak inside school; still, she never got much farther than the front lawn. After travelling, she hopes to become a stenographer.

TAMARA MAY: "Lambie" is loaded with school spirit and never seemed to stop singing the school song (even on CKDA). When she wasn't with a club or team, "Tush" was going crazy in the halls, or lodging campaigns to oil the t.p.r. holders. One crazy lady!

LORI MAYCOCK: Lori will be remembered for being a cheerleader and having "the fastest blushing face in the city." She liked meeting all the great Vic High people and plans to become a teacher for "short people" (elementary school). Lori suggests we all "Be ourselves."

JIM McCOLL: Jim wants to be a carpenter and change the principal (?). He says he'll be remembered for walking around study with red eyes. You can guess what he had for lunch break.

VIOLET McDOUGALL: "Pudgy cheeks" thinks the best thing about school is seeing friends in the hall during class, and the worst is "surprise tests." Vi will be remembered for her slow pace (which made her late often). She hopes to play grass hockey in England and be a rich interior designer.

STEVEN McGAVIN: "Whiskey Jack" made great contributions to the outdoors club and was surprised to recieve A's and B's when he expected C's. He hopes to retire young and become satisfied with life.

SANDY McGREGOR: "Sam" is happy about passing last year but complains that there wasn't enough concerts over the P.A. She has definite plans of being rich and happy in the future. Her last words are short and sweet: "See Ya."

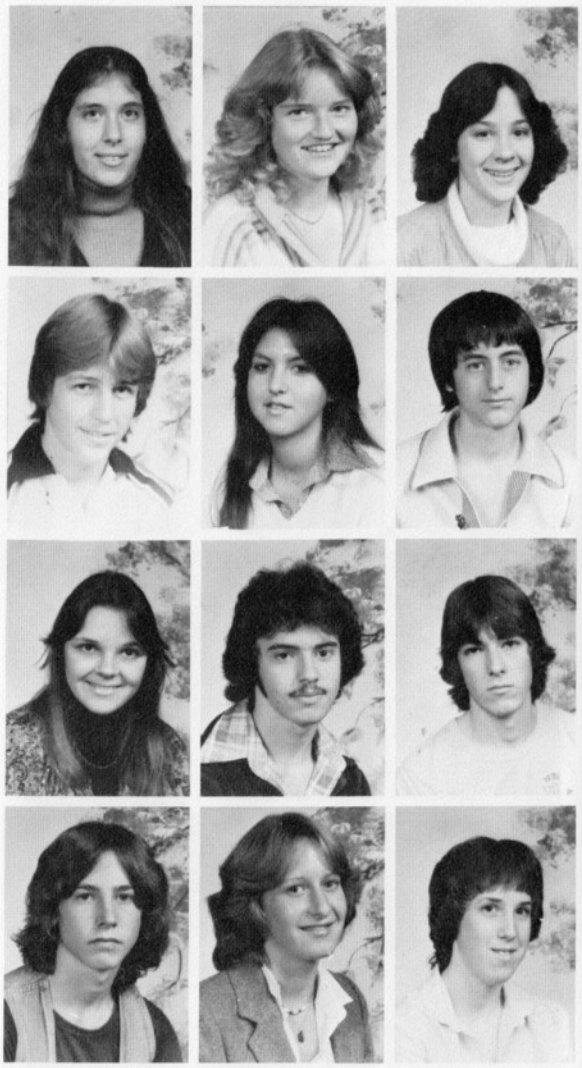
ROD McINTOSH: "Mama's Boy" spent much time with a certain Debbie Mc. and looking into the past of Vic High. He preferred our hours at Central, but was glad to get back here. He's not sure at what, but he's going to be successful.

FRANK MCLACHLAN: Frank is another unsolved mystery.

GREG McLAREN: Greg wants you to have a good time during and between class festivities, while he's listening to Rock & Roll. Once he's finished at Vic High, he'll be remembered because of his car. (Has fun listening to the radio.)

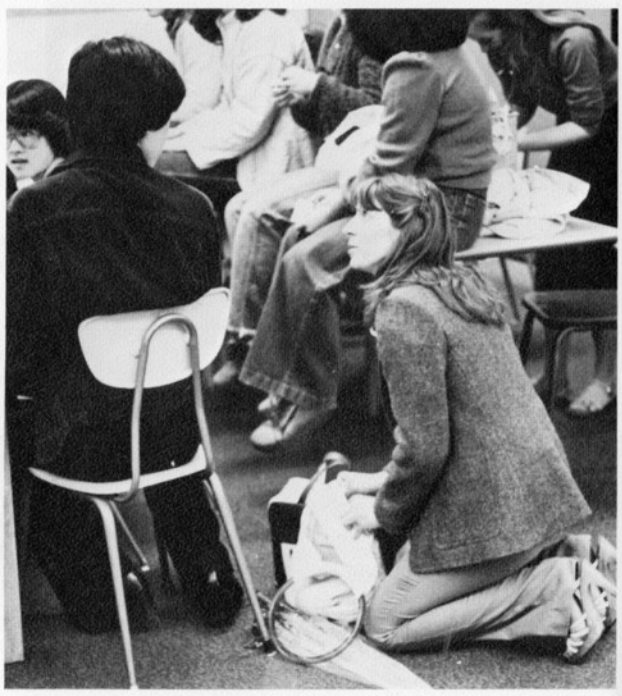
MARIAN McLELLAN: "Sprout" was one of the parking lot hooters. Mondays and homework weren't Marian's idea of fun but she enjoyed meeting people in Mx 12 A. Her departing words are "Look to the future and not to the past to find those things you want to make last."

MARQUITA McNEICE: "Marki", of course, will be remembered for her high degree of intelligence. She hopes to become a luxurious travel accountent and agrees that her twelve years were good but she's glad they're over.



Begging for CHAIRity.

"Let's see! That's 34 times late..."



"Please! I'm begging you."

ROBERT McTAVISH: "Canso Kid" will be best remembered for his cars. Bob didn't have too much to say about school and he isn't sure what he will be doing in the future. Good luck Bob in what ever you do.

MARK MEDD: Mark is usually lost at Vic High, but can be found driving a '67 Boat around. Mark doesn't like school "vary" much but hopes a diploma will make him a millionaire. Best of luck Mark.

NORBERT MELO: Norbert was often seen cruising in his Camaro hunting for "meat," or skipping out with "the catch of the day." His plans include becoming a pimp, and discovering how to make all girls beautiful.

LISA MENU: Lisa enjoyed all the people that she met this year and also all the partying with them. Rumour has it that she also enjoys the break that refreshes (?). Lisa doesn't like homework and figures that shorter classes and longer lunches would be great.

EDMOND MEW: "Big Ed" is a rugby player but nonetheless resented the weight of the new doors. He hopes to become an engineer and eventually get married. He warns undergrads to keep up with their work.

ISABELLA MILAN: Isabella was so shy she didn't even hand in her questionnaire.

BRYCE MILLER: "B.H." was usually seen cycling around Vic High but has been taking it easy lately. Bryce thinks the renovations were a big mistake and would like the school as it was. In the future he hopes to help the deaf or become a P.E. teacher. Good luck Bryce!

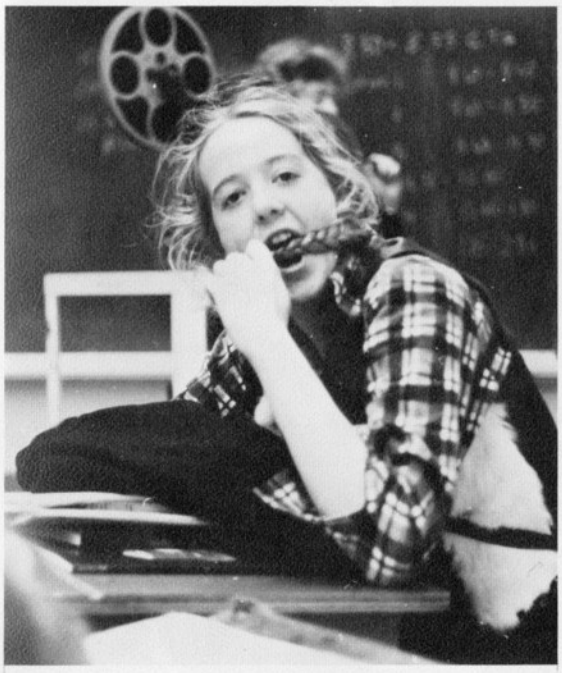
JOYCE MILLER: Joyce really liked having a study in block F but didn't care for the school's inside changes. We would like to wish her good luck in making her fortune. In turn she leaves us with this monumentous message of "Bye!"

DAN MILLER: Dan didn't have much to say about school. He did tell us that he would like to change the cafeteria into a pool hall. Dan's future goal is to find an interesting and enjoyable profession like plant horticulture.

LANA MILIOTT: "Millo" loves remembering the days of slicing buttocks with dull razor blades and wishes there were more nude men at Vic High. Secretly Lana wants to marry a rich Persian rug farmer and live in the Valley of Chretzna. Bonne Chance!

IRENE MILLS: "Eyes" was often late for Mr. N's class, due to her tea breaks in the back hall with S.W. She likes school spirit, people and parties and wants us all to be ourselves. She hopes to be happy in whatever she does.

PAUL MODOS: Paul must have something against questionnaires because he refused to answer it, but we do know he ate his lunch in Mr. C's class and he was a member of the photo club.



"Watching films makes me hungry!"

School's so exciting.

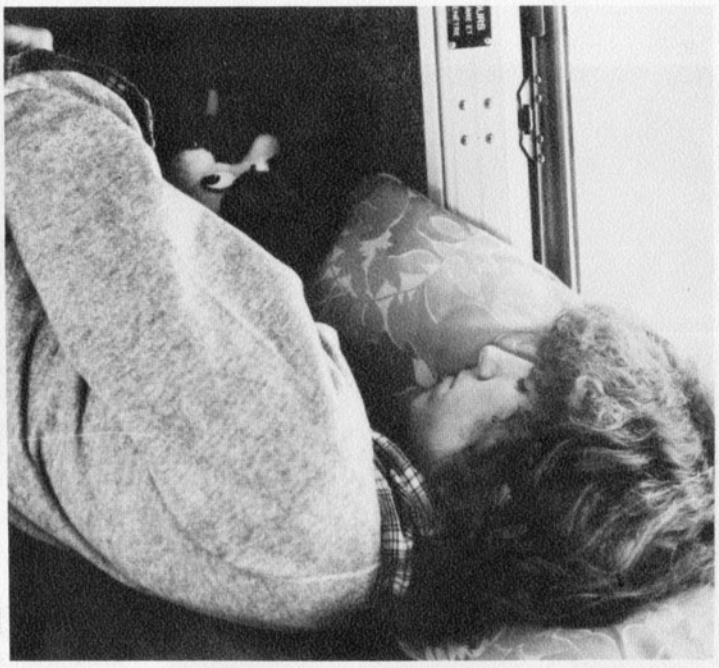
PHOTOPHOBIA

DERRICK MIGNEAULT: Guess who didn't hand in his questionnaire.

DALE MINNIE: Dale decided to fly the coop early.

Sweet dreams...



...of California

CHRISTINE MOLNAR: Chris was a member of the, "I forgot to hand in my questionnaire" club.

MATT MONTGOMERY: A typically nice guy, "the boy in the bright white sports car" is responsible for much graffiti seen at school. He would like a four day week so we could feel guilty about Thursday afternoons rather than Fridays, and leaves with no goals.

JULIE MOODY: We all hope Julie is having fun at Reynolds.

STEVEN MOODY: Well Steven it's too late now for your questionnaire.

DAVID MOORE: As president of the amateur radio club, "Mad Man Moore" would like to disolve school beurocracy. He regretfully leaves his friends to seek an apprenticeship in electronics in Edmonton.

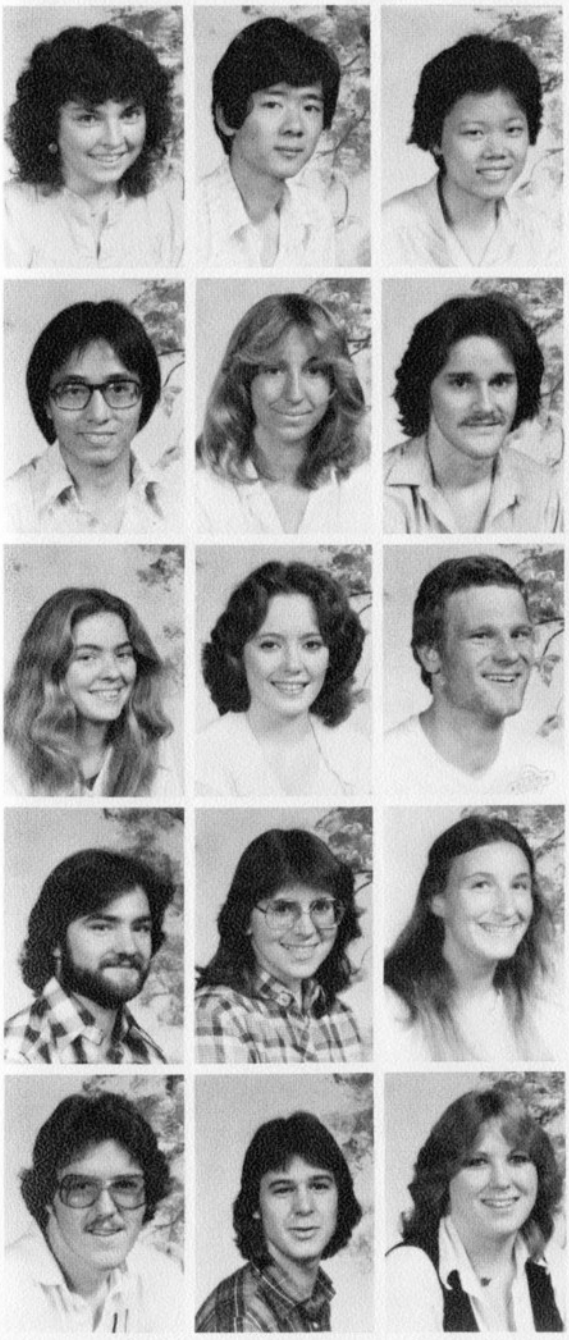
FRANK MORNEAU: Sorry Frank, without a questionnaire we can't write a comment.

SANDRA MORRIS: Sandra left VHS early this year.

STEVEN MORRIS: "Manure Disturber Numero Uno" likes screaming "Numb Nuts" at assemblies and takes credit for recovering after grad '78. Steve loves the Cha Cha but wishes there were reclining chairs and beer gardens to recover in. Future plans include 12 St. Bernards and a beer in his hand. Steve adds these final words of wisdom: "Ya Ya Yahooooo!"

VESA MYLLYNIERNI: "Visa" will be best remembered for his name which no one can pronounce. Vesa would like to have a four day school week and his future goal in to become the world champion in archery and make lots of money.

HARJIT NANDHRA: Harjit enjoyed cruising the halls and our school activities. He could have done with less homework and would like the school back to normal. Harjit gives his fellow students an encouraging message by saying "Try to enjoy school and make the most of it."



KAREN NELSON: Karen liked 2:00 but wasn't too thrilled with 8:35. She had a smile that still shone even after failing tests. She wants to go to Edmonton and get rich (You can get rich in Edmonton?). Karen wishes "Good luck to the grads of '81."

DAVID NG: Basically, David had a good time with his friends at school and dreaded exams and the stairs. He hopes to find a good job and wishes us all "Good luck."

JEANNIE NG: Jeannie was often seen wandering the halls talking with her friends or dragging herself up the stairs. She hopes to find a good job, have fun, and wishes undergrads "Good luck!"

WILSON NGAN: The C.I.A. failed to find Wilson.

BERNICE NIX: Bernice enjoyed loitering in the halls and "Sweet guys like Ralph". She would have liked less teachers and more guys in the school. Her final message is "Sorry Mr. Chan, my dad missed his mouse..."

BRUCE O'DONNEL: Yes another case of questionnairephobia.

KERRY O'GORMAN: "Le Jongleur" of Vic High likes to remember the days when good yogurt and bran muffins were sold in the front hall. Kerry hopes to be swept up by a band of gypsies, and leaves us saying that everyone should experience High school — right up to the trecherous end.

DOREEN O'HARE: "Nooshcom" was often found falling down the stairs, or walking into the wrong class. She enjoys meeting and learning about people and hopes to be happily married all her life. She says "Thanks for a great last year."

LUKE OLDHOFF: Any relation to Bruce?

RICHARD OPP: "Oppy" will be best remembered for rebuilding his boss 302 for his mustang. Richard's only pastime is necking with his girlfriend. Oppy doesn't like getting D's or grounded for life (who does?). Richard's future goal is to become an aircraft maintanence mechanic.

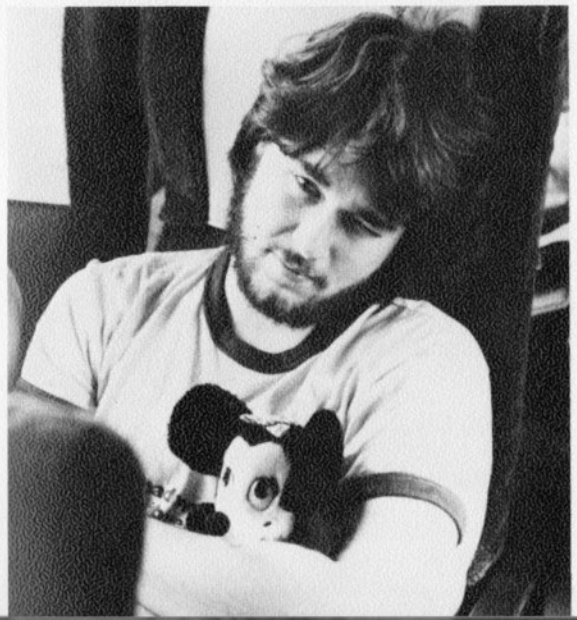
CHRISTINE ORD: Chris spent alot of time waving, talking and wearing her Greek hat. Lack of school spirit upset her as well as signing into studies. Chris likes the old Vic High better and hopes to work at Birks in the future. Her final words are "What the caterpillar calls the end of life, the master calls a butterfly."

PATRICIA OSBORNE: "Ozie's" pastimes are X-country and eating lunch. She will be remembered for being herself. Ozie likes sunny days, friday afternoons and studies and dislikes ignorant people. Patricia wants to travel, go to university and live and be happy.

LLOYD PACK: "Packer" enjoys quick between class cigarettes and will be remembered for his heroism in the P.E. — thief-caper. Lloyd agreed that the changes at Vic High were complete chaos, along with his hangovers. He hopes to become an accountant and enjoy the single life until he's at least 30. He also advises to stick with the 3 year grad plan and not to take 4 years.

DOUG PAGE: Doug was too busy in the back hall to fill out his questionnaire.

SHELLEY PAGE: Shelley was another anonymous student.



PHOTOPHOBIA

TOM MOLNAR: Tom was another unsolved mystery.

HECTOR MONIZ: Good luck Hector, whoever you are.

NORMAN MORE: Norman would like us all to know that he, too, ate lunch. He thought the school hours were too long (?!) and wanted to put windows in the doors.

KEN MORROW: Ken doesn't like school alot, but he had a good time meeting people here. His only goal is to graduate, and he bids all at Vic High "Farewell."

LISA NEWELL: Lisa likes to take her time about everything she does and thinks everyone should slow down a little. Around the school she generally appears dazed and confused but is actually in deep thought. Lisa feels "Teachers should relate more to student and vice versa.

Catching a wink.

I said 'cheese' not 'ham'.

ANNETTE PEARSON: Breakfast for 500? Ask Annette. She found she always had someone to talk to at school and now hopes to have some wild experiences and write a book about them. "It's brighter on the outside."

FATIMA PEDRO: "Teema" likes to get away from school when she can and may never look at a scrambled egg again after March Back '79. She hopes to be successful with whatever she does and says "Hang in there" to undergrads.

BRAD PENNELL: Did Brad have a case of Questionnairephobia?

DANIELA PERUSI: Daniela was choir president and liked singing in choir. She will be best remembered for winning the gong show last year. We heard she had a good time on the California trip.

GORDON PETERSEN: Gordon doesn't like the traffic jams at the new doors so he'd naturally like to see them removed. Gordon's pastimes were going to classes and leaving school. In the future he plans to move to where it is warmer in the winter. (Hawaii maybe?)

ANGELA PFANNENSCHMIDT: "Fanny" will be remembered for falling up the stairs. Angela liked her friends and "some" of her teachers. She wants to be a hairdresser and says "Enjoyed being here — but happy to get out!"

ANGELA PHILLIPS: Angie couldn't recolect too many pastimes but she sure remembers the two o'clock bell and homework on holidays. She sends her complaints to the teachers who give homework 95% of the time and advises that you should always study in advance — it isn't worth cramming!

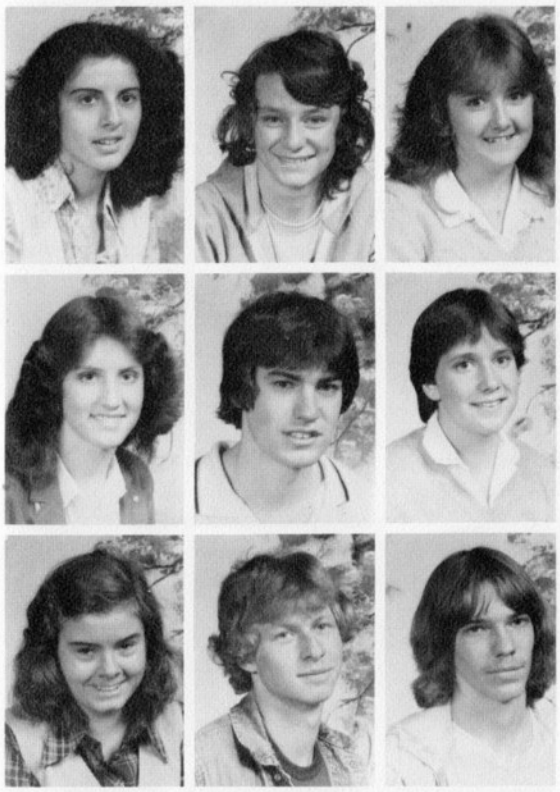
JOE PINHEIRO: Joe enjoys meeting women, which probably explains why his pastimes are unmentionable. He's disappointed with the disappearance of the cafeteria and wishes the school could have remained in it's original state. Joe's future includes becoming a carpenter and his last words are "Its a long way home."

GORDON PLATT: Gord enjoyed going to Pat's coffee shop and being himself (or as he put it Yhee-haa!). He wants to be the world's best Disc Jockey, with well thought of last words — "Bye!"

DOUG POIRIER: Doug's future goal in life is to graduate (so let's hope he makes it). He'll be best remembered for his Mickey Mouse car ('57 Ford), and sitting in Mark's car listening to the radio. (Didn't have a pocket one, huh.)

RON POTTERY: Sorry Ron, no questionnaire, no comment.

DONNA POWELL: Donna's pastimes include thinking up ways of getting out of class. Her 12 years of school have been quite smooth as far as she can remember and hopes to become a wealthy secretary and bids farewell and good luck to both students and faculty.



HELEN RAPTIS: "Hyellie's" involvement with parliament and cabinet takes up a lot of her time around Vic High, along with raising school spirit and noise. She enjoys the social aspects of school and plans to major in Languages in the future.

CHRIS READY: When not in class, Chris could be found at the nearest store, or watching girls. He'd like to eliminate contact groups, and hopes to become an electrician. He warns us all, "Don't go near A 116."

HEATHER REBITT: "Froggy" will be best remembered for being in the band. Heather's pastimes are going to soccer and basketball games to cheer Vic High on! Froggy liked band trips and all the fun she had. Heather's future goal is to travel everywhere!

LIZ REID: Liz met a lot of fantastic people at school and feels students need more freedom. She plans to attend Camosun after grad and wishes us all a long happy life. Likewise, Liz!

WILL REID: When not going crazy on the basketball court or flexing his big biceps, Will could be found sitting in the lunch room or falling asleep in English. Like most, his plans involve getting rich.

PATRICIA REYNOLDS: Keep smiling Pat!

MELISSA ROBERTS: Noted for her changing moods, Missy would have rather read or talked with her friends than rush to class. Like most, she's glad she's finally finished school.

MARTIE ROBERTSON: We heard from a source that Martie hangs around in the back hall and drives a pick up truck.

DES RODGERS: "Buck" was one of VHS's Hooters and felt that the parking lot and skipping out go hand in hand. Des enjoyed weekends this year and the parking lot. (Skipping out, eh). Buck's future plans include becoming one of Victoria's elite and surviving on the "break that refreshes."

PHOTOPHOBIA

CERI PALFREY: Ceri's favorite place was the washrooms but she felt restricted because she couldn't visit them more freely. Her future plans are to become the first millionaire truck driving cosmetician and bids "farewell" to fellow students and faculty.

TOM PATTERSON: Tom forgot to hand in his grad questionnaire.

GABRIELA PREMAT: We asked Gabriela what her pastimes were around Vic High...but she couldn't think of anything.

MARCELA PREMAT: Another quiet student.

STEPHANIE PRINCE: Stephanie left VHS without even filling out a questionnaire.

BILL QUAN: Not only does Bill have photophobia, but he has questionnairephobia too.

DANIEL RICHARDSON: Refer back to Dave Cooper.

MIKE ROBERGE: Mike was usually working on cars (wants to be a mechanic) or driving his Ford. He doesn't like getting up early and says the best thing about school was the people.

SHARON ROBINSON: Sharon left Vic High early this year.

"Maybe I should tell her it's not the '60s anymore."

CHARLENE ROSS: "Kins" spent her time out of class bumping into walls which weren't where they were supposed to be. She likes the far-out people at school but spends most of her time with B.D., and hopes to succeed with him. Good-luck, Char.

RAY ROZON: "Rodent" seems disturbed by his size, and feels escalators would be an asset to the school. His main ambition is to grow some, then pursue a career in plumbing or automotives.

KARIN RUTHERFORD: Karin enjoyed meeting people at school and despised learning useless material. She didn't like teachers pressuring high grades, but plans to go to UVic or Camosun, (Good luck!). She hopes to find herself in Switzerland next year.

JULIE SANCASTER: Julie enjoyed playing with the badminton club, as well as the 2:00 whistle (Yes, it's a whistle, not a bell). She hates life's "daily routines" and says "Heads up the end may be nigh." (Shakesphere?)

STEVE SANDVE: Sorry Steve no questionnaire, no comment.

PAUL SAPSFORD: "Sappy" had a great time in soccer this year, especially at the Colonist Cup and the B.C. finals. Paul hates homework, but nonetheless plans to attend UVic.

BARRY SAWYER: A parking lot partier, "Wrangy" didn't care much for early morning classes or any classes for that matter. He plans to be a rich oil tycoon living in Alberta.

TIMOTHY SCHAUERTE: Outside of the D. and D. club, "T.J." spent most of his time cruising the halls. A sensible guy, he liked studies and light workloads. He's going to take it easy now and live a good life.

DEBBIE SCHOENING: "Shy-girl" (but noticable) enjoyed lunch, meeting new people and making friends. A member of the Christian club, she says to fellow students "Take every opportunity to further your education. Who knows? You may be another Einstein." (He was lousy in high school.)

DAVE SCHROYEN: "The Groan" had a good time this year socializing and wasting time, but he did not like the half hour lunches. Daves future plans include having a good time and to prosper. His parting words to students are, "Watch out for that last step it's a big one."

JULIA SCOTT: "T.P." liked having good times and sitting around doing nothing. She hopes to get a good job and reminds us that everything in life is attainable, with time.

DAVID SCOTT-MONCRIEFF: David did his best to avoid English and spent time banging his head on steel beams in metal work. He advises us to sail, as the world is two-thirds water.

PHOTOPHOBIA

KIM RUTHERFORD: Kim likes school spirit and feels there should be more of it around. She hopes to make money, travel, and have "A generally wonderful life."

JOE SCOTT: If you ever saw Joe's eyes, they were sure to be red and watching girls. He didn't enjoy coming to school or smashing up his Mustang, and warns to keep your guard up around A. Paone.

MELVIN SHAW: Melvin would have preferred staying at Central all year, as he had a rough time getting out of bed in the mornings. When not in the shops, he was taking pictures for the camera club. He leaves Vic High quietly with no last words.

ANDREA SIMARD: Andrea left Vic High early.

"Hurry up and build the stairs!"

"They oughta make these hats a bit bigger...ow!"

CINDY SEGINWICH: "Cindy Lou" likes wandering the halls in her study and being an athlete in C.R. Cindy likes getting out early but dislikes long classes. She would like Vic High back the way it was and to graduate. Cindy says "Hang on guys."

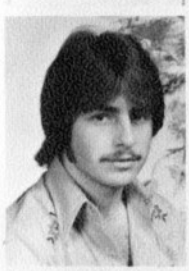
DEBBIE SHAND: "Blondie" wants to travel and eventually become a beach bum. She said if she could change anything at Vic High, she'd change her report cards! Debbie doesn't like much either, except lunch breaks, days off school and her grad.

TERESA SHIELDS: "Trigger" spent time with various clubs and enjoyed driving teachers crazier than they already were. "T" hopes to become an R.N., travel and have three kids. She says "Thanks, guys!"

LINDA SHIPLACK: "Babyboo" enjoyed fieldhockey and basketball, but wouldn't want to repeat the Tiger's initiation. She had great times with the "big six", and has got Arthur Murray beat with The Shipshack. She plans to do whatever comes naturally.

PEGGY SHUM: Peggy played badminton and table-tennis, and was in the outdoors and sailing clubs. She plans to pursue clothing design via Douglas College. Her last warning is "Avoid the second floor back hall. The traffic jam makes you late for class every time."

MARY SILVAGGIO: Mary prefers talking with her friends over going to classes. She doesn't like the stairs or the small cafeteria and hopes to become a successful hairdresser.



TONY SILVAGGIO: Refer back to Dave Cooper.

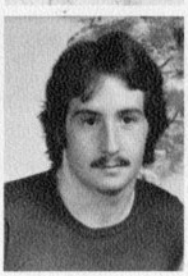
JASON SUI: Jason really liked the library and classrooms and will be remembered for his teacher?? He had trouble finding the boys' changeroom, and plans to be a doctor (we're in trouble). Jason would like to thank all his teachers who taught him.

ADRIENNE SKINNER: Adrienne likes the parking lot but doesn't like teachers who treat students like kids. Adrienne's future goal is to stay sane and she sings "We're here for a good time not a long time."

SHARON SKINNER: "Spacey's" pastime around Vic High was floating around the halls and smiling. She'll best be remembered for being rowdy at Vic High's soccer games. Her future goals in life are to travel and become the rowdiest Nun in the world. (Good-luck!)

ROSEMARY SMEDLEY: Rosemary spent most of her time at school dreading tests and complaining about them. A friendly person, she likes meeting people and hopes to spend her life working with people.

RON SMETHURST: Ron was another anonymous student.



DOUG SMITH: "Duggery" was one of the few people in automotive who could yell properly. He liked the sports, meeting people and would have preferred KZOK on the P.A. while he wandered the halls at lunch. Good luck in winning a million Doug!

GARY SMITH: "Boo Boo" will be best remembered for "drums only and McDonald's." Gary likes all the people at school but felt there was too much wasted time. He wants to enter restaurant management and finally hit the top of the rock charts. "Live it up."

PETER SMITH: We hope you had a good year Pete.

DON SPALL: Don had a great time skipping out and going to parties this year, but had great difficulty getting up in the mornings. "Good luck, you'll need it," he says as he leaves in search of great wealth.

JENNY SPENCER: Jenny was another anonymous student.

PAT STACCHI: Pat only liked friends and some teachers. She wants to marry, have children and "Some sort of career." (That's what we like, ambition!) Pat says, "Good luck."

JENNY STADLER: Probably the only Mormon who fights with lockers, Jenny likes cruising the halls, friends and gossip. She hopes to develop her talents and then raise a family.

TRACY STAVDAL: Tracy wouldn't have made it though Vic High without the art room and 210. A happy person by nature, she likes to see creativity and originality, and hopes to find work of that sort when she graduates.

LYNN STEPANIC: "Woodstock" is always going crazy, probably a form of relief from heavy duty exams. She hopes to see the world before getting her fingers in people's mouths (as a dental assistant).

TERRY STEVENS: Terry's another "sitting around doing nothing" expert who loaths 8:30 a.m. She's bored with the old jokes and hopes to spice up her life with a long trip to Hawaii. Terry leaves saying "Two years at Vic High wasn't that bad."

MARIA STEWART: Maria often used Vic High's name in vain (probably during her tea breaks), and enjoyed the bloodstream of school. However, she didn't like the blood vessels and would truly like to understand Mr. G.

VALERIE STEWART: Val likes to "freak out" people by simply pointing a camera lens at them. Val wants to be the first person to hang-glide around the world. Val wants us to remember: "Dillusions of Granduer or Bust."

PATRICIA STERLING: "Twishy", known for her permanent red eyes and the "Cha cha", wants to beat up "Sluggo." When asked what she would change, Trish replied "In with the old, out with the new."

MARTIN STRATHOLT: "Red" sits in Glen's car listening to Led Zepplin. He's always absent but he likes watching the girls. Martin dislikes Mr. G and wants to get rich and says "Good bye."

PAT SULLIVAN: Pat was usually seen hanging around the halls bugging the guys. The rest of her answers were one word or less (likes "study", hates "tests") except for her wanting to restore the old school.

JEANETTE SUTHERLAND: Jeanette was picked on by P.S. for being the shortest person in CR. ☺. She's happy with the new time schedule and wishes there was an escalator in the school. She wishes the grads the best of luck along with the undergrads.

PHOTOPHOBIA

EVA SOOS: "Doc" liked the teachers and making friends. She hates stuck up people, and wants Vic High back to the old way. We all wish Eva the best at becoming an independent hairdresser.

KIM SPIES: Kim left Vic High early.

KEVIN SPRINGALL: Kevin spent five agonizing days a week getting up early for school; but each week paid off with a weekend and lots of parties. He wants to live on a tropical island, and tells undergrads, "Good-luck, you'll need it."

GORDON SPOULE: Refer back to Dave Cooper.

TIM STEED: "Goof's" pastimes around school were going home and bothering the non-grads. When asked future plans in life, his response was "I don't plan that far (ahead)!"

ANGELA STREHLEN: Sorry Angela no questionnaire, no comment.

RANDY STUBBS: Whether cruising in the Stubbsmobile, listening to King Crimson, or writing graffiti, Randy always has fresh ideas for "arting out" on. He won't be remembered for much... yet, he says, but hopes one day to league with the renaissance masters. Good-luck, ydnaR!

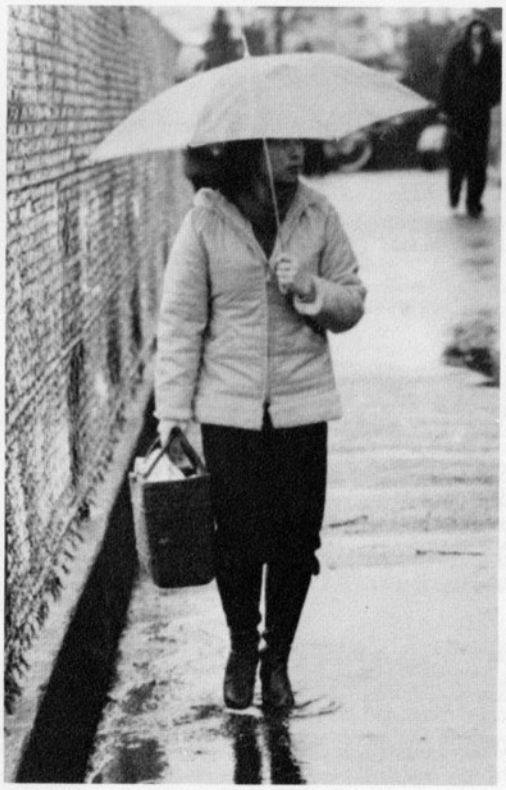
JONI TANNER: Joni was another one who left Vic High early.

MARK URBANIAK: Mark also has questionnariephobia.

ROBERT VAN HUET: Refer back to Mark.

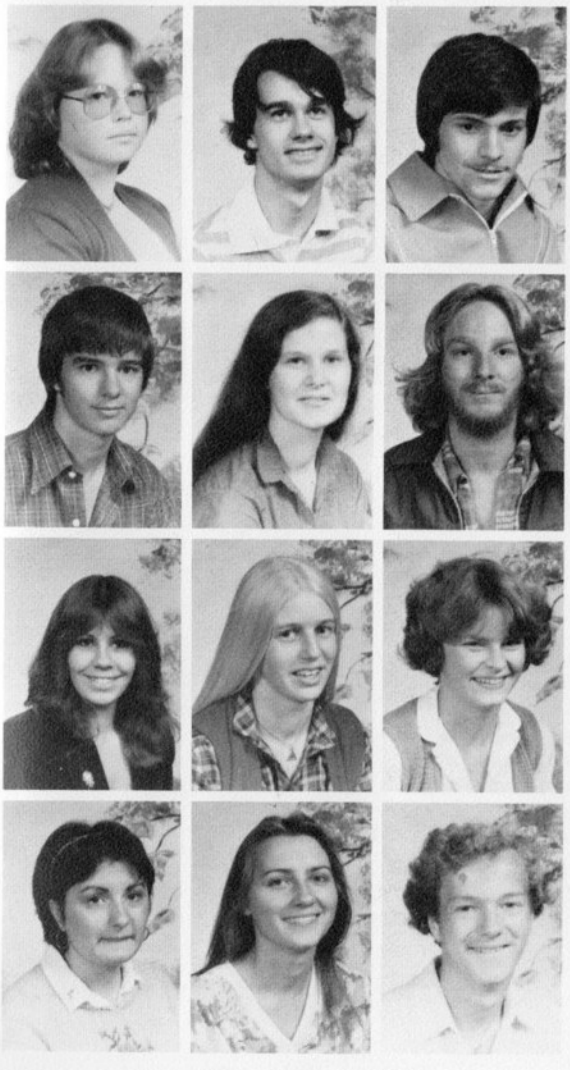
DEREK VICHERT: Refer back to Rob.

Raindrops...



keep falling...

on my head...



HEATHER TAYLOR: Heather never really got over the lack of heat on the first floor. She hopes to become an R.N. then go on to social working. She says thanks to all her teachers that pulled her through.

DAVID TEMPAN: David didn't hand in his questionnaire.

STEVEN THORN: Steven likes the outdoors club and says he'll be remembered for being a nice guy. In the future Steve plans to become a professional carpenter. Steve would also like to thank Mr. S. and all the nice girls who pulled down his tent while he was sleeping in it.

BILL THWAITES: Bill likes having fun and driving a Penny Farthing to school. Bill likes meeting people but dislikes English and short lunch hours. Bill wants to get rid of the doors. He says "Mr. P. keep up the good work."

SANDY TOMPKINS: Sandy was the one always on crutches. She plans to become a policewoman after two years of criminology at Camsoun College. Officer Tompkins wishes us all "Good luck."

BRIAN TOWNSEND: Brian likes the school atmosphere and meeting other people who were breathing it. He hopes to become a British Carpenter and encourages us to "Stay with school, however hard it may seem and you'll be rewarded."

KAREN TYROLER: Sorry Karen no questionnaire, no comment.

JANE UNDERWOOD: "Plain Jane" believes that practicing military confinement is no way to run a school but still enjoys the socializing. Jane will be well remembered for her head full of frizzles and advises that you always stay "High and mighty" and take advantage of every chance you get. (C'mon Jane, be confident!)

NAN VALGARDSON: Partying, shouting, flipping and being with B.H. are all included in Nan's pastimes. She hopes to get married and become an interior decorator. Nan's parting words of wisdom: "Party lots and enjoy yourself."

JOSEPHINE VELTRI: Josephine loved bothering teachers and found arguing with them gets you good grades. She always had a good excuse for her many lates and enjoyed speaking for parliament. She wants a family after recieving a degree in Criminology.

DENA VINQUIST: Dena salutes Mr. Hemming's art classes and is disturbed by the lack of water fountains. She hopes to own a vegetarian restaurant, and munch on her own organic home grown veggies. "Dare to be different."

STEPHEN VISZLAI: "Twit" often heard "none of that here", due to his inseperability from H.K. He enjoys many clubs, and fears "Blasner's Theory." He hopes to travel to Europe then attend B.C.I.T.

SYLVIA VOHS: The only thing worse for "Shorty" than getting up in the mornings was tripping up the stairs. Like most, her plans involve getting rich and travelling.

DEBBIE WAGG: Sorry Debbie, no questionnaire, no comment.

SHIRLEY WALKER: Often in trouble with a certain English teacher, and always tired in the morning, Shirley preferred breaks over classes. She hopes to travel and continue doing gymnastics. "Look out for the stairs," she says.

SHELLEY WARDROBE: Shelley was a member of the back hall and parking lot societies. She enjoyed her social life and smiling alot with I.M. Shelley hopes to go to college, travel and get married; and advises us to keep up school spirit.

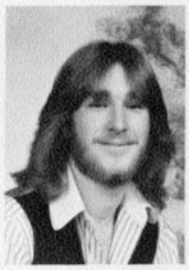
ANDREW WATSON: Arguing with the Game Wardens was "Shroom's" favorite pastime but he can't remember what he'll be remembered for (?). Andrew would like to become an executive for the Coke company, so he'll always remember what adds life!

IAN WEBB: After a long stay at Vic High, "Webber" has decided the only worthwhile things at school were M.L.D.'s buns, and Bookburn '79. He plans to go to B.C.I.T. after graduating. (Good luck, you may need it.)

BILL WEBB: "Plain old Bill" enjoys meeting people or just hanging around. He hopes to spend time fixing diesel engines while listening to rock. He hopes to see us around.

SCOTT WELSFORD: "Scottish" likes people, weightlifting, and his great truck that no-one ever saw. He hopes to become the best drywaller in Alberta or a power weightlifter.

MAUREEN WHITE: "Moe" enjoyed being a grad rep. and being in the A,B,C, & D club. Maureen thinks first class is too long and would like shorter classes (45 mins.). In the future she plans to become an R.N., get married and have lots of kids.



NANCY WICKSTROM: Due to her wild times with J.B., "Timex" became a regular at the office; but always pulled through with a crazy excuse. She hopes to become a legal secretary and warns "Beware of Garner."

COLLEEN WILLIAMS: "Leeness" is either seen tearing into the parking lot at 8:15 or playing some kind of sport. Colleen wants to become involved in teaching P.E. and reminds us to be good to Mr. H. "Cause he's the best."

LORONA WILLIAMS: Lorona was pleased with the new two o'clock bell, but wouldn't hesitate to lodge a campaign to get us out at one. She hopes to marry a millionarie and live in luxury all her life.

RICHARD WILLIAMS: Richard finds school desks most uncomfortable and had no problems falling asleep in them. His only goal is to graduate and he says "Good-bye, I hope."

CORRINE WILLIAMSON: "Corky" would like to see the school changed back to the "Old Vic High". In the future Corrine plans to travel to Fiji, sail the South seas and become a bartender. She advices the undergrads to "Stay in school and get your grade 12."

GORDON WILSON: "Wally" enjoyed working as P.M. He didn't care for M.H.'s road runs, and really would have liked a cabinet room, as well as an hour lunch. Gord plans to go to University and take up practical electronics, or get into Radio Shack. "Good Luck Gord, you'll need it."

HOLLY WILSON: "Midge" participated in the outdoors and sailing clubs. She feels studies make school worthwhile and will probably be remembered for being a Wilson.

MARILYN WILSON: "Mare" shot hoops with the Tigers, goals with the Tomahawks, raised cash for field hockey trip to England, in the "toaster" bus, and disliked push-ups. Naturally, she's going to be a doctor. She says, "Silence may be golden but laughter has more sparkle."

KAREN WONG: Karen is lucky enough to live across the street from school, so her favorite pastime is going home. Karen doesn't mind school just as long as she doesn't have to go!! Karen's future goal is to go to UVic, work and get married.

LORA WONG: Lora doesn't remember much except roaming the halls and holidays. She dispises her 4th floor locker after P.E. and wants those old wood handrails back. Lora leaves us with these words of wisdom: "Nothing in life is free, but take it anyway."

PETER WOO: Peter's red eyes were probably due to his favourite kind of breaks. He liked studies, found T.C.G.s useless, and warns us to avoid A116.

GLEN WRIGHT: The swim club will remember Glen for always beating them to the only hot radiator. He continually surprised himself with A grades in math without trying, and hopes to become a famous engineer.

MICHAEL YAN: "Mikery" may have liked going to basketball and Rugby practices but he loved annoying the teachers. Mikey's last words to staff and students, at Vic High are "School is an opportunity to turn fantasy into reality. That means success throughout your life, if you stick with school."

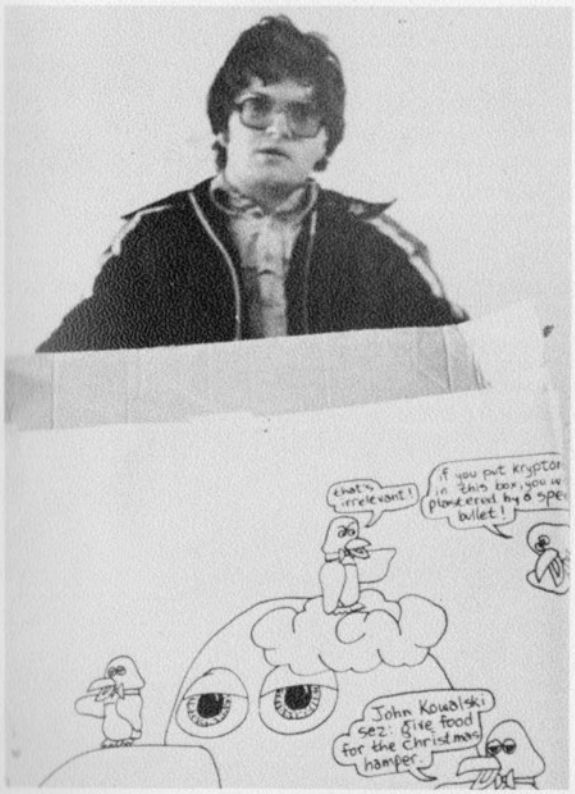
KIRBY YEATS: Short and mouthy "killer" lived up to his name in backgammon and the ski club. Somehow, he lived through English A. Supporter of rowdy soccer fans, he says, "Settle it down."

BEVERLY YEE: Bev will be best remembered for getting a certain J.V. in trouble. Her pastimes were wandering the halls and taking holidays because she hated tests. Bev plans to become a travel agent and her last words are "Hang in there."

IRENE YONG: Irene liked making friends and plans to continue her studies at either UVic. or Camosun. Her clever closing words are "Think well what you do today, for it is the living of our days that weave the legacy of memories which we hold for our tomorrows."

LAURIE ZALESCHUK: "Chinese Eyes" was a regular on the morning announcements and was pleased with the new smoking area. She dislikes the fourth floor and enjoys partying. Laurie hopes to become an accountant.

LINDA ZWICK: Linda had a great time gabbing in the halls and cheering on our many teams. She prefers studies over exams any day and leaves us to travel, get a good job, and have a lot of fun doing so.



that's irrelevant!
if you put kryptonite in this box, you've plundered my g spot bullet!
John Kowalski sez: give food for the christmas hamper.

PHOTOPHOBIA

MICHELE WESSELS: "Was I supposed to hand the questionnaire in?"

LAURA WHERRY: Laura is a member of the "I forgot to hand in my questionnaire."

GREG WHITE: Greg doesn't think much about school, while he hates any kind of exam, quiz, test, etc., and he would like Mondays off. Greg's future goal is to become so filthy rich that he never has to work.

RONALD WONG: Ron likes the last minute of the last class, but he dislikes the first class of the day. Ronald's pastime was running around outside and in the future he plans to go to Camosun. His departing words are, "See you in Camosun."

WAYNE WOOSTER: Wayne knows of nothing worse than English first thing in the morning; well, maybe those useless late slips. He hopes he'll find his 3 block course usefull as a mechanic.

JOHN WALLER: Well, John didn't hand in his questionnaire this year.

Words spoken may fly away,
the writing brush leaves it's mark.

Damn the Cold

Damn the cold is the first thing of the morn,
Forcing thyself out of bed.

Damn the cold is all thee can say, stepping out from under the spray.
Damn the cold is all thy think, as thee
scrapes the windows clean

Damn the cold is all thy feel, as thee waits for the light to go green.

Damn the cold is all thy mutter, as thee
waits for the bell to ring

Damn the cursed cold...

Mike Friebe

Fog

Fog
it creeps up without warning and it's here
Fog
it sets in leaving the distance closed out
Fog
Leaves the feeling of silence
no sound from it
Fog
shuts out the light leaves the darkness alone
Fog
it clears slowly it lifts
it's gone

Mere Existence

Mere existence was not enough to keep her alive. Life was surrounding her, but she could not feel it's pulse. Her mind was a holding place for memories and cherished moments. She lived for yesterday, hoping tomorrow would be the same. There was no one to turn to, no one to talk to, and in a word, she was lost, hopelessly lost.

Friends, ah yes, friends. She had many, but they didn't care for her feelings and thoughts, only her existence. How could they realize that she was being torn in two; her life today, her life yesterday, her life tomorrow.

Where would she go from here? She was dead: tired of her life, tired of the thoughts that weighted her mind. She was useless to herself, and thus useless to mankind.

Without her peace, without her friends of the past, or her reflections of tomorrow, her only companion was but a reflection in the mirror.

Changes

If an oak leaf were to grow into a palm frond, and that same palm frond were to bloom into a desert flower, and then die;
There is a great sense of loss — for this was not the way the world was meant to be...

If a sparrow were to change into a canary, and that same canary were to transform itself into a white eagle, and then die;
There is a great sense of loss — for this was not the way the world was meant to be...

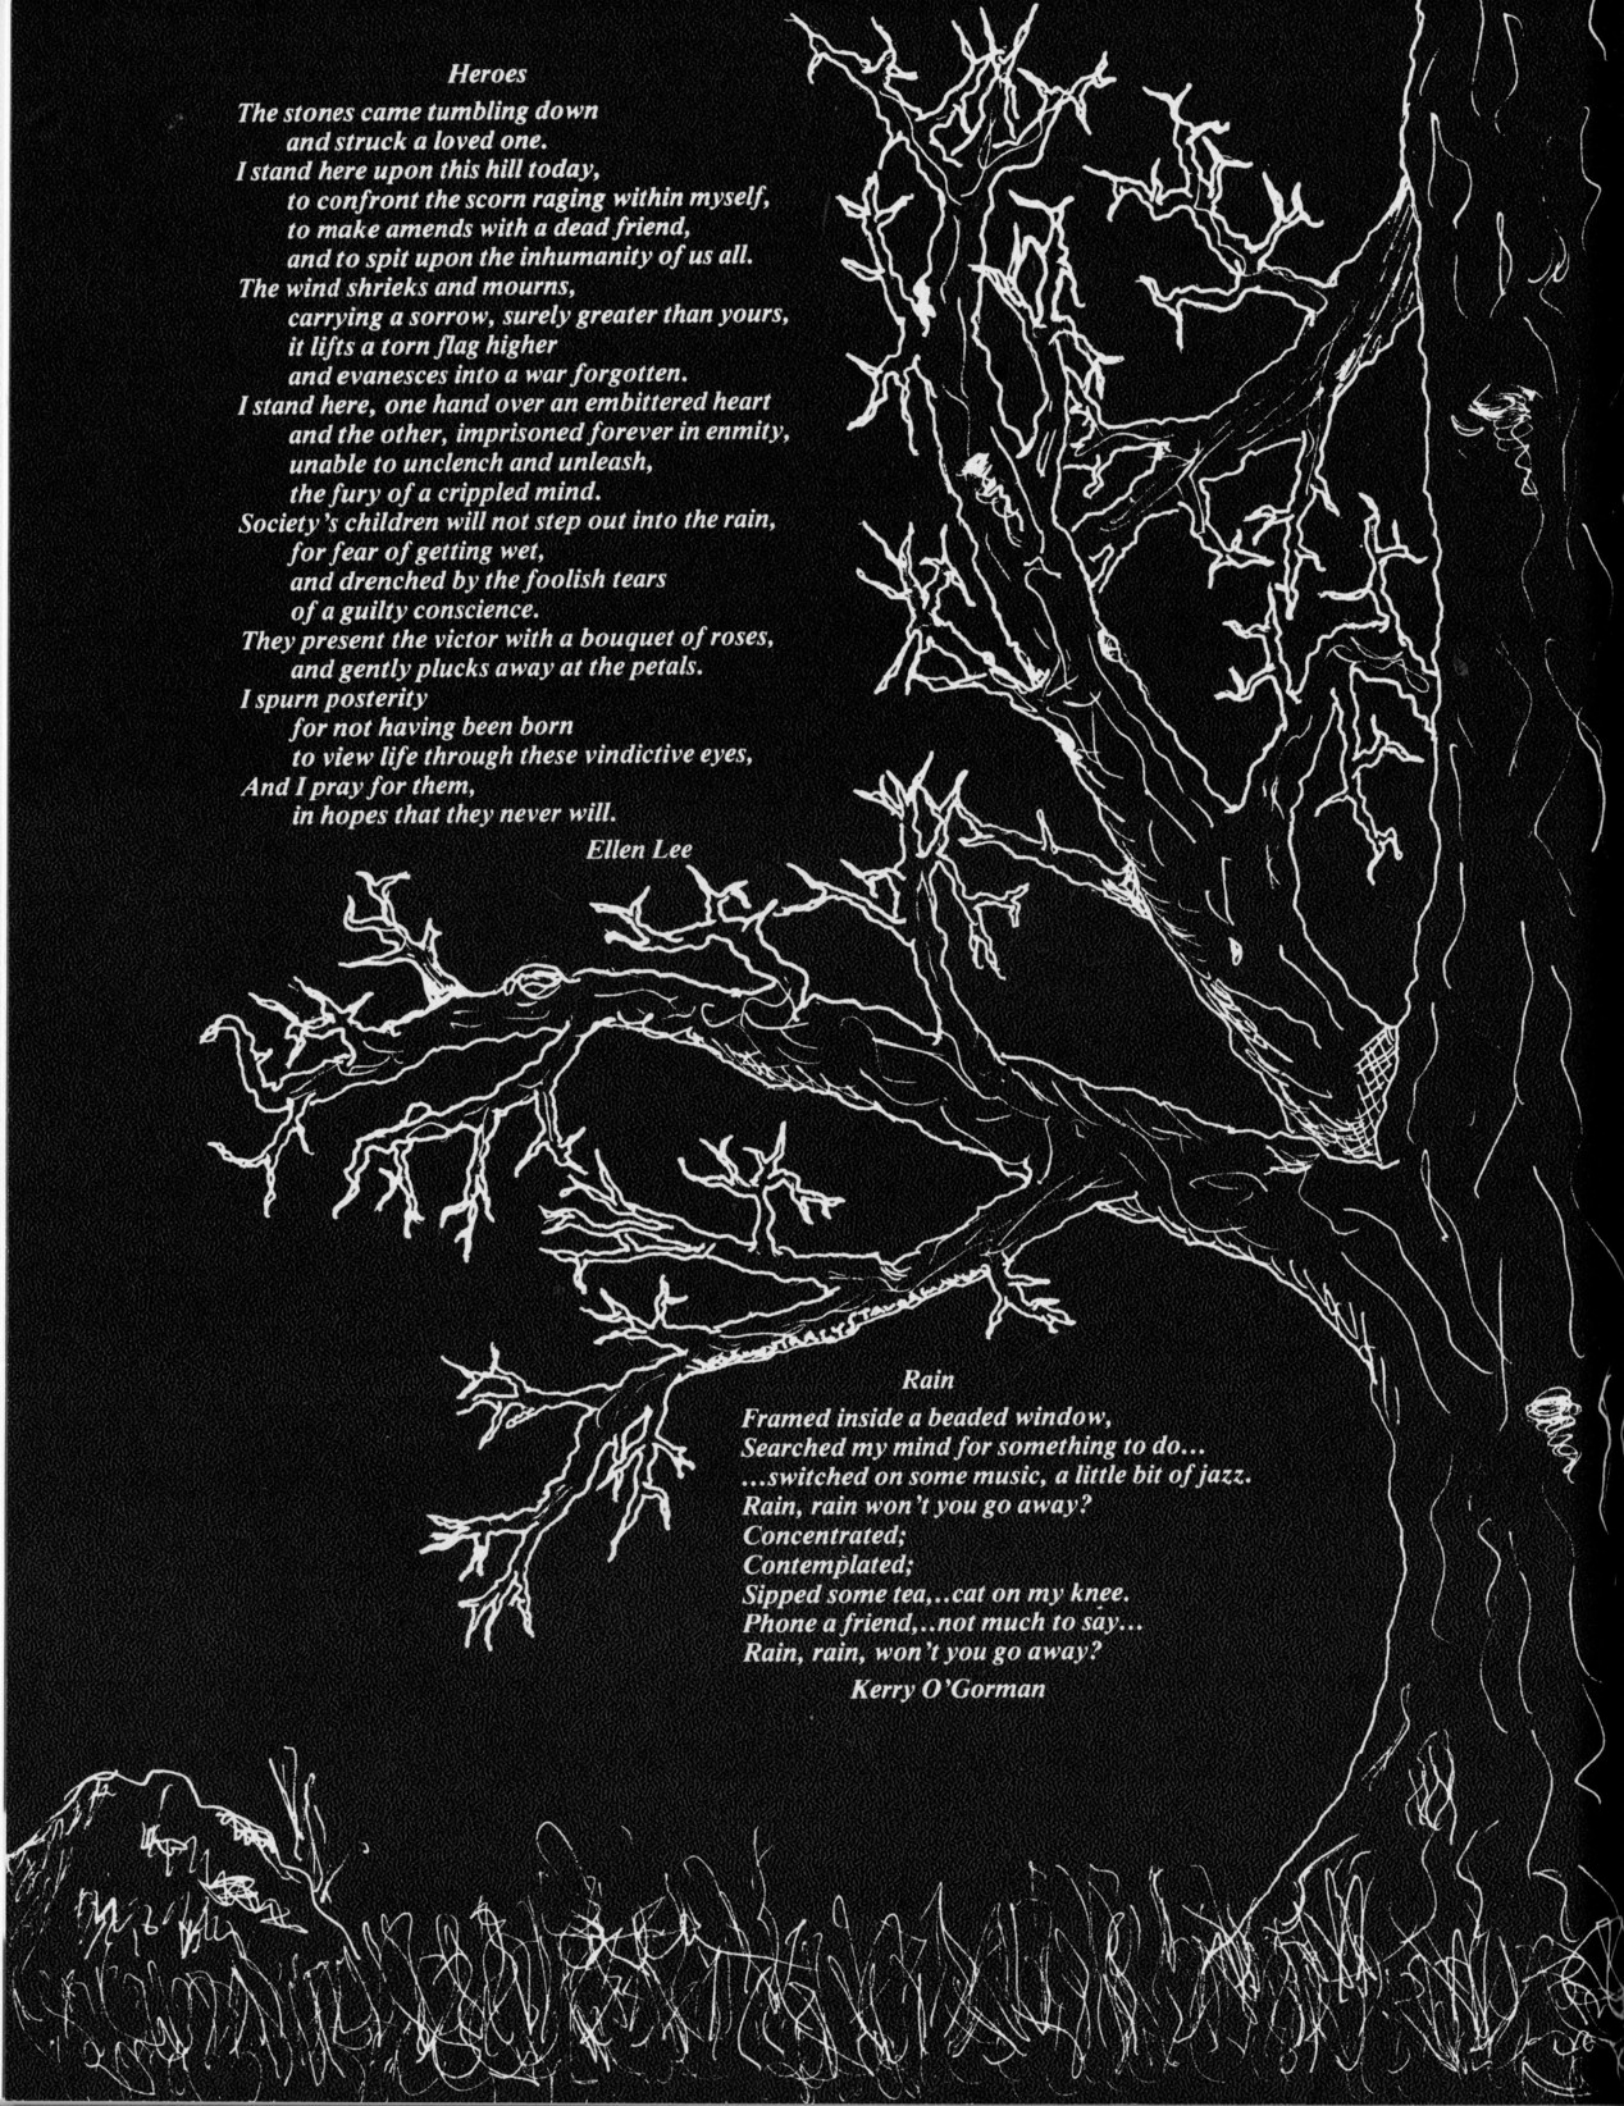
Our love started out as the oak leaf, and the sparrow, grew as the leaf to the frond, and changed as sparrow to canary, bloomed as frond to flower, and was transformed as canary to eagle —

But, our love will not die — as did the flower and the eagle. There is no sense of loss — only of triumph and righteousness;

For this was the way the world was meant to be.

Tina Bailey



Heroes

The stones came tumbling down and struck a loved one.
I stand here upon this hill today, to confront the scorn raging within myself, to make amends with a dead friend,
and to spit upon the inhumanity of us all.
The wind shrieks and mourns, carrying a sorrow, surely greater than yours, it lifts a torn flag higher and evanesces into a war forgotten.
I stand here, one hand over an embittered heart and the other, imprisoned forever in enmity, unable to unclench and unleash,
the fury of a crippled mind.
Society's children will not step out into the rain,
for fear of getting wet, and drenched by the foolish tears of a guilty conscience.
They present the victor with a bouquet of roses,
and gently plucks away at the petals.
I spurn posterity
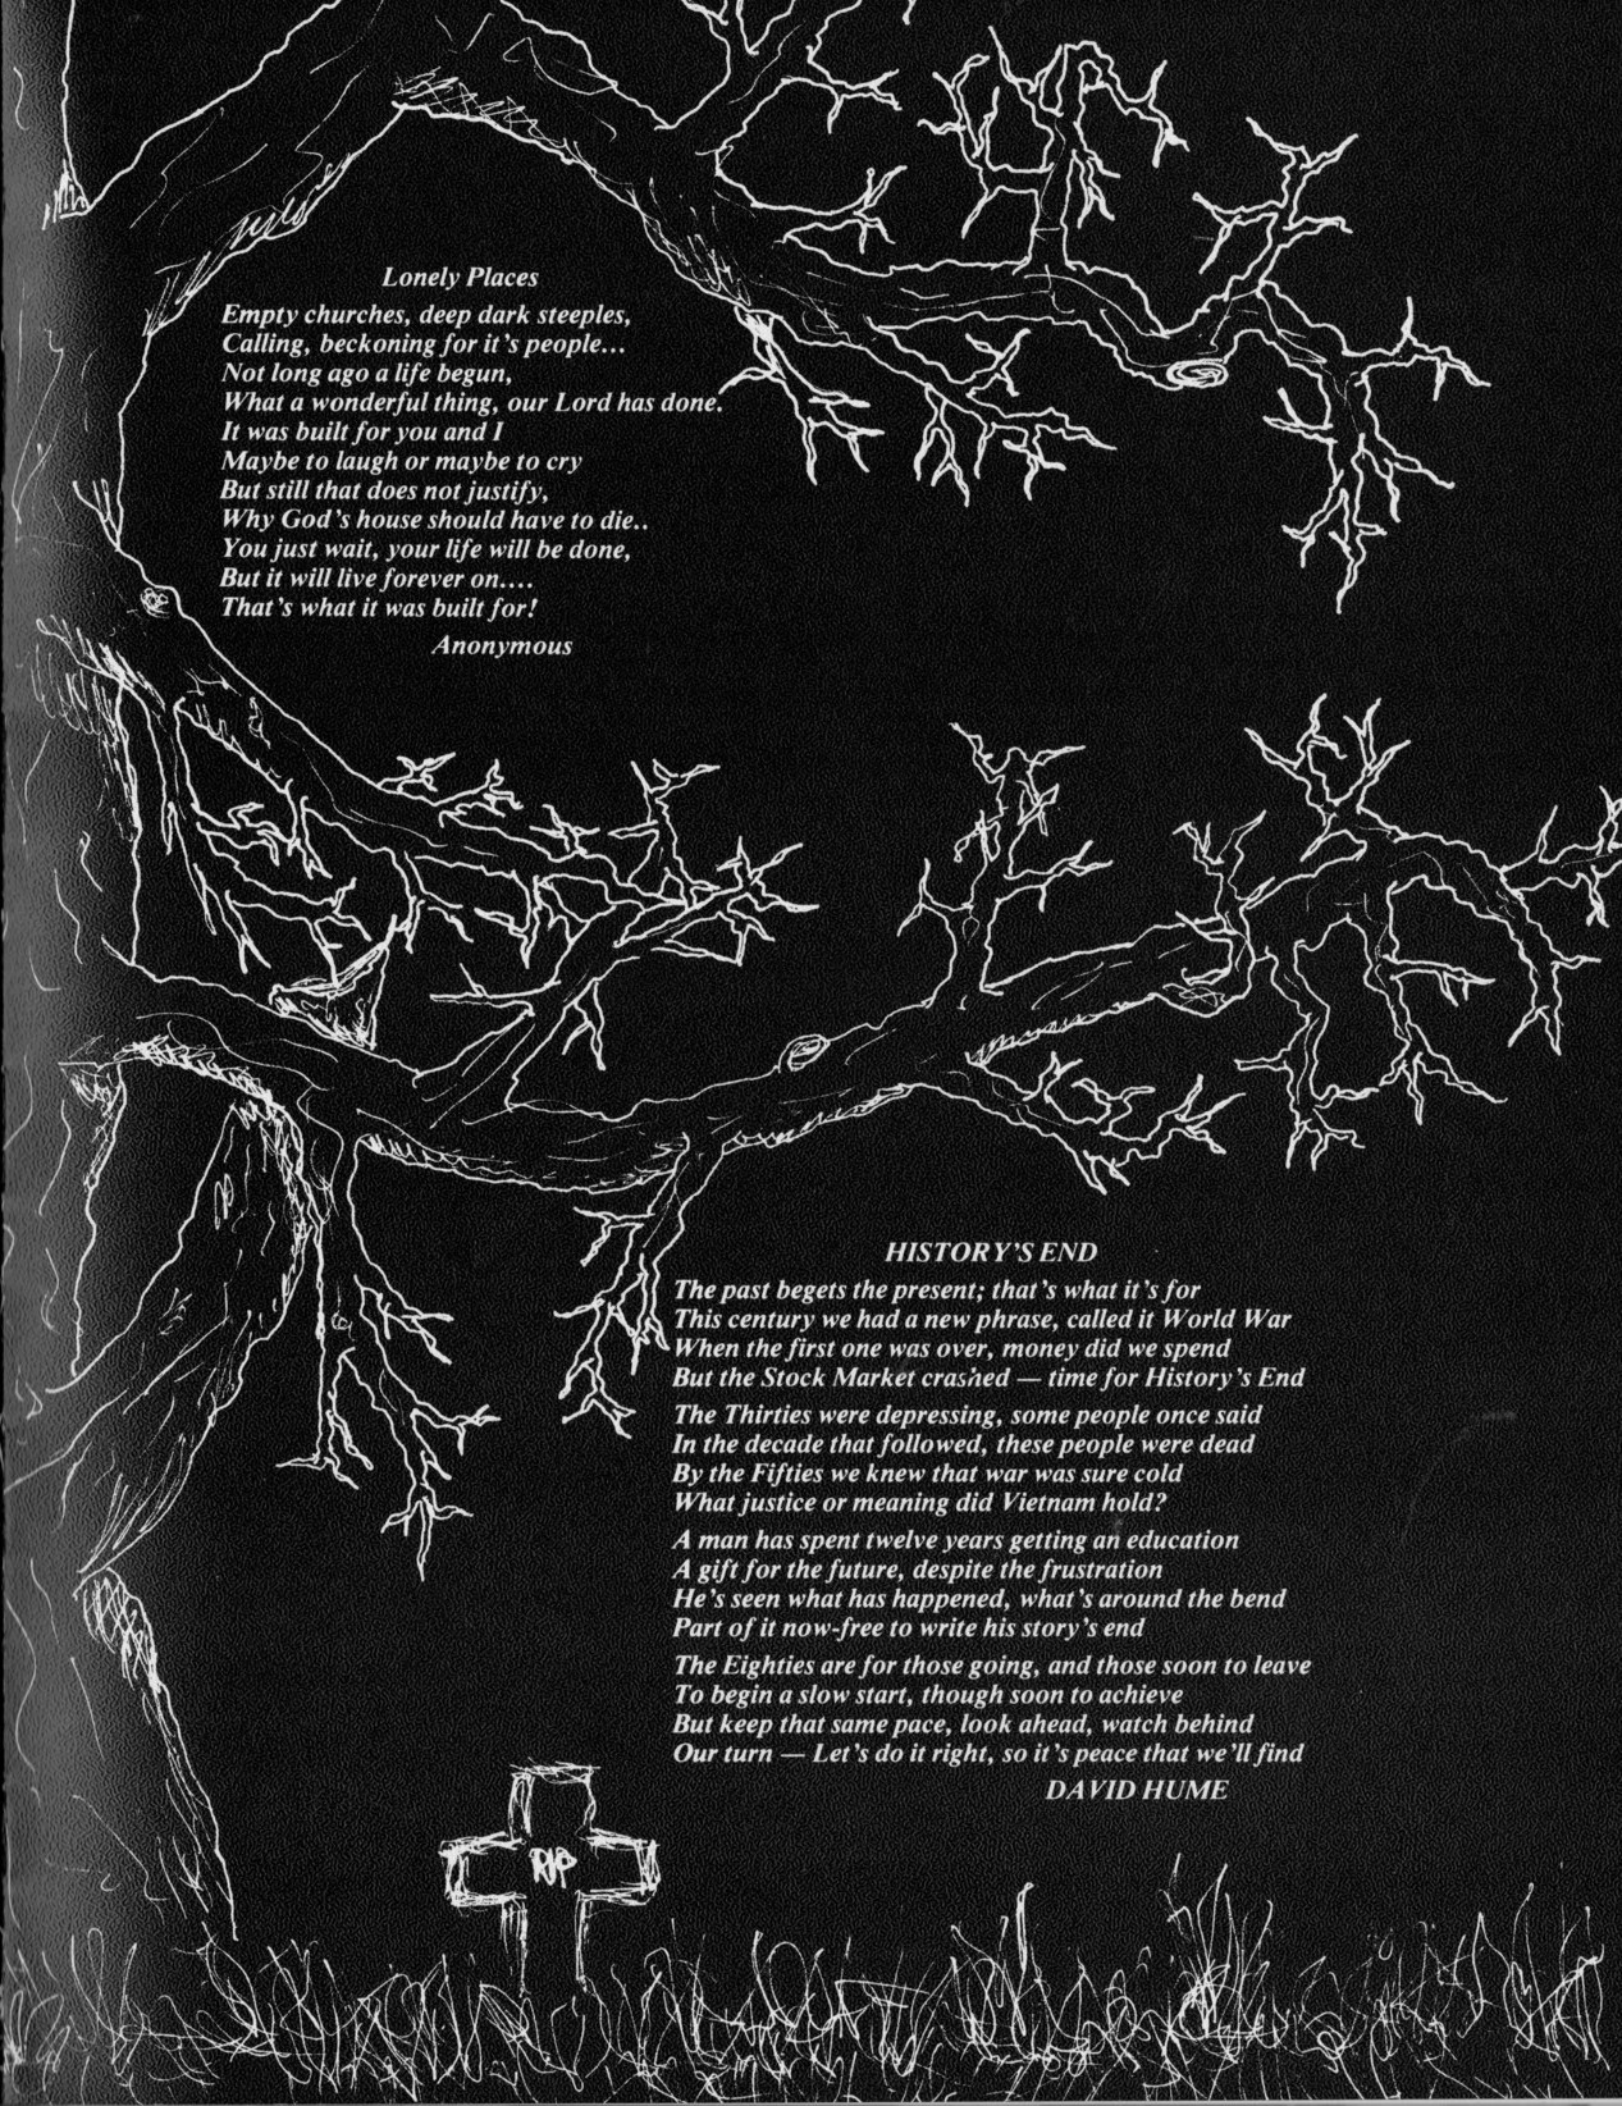
for not having been born to view life through these vindictive eyes,
And I pray for them,
in hopes that they never will.

Ellen Lee

Rain

Framed inside a beaded window,
Searched my mind for something to do...
...switched on some music, a little bit of jazz.
Rain, rain won't you go away?
Concentrated;
Contemplated;
Sipped some tea,..cat on my knee.
Phone a friend,..not much to say...
Rain, rain, won't you go away?

Kerry O'Gorman



Lonely Places

Empty churches, deep dark steeples,
Calling, beckoning for it's people...
Not long ago a life begun,
What a wonderful thing, our Lord has done.
It was built for you and I
Maybe to laugh or maybe to cry
But still that does not justify,
Why God's house should have to die..
You just wait, your life will be done,
But it will live forever on....
That's what it was built for!

HISTORY'S END

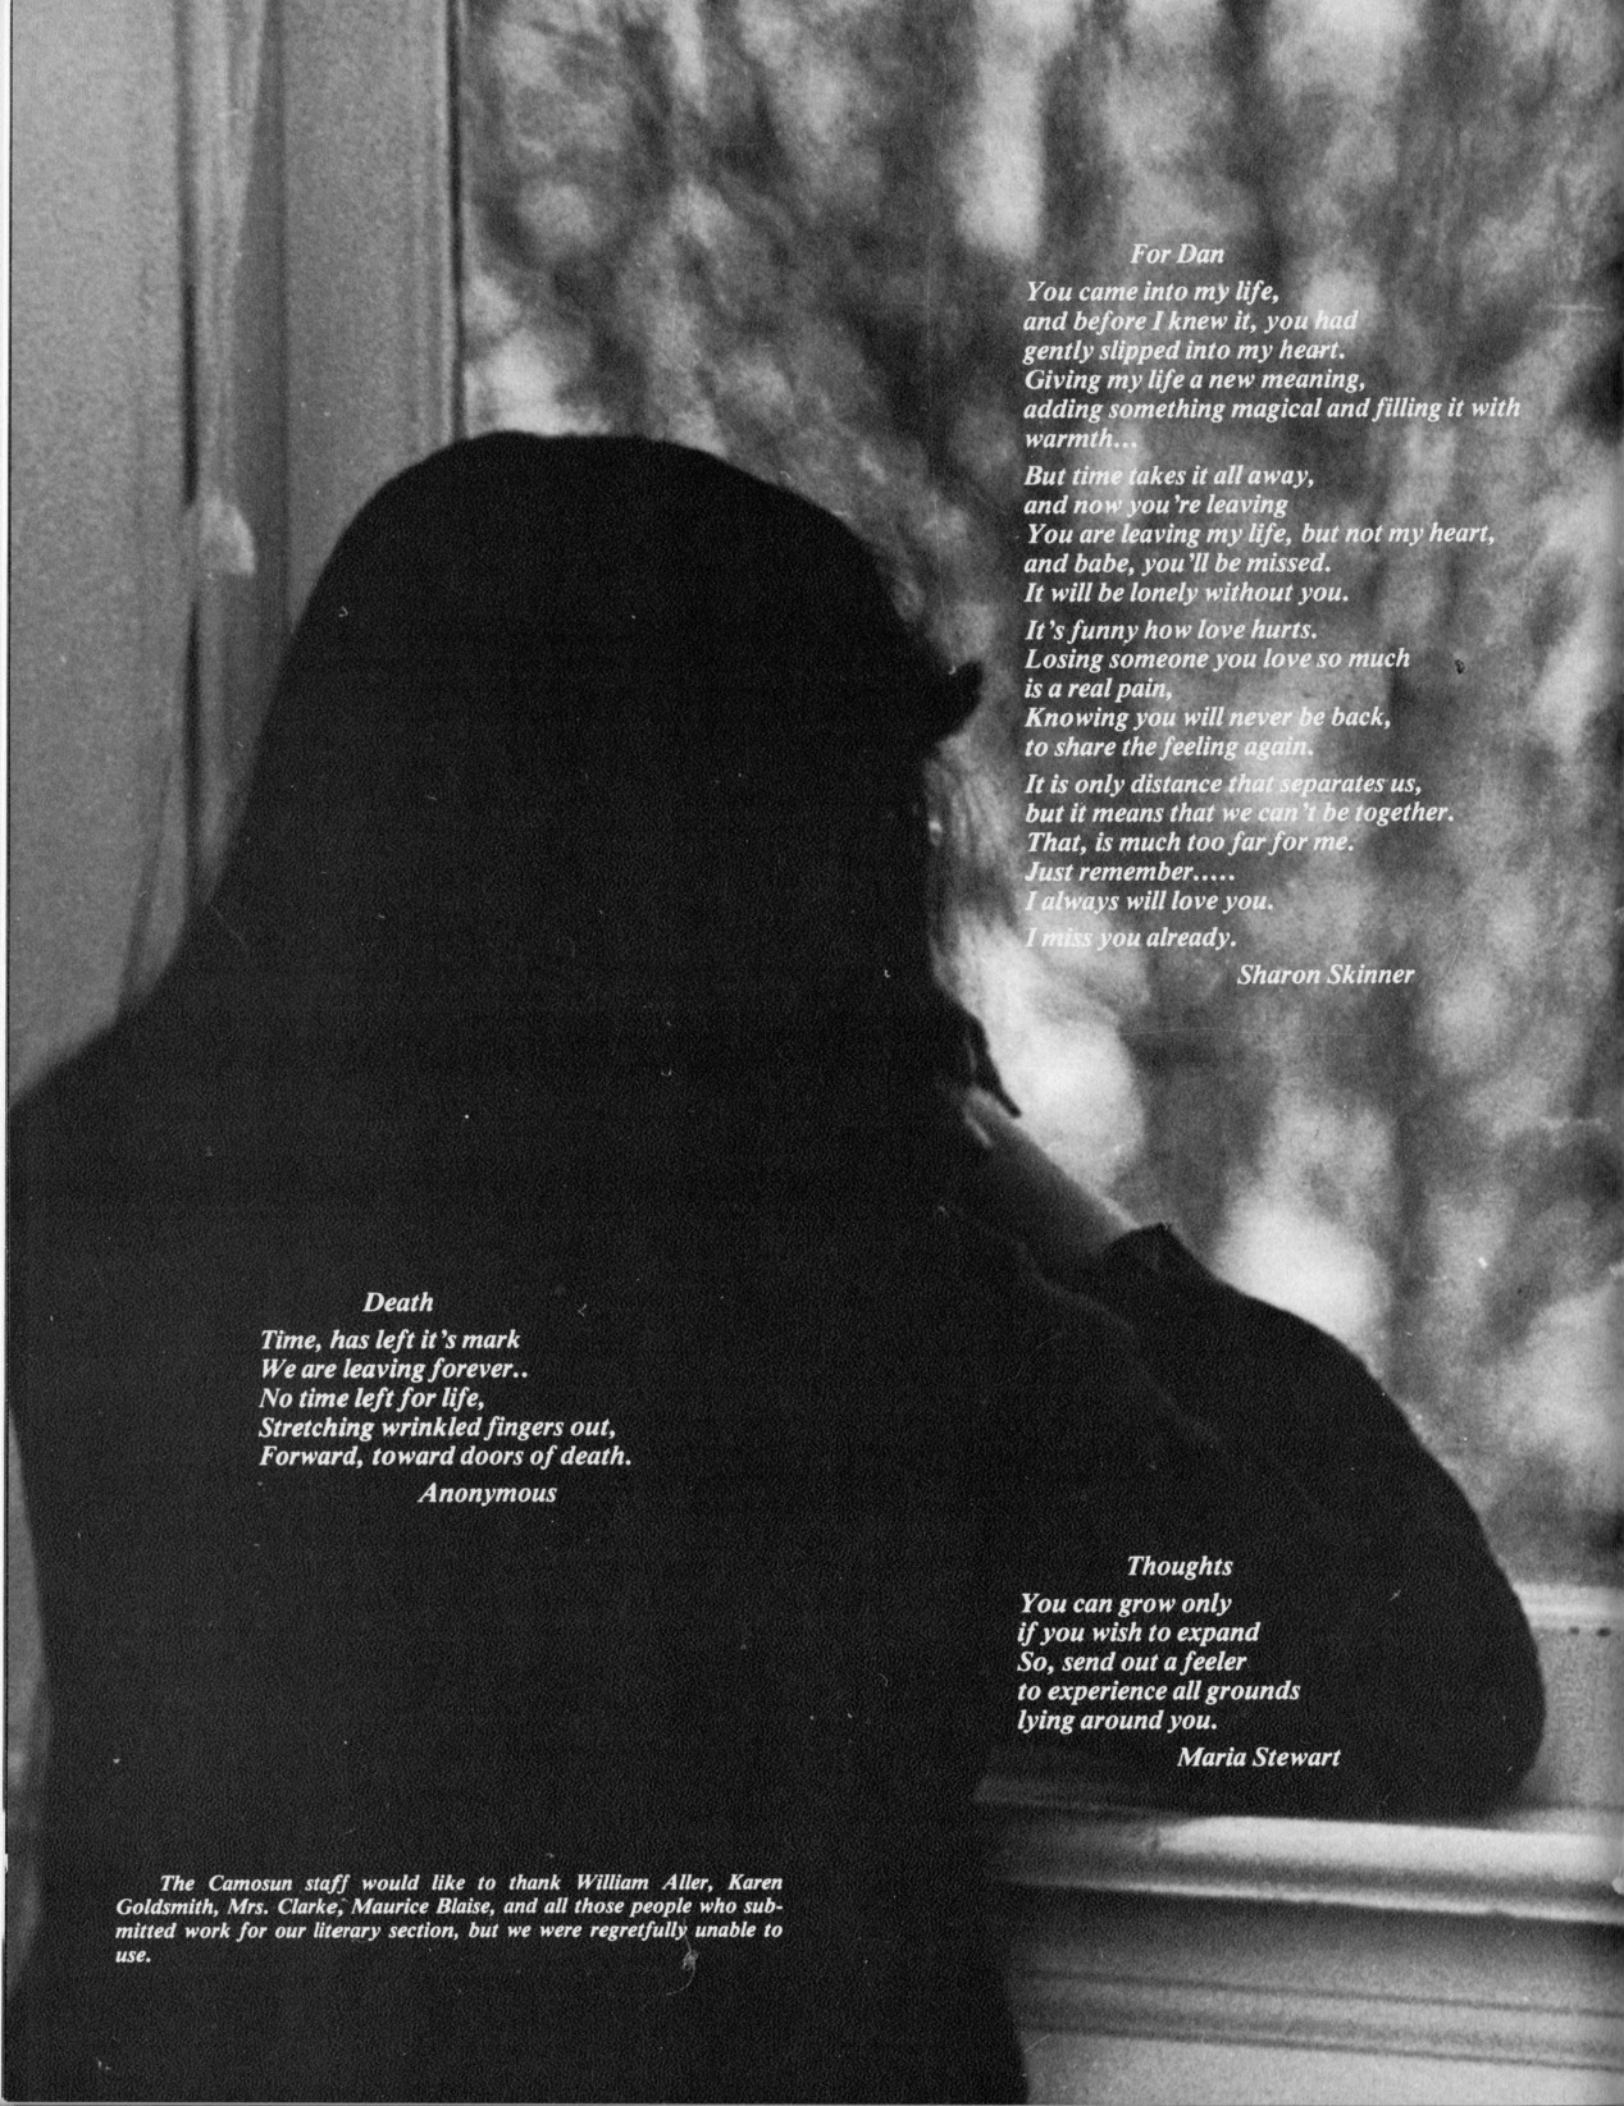
The past begets the present; that's what it's for
This century we had a new phrase, called it World War
When the first one was over, money did we spend
But the Stock Market crashed — time for History's End

The Thirties were depressing, some people once said
In the decade that followed, these people were dead
By the Fifties we knew that war was sure cold
What justice or meaning did Vietnam hold?

A man has spent twelve years getting an education
A gift for the future, despite the frustration
He's seen what has happened, what's around the bend
Part of it now-free to write his story's end

The Eighties are for those going, and those soon to leave
To begin a slow start, though soon to achieve
But keep that same pace, look ahead, watch behind
Our turn — Let's do it right, so it's peace that we'll find

DAVID HUME



For Dan

You came into my life, and before I knew it, you had gently slipped into my heart.
Giving my life a new meaning, adding something magical and filling it with warmth...

But time takes it all away, and now you're leaving
You are leaving my life, but not my heart, and babe, you'll be missed.
It will be lonely without you.

It's funny how love hurts.
Losing someone you love so much is a real pain,
Knowing you will never be back,
to share the feeling again.

It is only distance that separates us, but it means that we can't be together.
That, is much too far for me.
Just remember.....
I always will love you.

I miss you already.

Sharon Skinner

Death

Time, has left it's mark
We are leaving forever..
No time left for life,
Stretching wrinkled fingers out,
Forward, toward doors of death.

Thoughts

You can grow only if you wish to expand
So, send out a feeler to experience all grounds lying around you.

Maria Stewart

The Camosun staff would like to thank William Aller, Karen Goldsmith, Mrs. Clarke, Maurice Blaise, and all those people who submitted work for our literary section, but we were regretfully unable to use.

Sunday

"Twas Sunday night, and all the through the house,
not a creature was stirring not even a louse.

The garbage was stacked at the back door with care,
And the windows were open
To let in fresh air.

The empties were collected from round the front room,
And out came the vacuum
Dust pan and broom.

The dishes were washed
in a whirl of haste,
Moldy food was thrown out
My God what a waste.

Upstairs and the hall were slightly demolished
But the bathtub was scrubbed
And the countertops polished.

The laundry was piled by the washer and dryer
And you could still smell the smoke from the disasterous fire.

Some orange juice was spilled on the living room rug
More was dropped there than left in the jug.

Cigarette butts were found beneath the green chair
Along with dust balls
And old grey cat hair.

The coffee table was wiped clear of debris
And erased from the dust was the sign "wash me".

Mom and Dad came home from holidays that night
And were relieved to see not too bad a sight.

Will they go again
We'll hope and we'll pray
Then we can party again
All night and all day.

Corinne Alexander

Feelings

You left me there, freezing, by myself.

Then, you came to me,
come inside, its warm.

I did, and you laughed,
Go fool, be off.

I left, and I cried,
by myself, doomed.

My bones, like ice,
my skin like fire.

Blame your troubles on me, go ahead, you need someone.

You said that you needed me, or do you just pretend?

I give up,
go ahead hate me.

Hate is so strong,
I am but a weakling.

But I don't need you,
and then you ask why.

Why? You are the fool,, my dear friend, you!

I am leaving you,
Forever.....

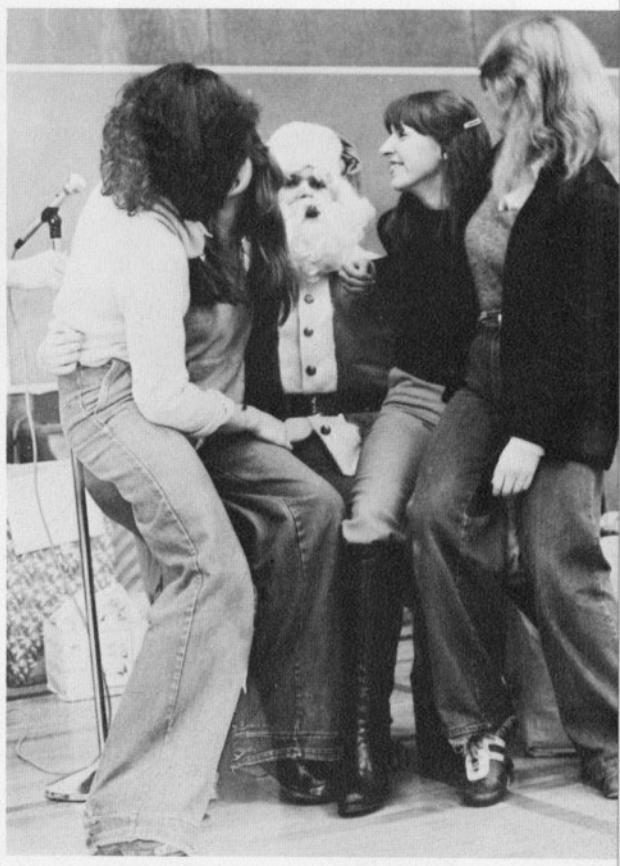
"When did Gordon grow a stache?"

The shadow knows

Being at Central was a major setback for parliament's ability to get student activities organized. There were literally none to speak of, except the campaigning for Prime Minister in September, and of course Hallowe'en dress-up day in October. Christmas (at Vic High) brought us a visit from Santa Claus, and an afternoon of music from the band. The beginning of the year has definitely been a poor one for activities.

"On the first date? Never!"

"Six cases of what?!"



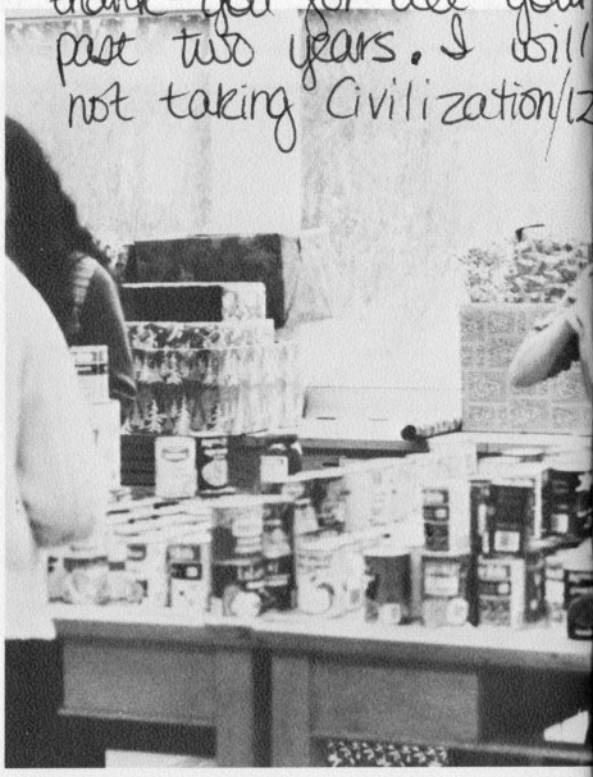
"If Mrs. Claus could see me now!"

Play that funky music 'white' boys...

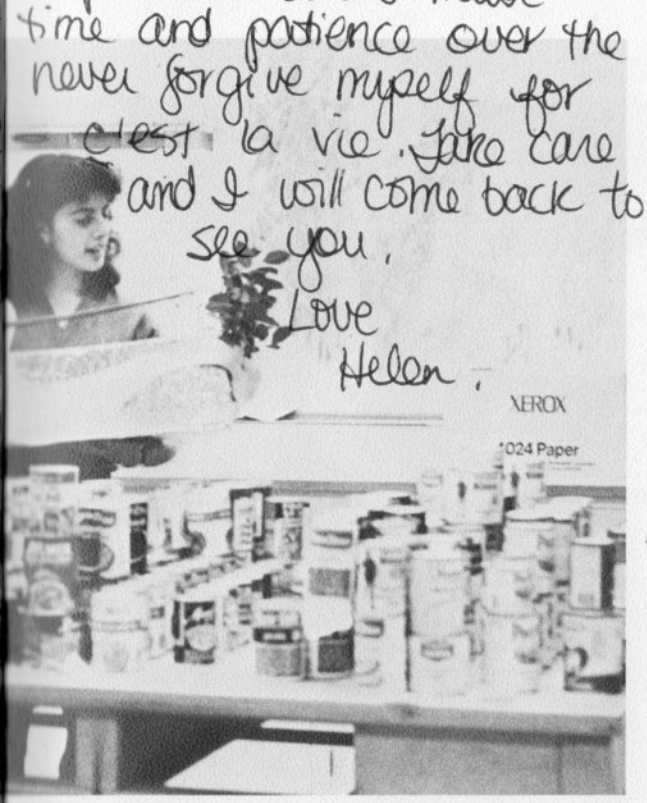
Since we've been back at Vic High, Parliament has been organizing many more activities. A lot of us were involved with the toy and hamper drive at Christmas, but that was only the beginning. Since then, we've had a concert with Tom Middleton, we hopped and bopped at a 50's day dance, we went mad at a Midnight Madness skating party, we saw the Drama Club's production of "Eat Your Heart Out", we held a Battle of the Sexes (with the boys victorious), and have had numerous special days such as Hat, Tie and T-shirt Day, St. Patrick's Green Day (and dance), and Vic High black and gold Day. There's been a lot of enthusiasm, but we're saving our energy for THE event of the year.... Vic High's Circus '80.

"You can't skate?!"

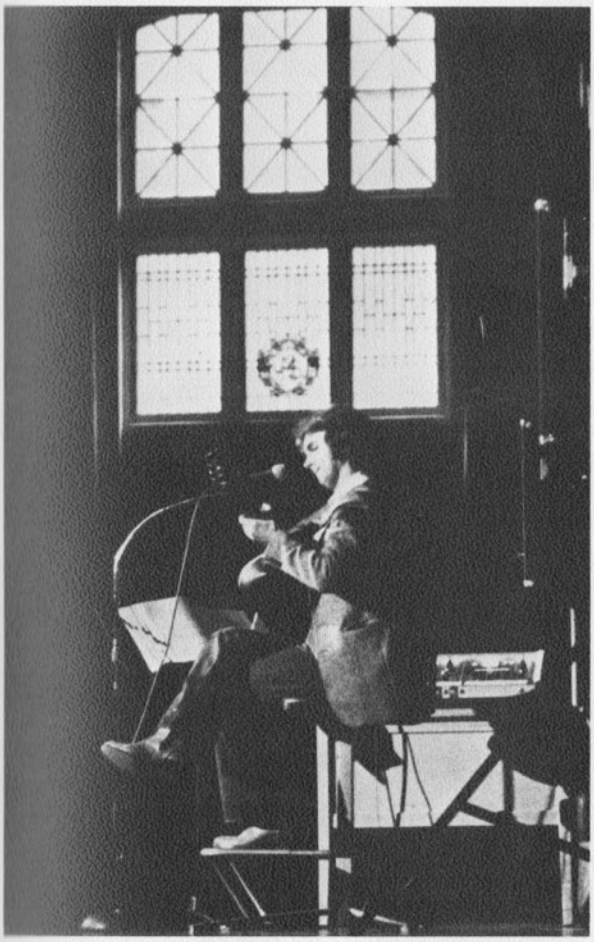
A friend in need...



"We'll never do it!"



Hamper Drive '80



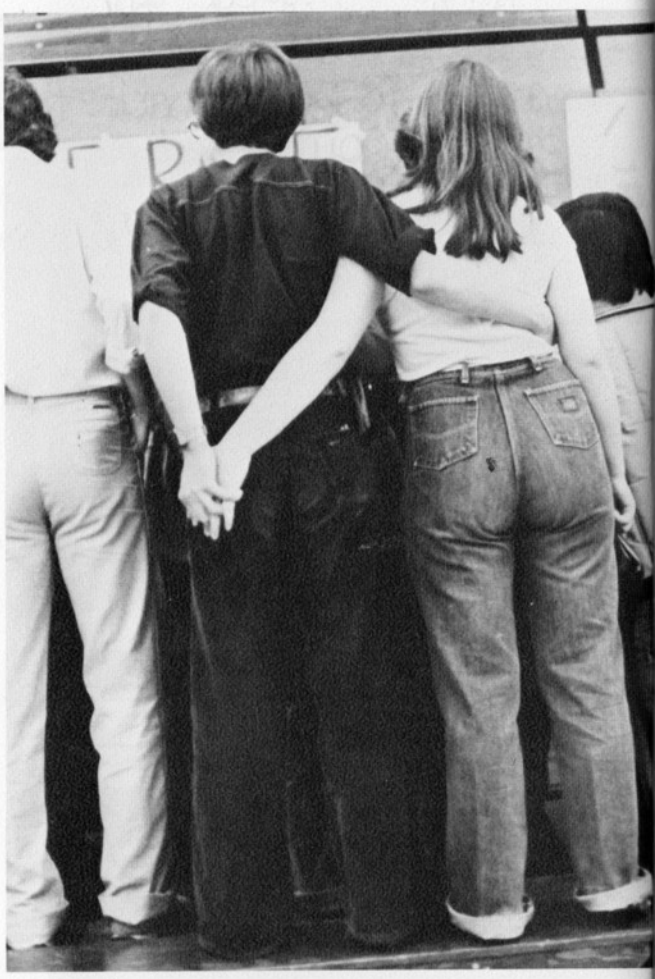
Solemn Solitude

Sweet and what?

Hoppin' an' a boppin'.

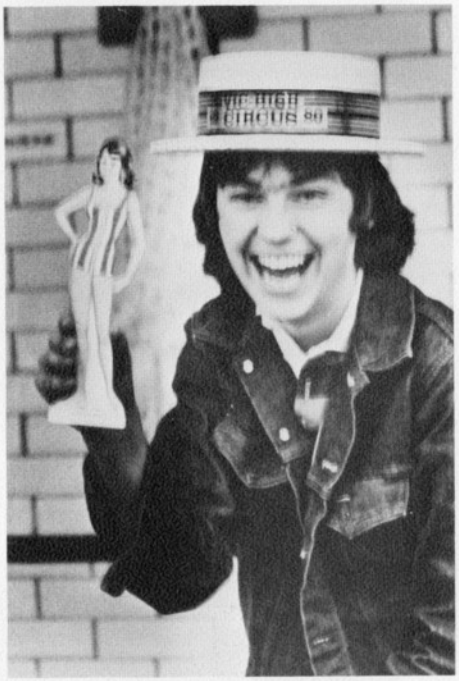
CIRCUS 1980

Everything you never knew you wanted.

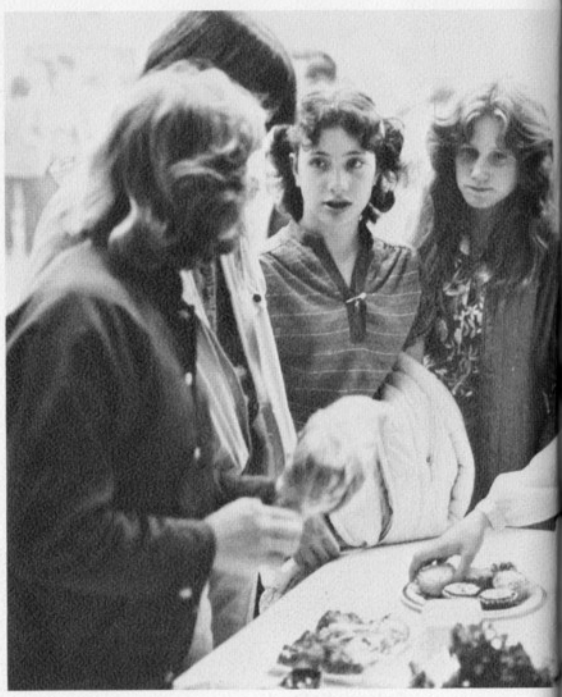


That's entertainment!

"Your future is dim; get out of my light."



"Look what I won mommie!"



"Is that to eat here or to go?"

"Go easy on the soap."

Gordon gets his just desserts.

Mr. Higgs draws a winner.

Swabbing the deck.

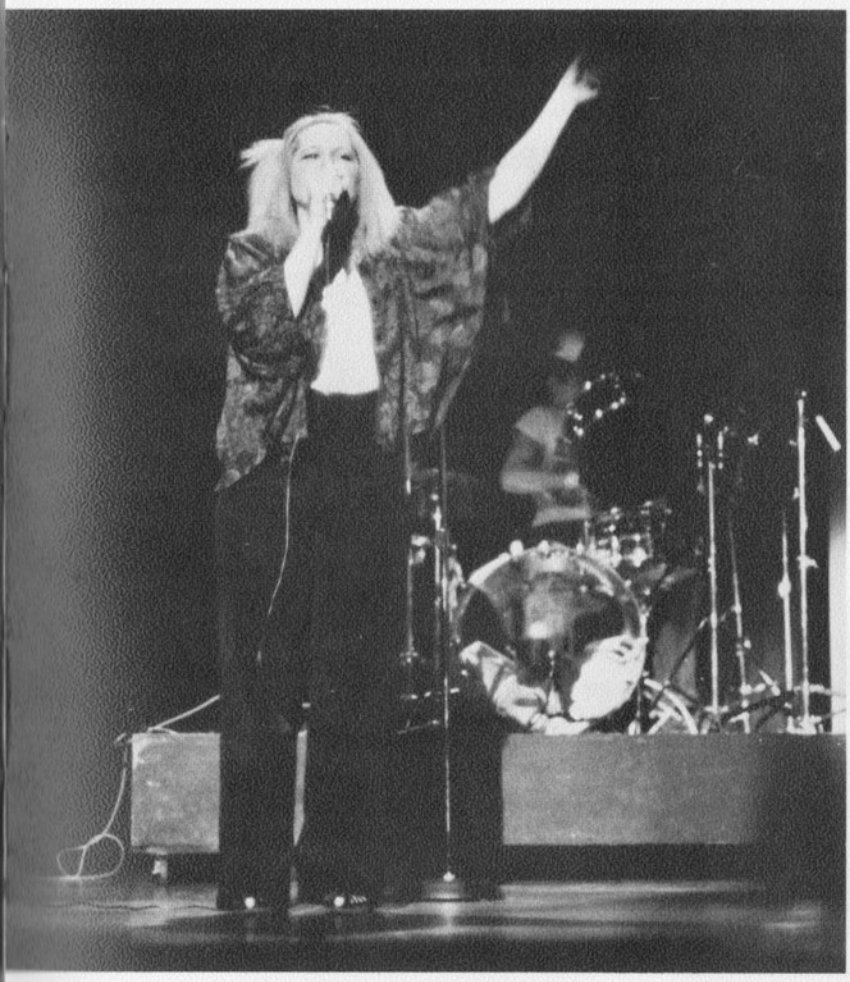
The show must go on....eventually.

Daniela sings the blues.

Bach and his woodwind band.

WANDERING

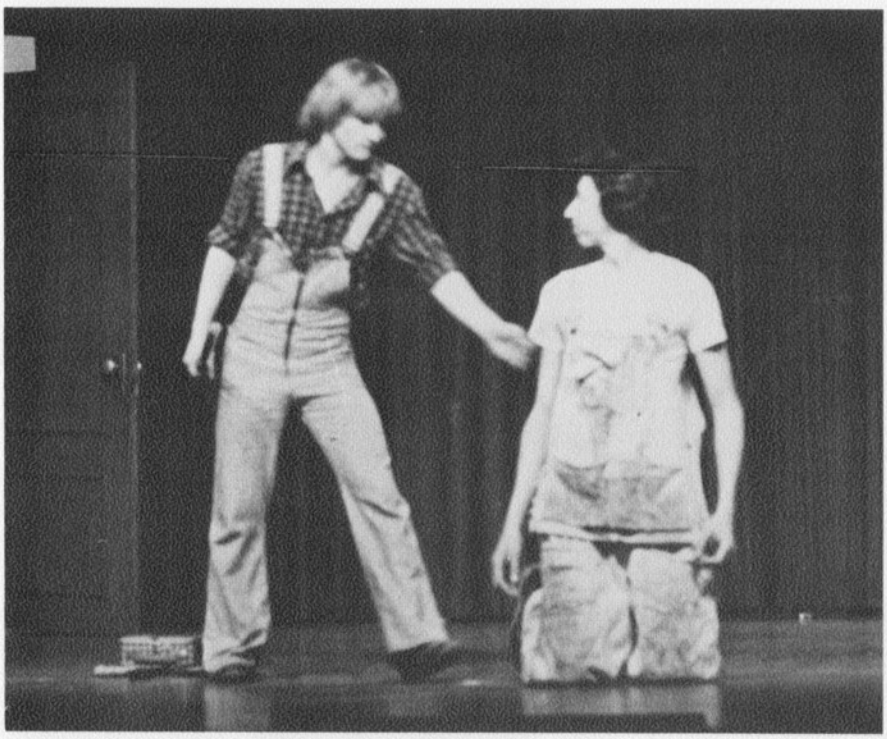
Bill Thwaites; the big wheel.



"Hark: the sound of distant drumming!"

"I don't do this just for kicks."

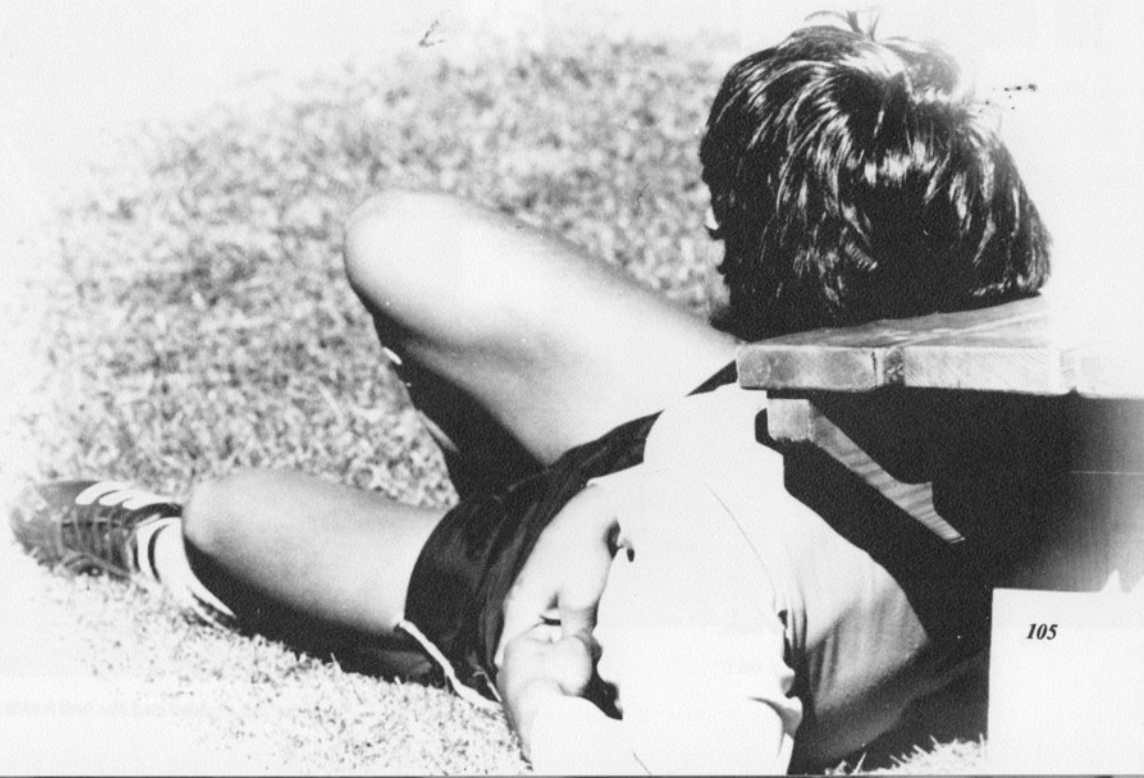
Is it live, or is it John Kowalski?



The odd couple.

We advance, we perfect, but does anything ever really change?

Sports at Vic High are a very exciting matter indeed. Not only do we have our guys regaining the city title in soccer, but we also have our girl's field hockey team going to England to bat around their grass hockey balls on foreign soil (!). (I wish I could go along with them.) We have everything in sports this year, ranging from swimming, to volleyball, to basketball, to sports which I never knew were even in existence!



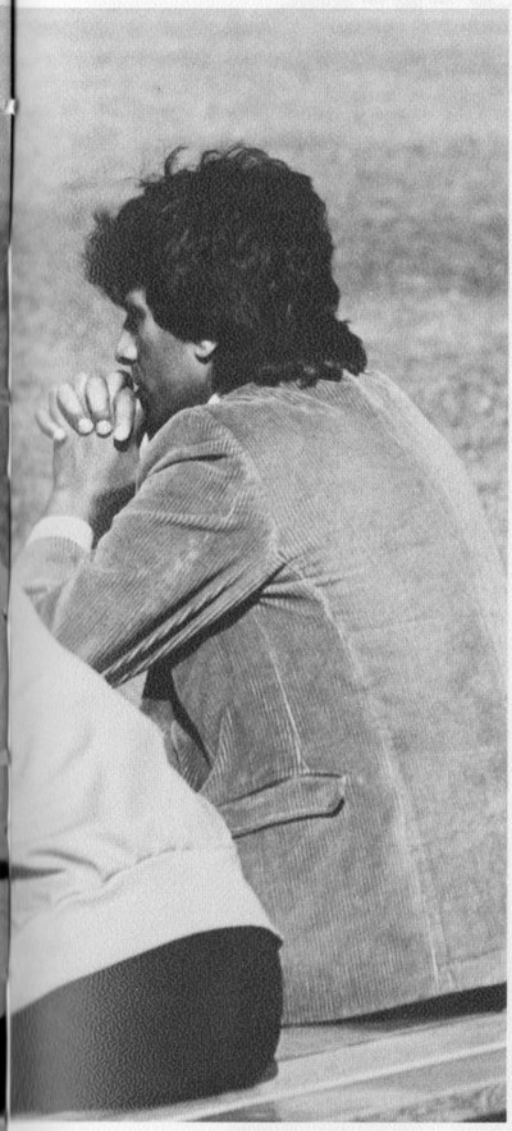
Great Season For Tyees!

The Vic High Tyees, led by coach Jindy Johl had one of their best seasons in a number of years, finishing second only to the Mount Douglas Thistles in league play. The players included:
Front Row (L-R): Randy Bell, Clark Austin, Don Barnes, Albert Pascuzzi, Matt Montgomery.
Middle Row(L-R): Paul Russell, Dallas Moen, Dave Carlyle, Rick Roodbol, Paul Sapsford, Antonio Nogueira.
Back Row (L-R): Paul Askew, Bill Williams, Bill Hayman, Jindy Johl.

Missing: Steve Dietrich, Dennis Johnson.

"Hmmm...nice bum."

"...third lap around and the ball holds a solid lead..."



"Please God, just one lousy win."

"Anybody know what color we're cheering for?"

Fancy footwork.

"This is what we do for kicks."

SPORTS

Tyees regain city title with Johl in new role

Jubilant Vic High Tyees celebrate victory in Colonist Cup final

That's telling 'em!

The Tyees reaped their revenge on the Thistles on November 9, 1979 when they defeated the defending champions 1-Nil in a superb night game to regain the city championship and the Colonist Cup. Dennis Johnson scored the winning goal with 10 minutes left in the game, sending the many Tyee fans into a state of euphoria. It was the Tyees first Colonist Cup win since 1977.

Vigorous Victors

"We're sure to score with two balls."

Follow the bouncing ball.

Trying Year For Tikis

The Tikis managed to place fourth in the city standings this year, but due to a plague of injuries and mishaps they were unable to compete in the Island championships. (Maybe next year girls.) The team consisted of;
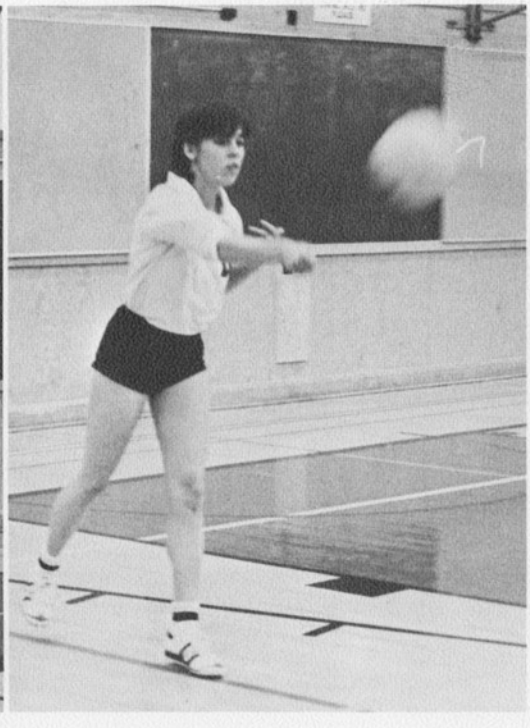
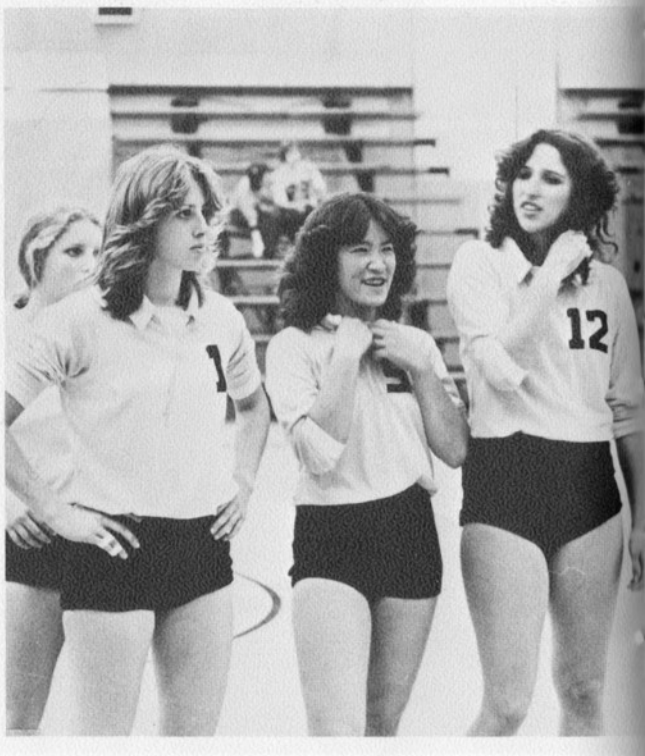
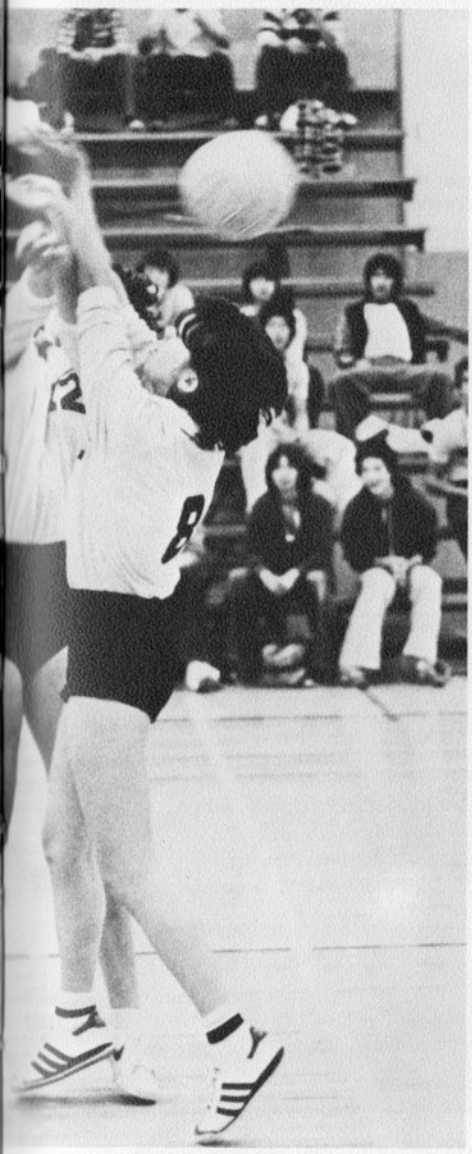
Back Row (L-R): Sherry Hunt, Gabriela Premat, Wendy Low, Lou-Ann Glendale, Maureen Wong, Marilyn Hunt, Mrs. Egan.



Bending over backwards to help the team.



"Best player award....ME?"

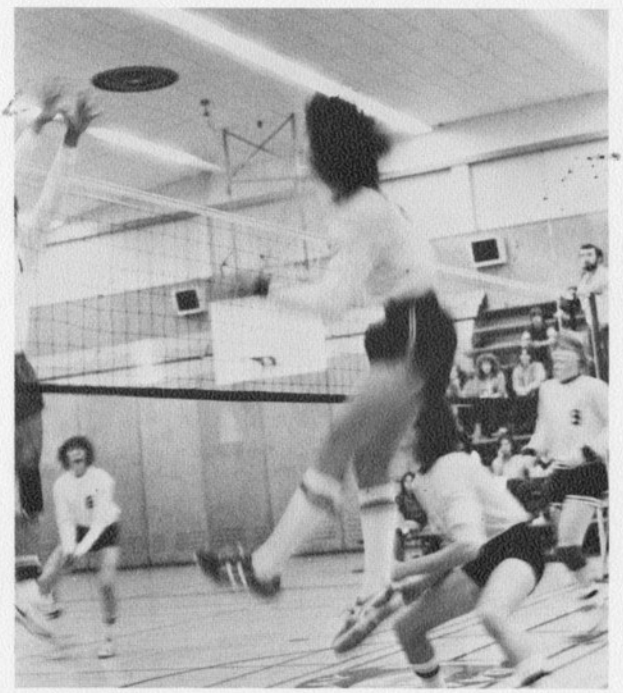


"The ball...it's getting away!"

Very Successful Year For Tsasquatches

Under the coaching of Mr. Blasner the Tsasquatches managed an impressive 9 and 6 record in season games. They won the Thunderbird Tournament in Duncan for the second year in a row, then ploughed their way right into the Island Championships. (Keep up the good work guys.) This year's team included;
Front Row (L-R): William Ng, Damon Jones, Jason Leong, Gary Fleetwood, Peter Ko.
Back Row (L-R): Peter Smith, Russell Yan, Jack Leong, Tim Lo, Tony Anderson, Rick Crosby (coach).

"...we're NOT skiing?"



Frisbee?!

Terrific Season for Tomahawks

The girl's field hockey team fared quite well this year placing in a fairly respectable position in league play. Under the lead of Miss Hanslip, they then went on to compete in the Island Championships, again placing well. With all but one of the girls in grade twelve this year, it may make for an interesting season next year. We'll just have to wait and see. This year's team included:

...and the race is on...

As we go to press, the girls are thrashing field hockey balls and living it up in England. They learned that nothing comes free however, when they earned roughly seventeen thousand dollars toward their trip through such laborious means as delivering telephone books, catalogues, election fliers (20,000!), and whatnot, the sale of perishables, carwashes, and more.

Ever wonder why they call her 'Wild Woo'?

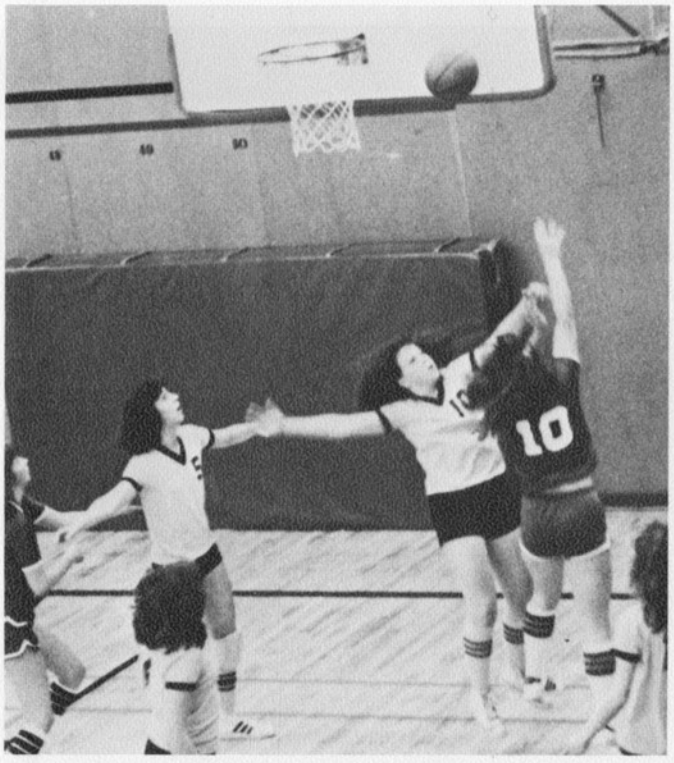
Face off.

"A little more to the right."

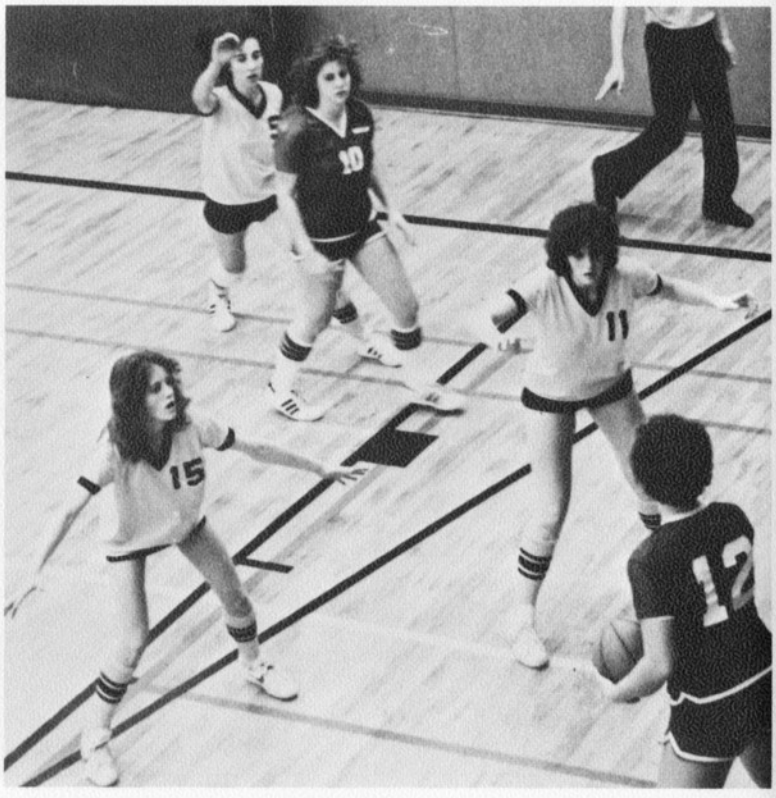
"Okay ladies, here's the plan..."

Tigers Really Roaring

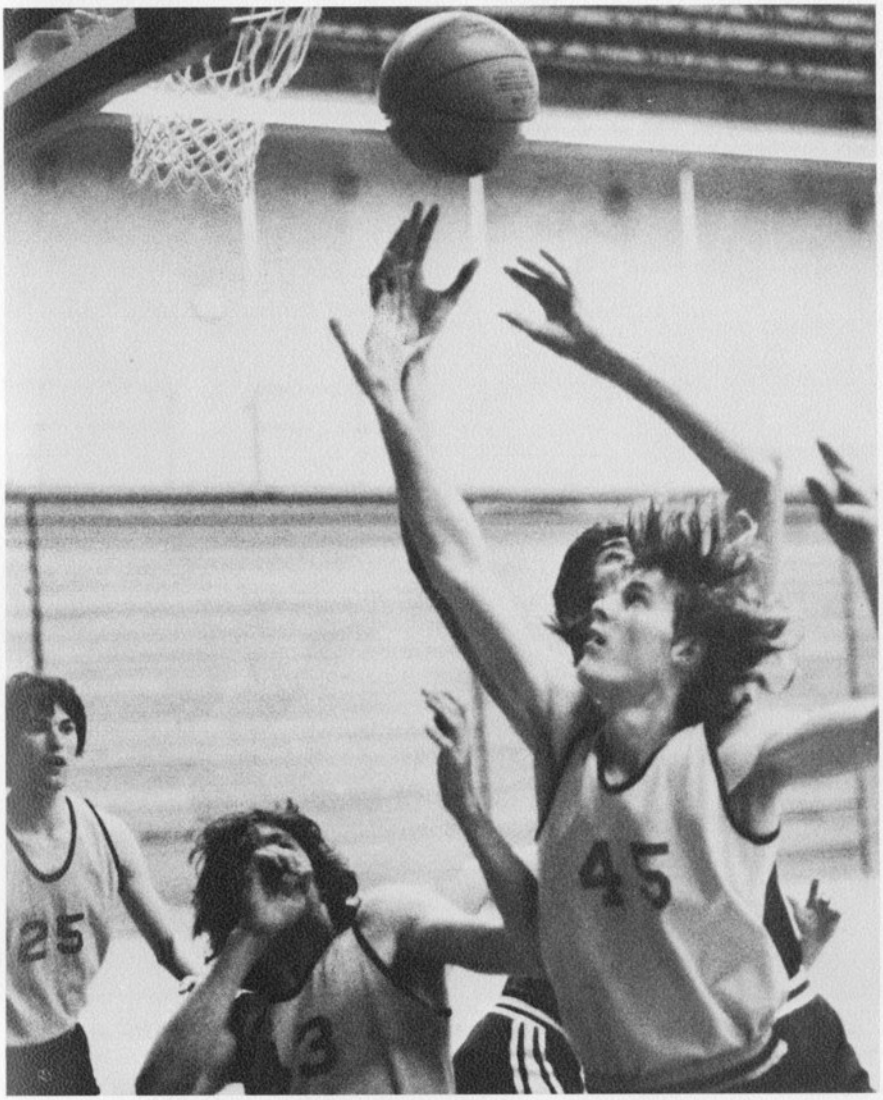
The Girls' Basketball team, the Tigers, had a good season this year. The girls placed respectably in the city standings, and fourth in the Lower Island competition. They finished sixth in the Island Finals, and just missed qualifying for the B.C. Finals.
Back Row (L-R): Miss Hanslip (coach), Cathy Bates, Linda Shiplack, Brigid Flynn, Roberta Bennett, Sylvia Butler, Sue Miles, Carolyn Taylor. Front Row (L-R): Kerry Hodgkinson, Marilyn Wilson.



Stand back everybody.



Two on one.



Smooth Move.

Totems Reap Terror

After grabbing second position in league play with a 6 and 4 record, the Totems then went straight to the Island Championships where they grabbed fourth place, trailing only Nanaimo, Courtenay, and Cowichan. A special congratualtions goes to Paul Russell who was selected to the second all star team. The team consisted of:

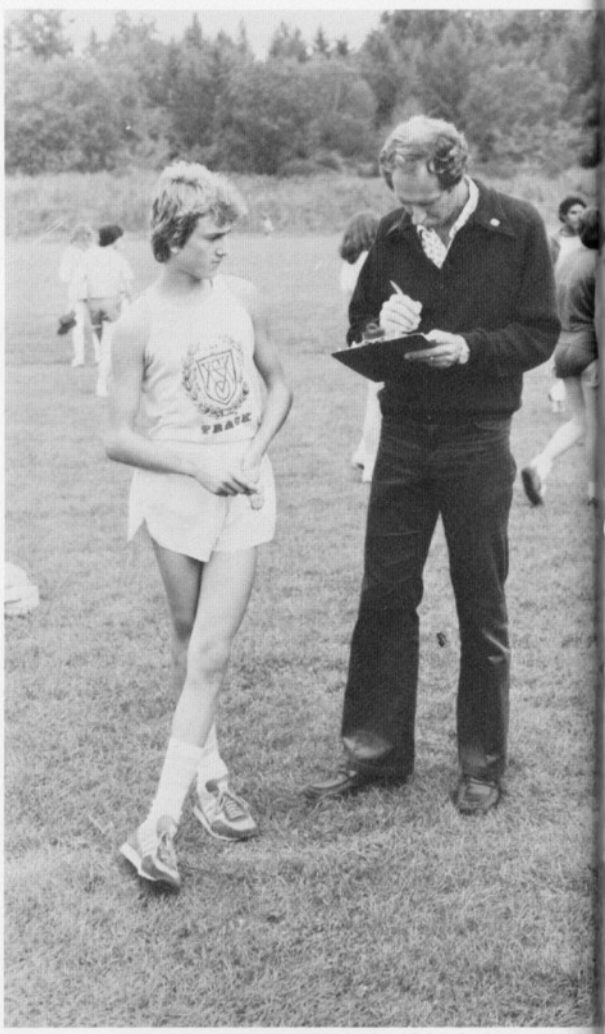
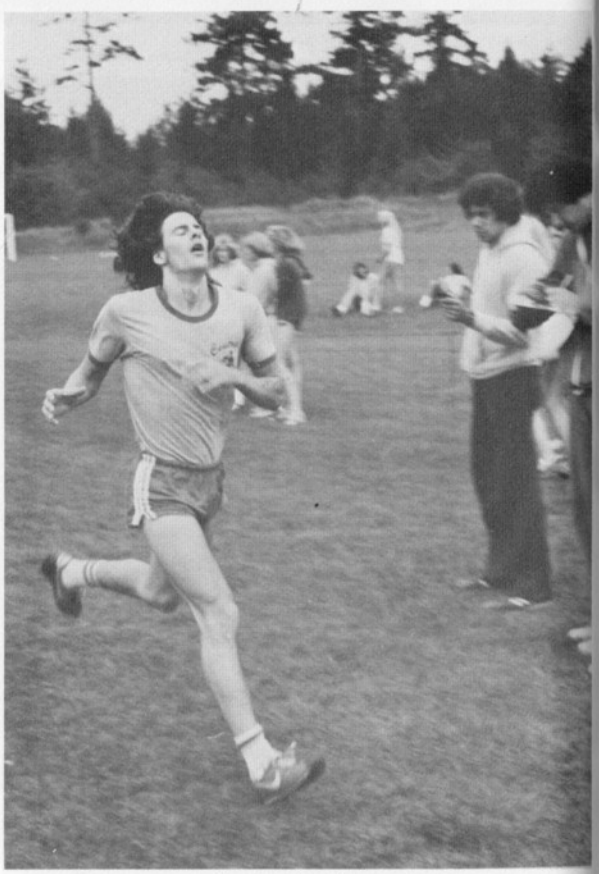
Swim Team

The swim team operated this year despite a lack of pool time in the autumn due to the shift schedule with Central. The team entered the Island Championships after only one workout, but showed well against the other teams. Wayne Kelly won the major boys' individual award, and in the Novice Meet in January the team did well placing third out of ten schools. We look forward to a very successful 1980-81 season. The team included: Mr. Somers (coach), Mr. Packford (coach), Keith Beckett, Dan Salmon, Reinhard Lauser, Colleen Williams, Teresa Shields, Dorothy MacDonald, Glen Wright, Rob Grant, Paul Gaudet, Jim Connor, Keith Kresse, Shelley Wardrobe, Angela Morgan, Tina Bailey.



"Make it fast Newell, I gotta go!"

"I don't want to get my jeans wet."



Another few foots to go.

Cross Country Team

Both the Boys and the Girls Cross Country teams did fairly well this year under the direction of their coach, Mr. Newell. The Girls' team finished third overall in city competition while the Boys' team won their league. Dick DeGoede finished third in the standings and teammate Ray Greenwood finished sixth. The teams went to the Island Meet where the boys jogged to fourth place finish and the girls raced to second place. At the B.C. finals however, both teams finished tenth.

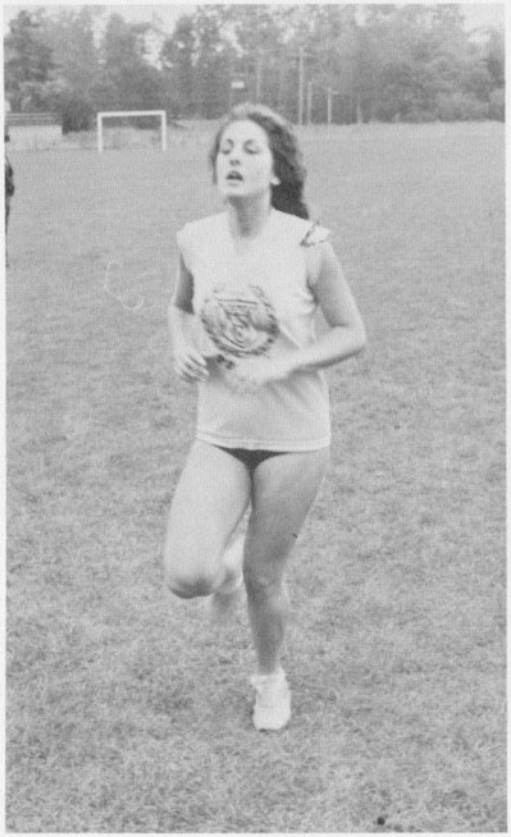
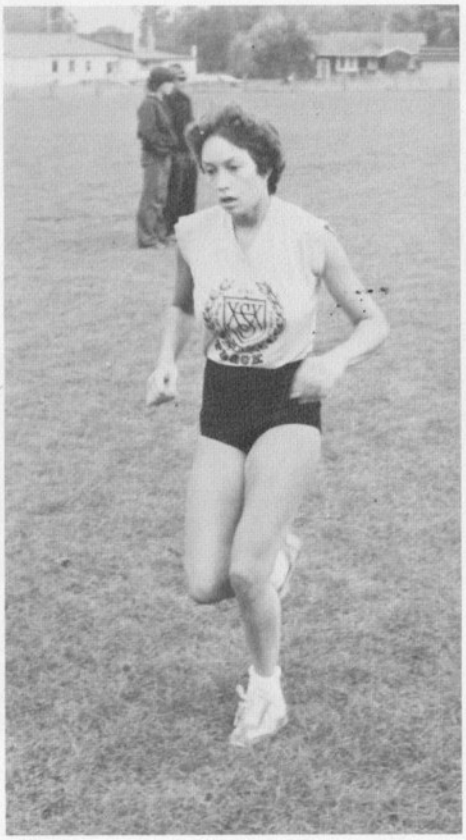
This...



...is...



...tiring!

Track and Field

The Track and Field season didn't start until April, too late for us to have a complete report on the team. We're sure that our competitors vaulted to new heights during the season. Mr. Newell was looking forward to the new season and we are sure his athletes were too.

Boys' Field Hockey

The Boys' Field Hockey season was just getting started as we went to press, so we really don't know how well the boys did. We are sure, however, that under the expert coaching of Miss Hanslip the boys came out of the Tomahawks' shadow and had an excellent season.

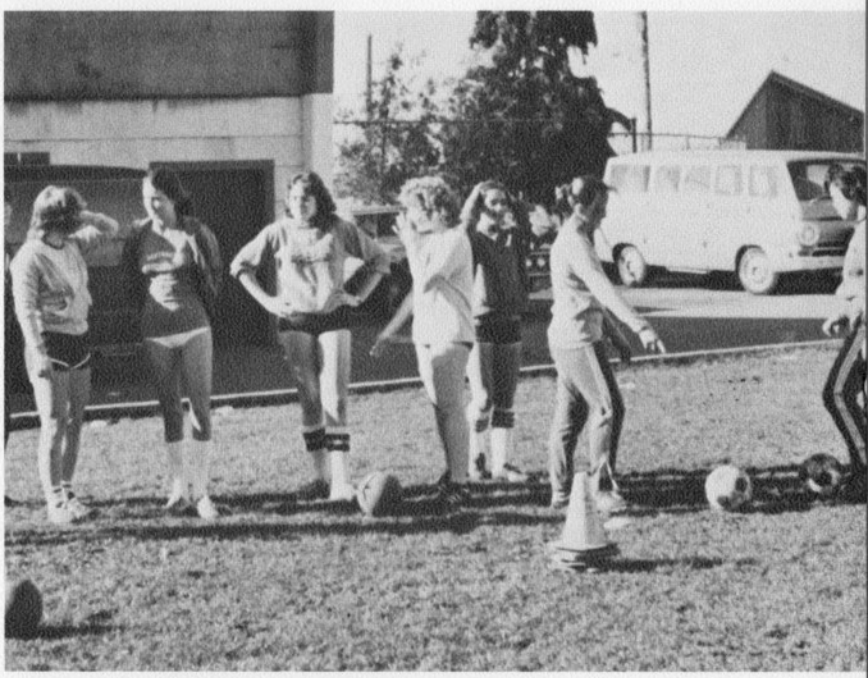
Rugby

The Rugby team was the only major disappointment in sports this year. Although there was a good turnout of players at the beginning of the year, the number of boys participating dropped continually. Because of this and other factors, including injuries, lack of fan support, and just plain old bad luck, the team was reluctantly disbanded after only four games. We thank the team for trying, for giving it their best shot. Although this year's team was not a success, they played despite all the obstacles they were facing, which is what the spirit of our school is all about. Thanks, guys.

Badminton

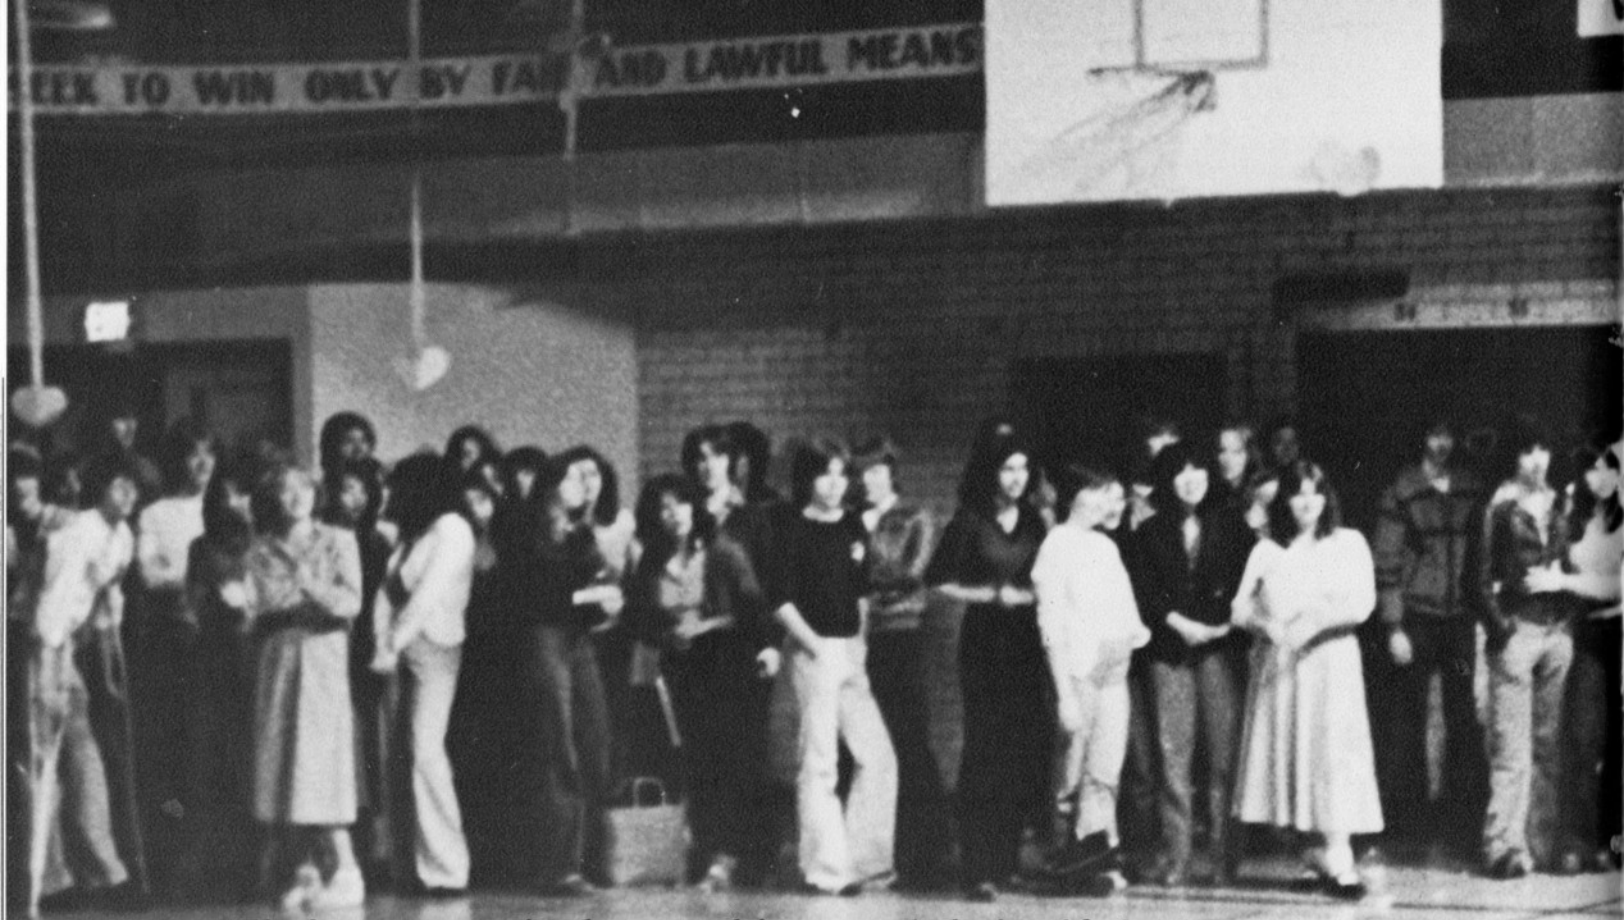
The badminton team had a very successful season this year picking up 18 of 22 possible points, but fell just short of qualifying for the B.C. Championships by placing third in the city standings. This year's team was composed of:
Back row (L-R): Paul Modos, Wai Chow, Jack Leung, Kerry Hodgkinson, Jason Leung, Anna Yong, Trevor Strandlund, Karl Thul, Mr. Higgs.
Front row (L-R): Gina Henley, Maureen Wong, Carol Jones, Wendy So, Paula Chan.

You can't catch a plane that way.



Girls' Soccer

The Girls' soccer team was just getting under way as we went to press so we were unable to give any records for them. We wish them the very best of luck this season, and sincerely hope that they will do their part to maintain this school's standards of excellency.



Their concern is the sunshine, and their gift is the feed that makes the flower grow.

Vic High Band and Chorus

The Vic High Music Department was made up of seventy students; thirty Concert Band members and forty Chorus members.

The highlight of this year's activities was of course the tour of Oregon and California culminating with our concert at Disneyland. A great deal of fund raising was necessary to help finance the trip and a lot of time and hard work was devoted by many people to make the trip such a great success.

The musical activities this year included concerts at Central Jr., McPherson Theatre, Oak Bay and Vic High. The band led the "March Back" to Vic High last November and participated along with the choir in the Christmas assembly. The Music Festival and Recruiting concerts at four elementary schools in the area kept everyone busy until the end of the year. A Jazz Band was formed and practiced before and after school.

The young ladies and gentlemen of the Music Department, under the leadership of Chorus President Daniela Perusi and Band President Carol Jones, the valuable assistance of Manager Mr. Higgs and the hard work of dedicated parents have made my first year at Victoria High School most enjoyable.

Outdoors Club

The Outdoors Club was involved with the development of outdoor skills such as canoeing, backpacking, orienteering, camping, wilderness survival, etc. The club usually had a trip about every two months though they did have other activities such as a basic canoe practise at the Crystal Pool once a week for four weeks. They also had a couple of outdoor film sessions. Meetings were called as needed, eg. trip set-ups or purchase of club jackets, etc. This year the club had been to Long Beach, Cowichan Lake, Princess Marguerite Island and finished the year by hiking for a week into Cape Scott. The sponsors were: Mr. B. Somers and Mr. F. Sedgewick.

Dungeons and Dragons

This club was made up of a group of people who like to play D and D. Dungeons and Dragons is a fantasy role playing game where players assume the identities of adventurers in a fantastic land of Magic and Monsters.

They met in Miss Law's room Mondays until four o'clock. All were invited to come and at least have a look at what they did. They had two whole campaigns with their characters and were in the middle of a third one when the yearbook went to press. They also planned to hold a tournament with several other schools.

The students in the club were: Paul Modos (president), John Banky, Dave Clark, Paul Baker, Tim Schauerte and Mike McAleese.

The Time Piece

A small but eager group of students produced our school paper this year, and apparently had a lot of fun doing so. The shift at Central was a major drawback in the production of the Time Piece, but once back at Vic High, production went well. Assisted by the commercial office, they produced the paper on occasions such as Valentines Day, St. Patrick's Day, etc. The members would like to thank Mr. McCarron for his guidance as sponsor. The students were: Teresa Hunter (editor), Sue Moslin, Valerie Hoy, Lisa Thomlinson and Heidi Lambeth.

Drama Club

The Drama Club had another active and successful year in 1979-80. Despite having to rehearse in the bandroom, they produced "Spreading the News" for our Christmas concert, and towed it to S.J. Willis, Lansdowne, and Cedar Hill Junior Secondary schools in December. In March, "Eat Your Heart Out", under the direction of Syd Spencer (V.H.S. Grad. '77), was entered in the Victoria drama festival. A scene was selected for the Festival Showcase, and several individual awards were collected; Colin Heath for most promising performer, Ian Gordon for best supporting actor, and Susie Major was titled best supporting actress. A special assembly on March 20, 1980, gave the whole school a chance to see the play.

Club members ran the food concession in the main hall for three months to raise money so they could attend the B.C. High School Drama Conference in May. At the conference, a serialized version of "Eat Your Heart Out" was very well received.

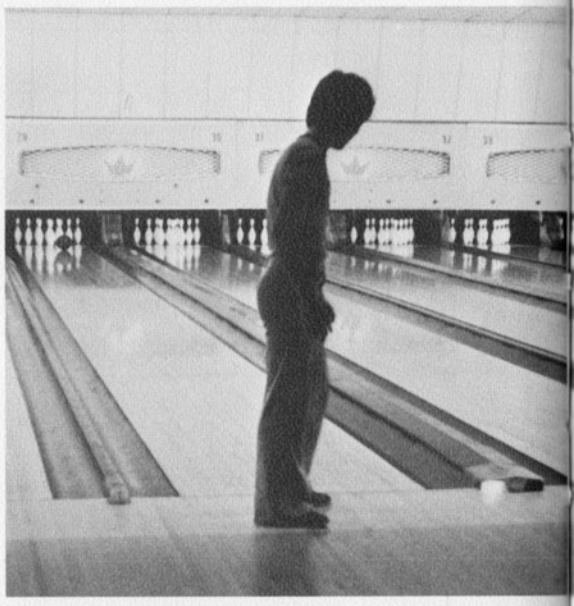
The Circus Variety Show again played to large, enthusiastic houses; (Mr. Johnston said he felt like a one-legged tap dancer). Special thanks to technical director Lyle Fish for handling lighting and sound in all productions.

Christians' Club

The Christians' Club this year met at least once a week throughout the year, and was open to interested people of any faith. Their meetings included Bible study, guest speakers, outside excursions and discussions on the various aspects of Chritianity. The club members would like to thank Mrs. Clarke for her support early in the year. Sponsors: Mr. Kent, Mr. Ashwell. Members: Luke Oldhoff, Debbie Bucholz, Suzanne Cok, Debbie Schoening, Dave Gartshore, Angela Phillips, Ceri Palfrey, Jackie Harper.

Chess Club

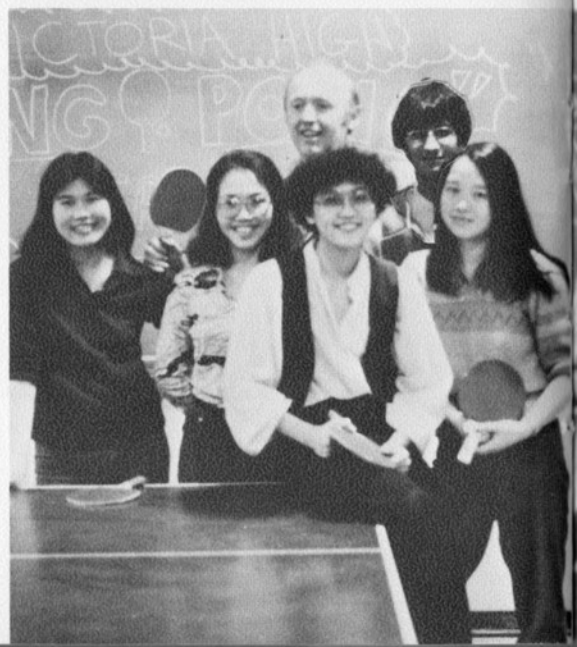
Their meetings every lunch hour to play chess paid off when they won the Victoria and District High School Chess Club Championship with 22 wins 1 draw and 1 loss. This years Chess Club members were: Ian Gordon, Daryl Armstrong, John Banky, Harjit Nandhra, Kelly Lee. Missing members were: Shawn Coates, Ray Greenwood, Tim Lupton, and Geoff Lewis. The sponsor for this years Chess Club was Mr. Chell.



Pro Bowler Tour

Cheerleaders

Rain or shine the girls practised at Vic High while the construction was still going on. They cheered at many games and cheered at a special game in Burnaby. Vic High's Cheerleaders were: Julia Scott, Shelly Avram, Holly Marsh, Lori Maycock, Della Jablonski, Shelly Blasner and Nancy Bates. The sponsor was Mrs. Coburn.



A B C & D Club

Table Tennis Club

Members of the Table Tennis club played a match against Oak Bay and a match against Central. At the time we had gone to press (March) they had decided to sponsor the "Ping Pong Gold Fish Bowl Event" for the Circus. We hope a lot of fish were ponged. Members of the Table Tennis club were: Anna Yong, Jeanette Lum, Irene Yong, Peggy Shum, Ray Greenwood, Warren Chow, Rob Geary and Nandlall Gurprasad. The sponsor was Mr. Ashwell.

Bowling Club

Vic High's bowling club was incorporated as a member of the Inter-High Bowling League. The members spent an enjoyable season bowling against other schools in the league. They would like to thank all those who participated and especially Mrs. Bev Stokes and Mrs. M. King of Mayfair Lanes for all their help.

Library Club

he library club was a helpful and necessary service. These students dedicated their time working behind the counter, checking in and out books to other students and checking in newspapers daily. When they found the time they helped take inventory and make overdue slips. They also performed many small tasks such as preparing new books for evaluation and helped the library run more efficiently. These students rarely met as a group as they were so busy with general daily work. We thank Jeanette Lum and Caroline Graafen, the presidents. We also thank the members; Carol Lum, Debbie Schoening, Julie Sancaster, Gordon Rugh, and Mr. Hopper, the sponsor.

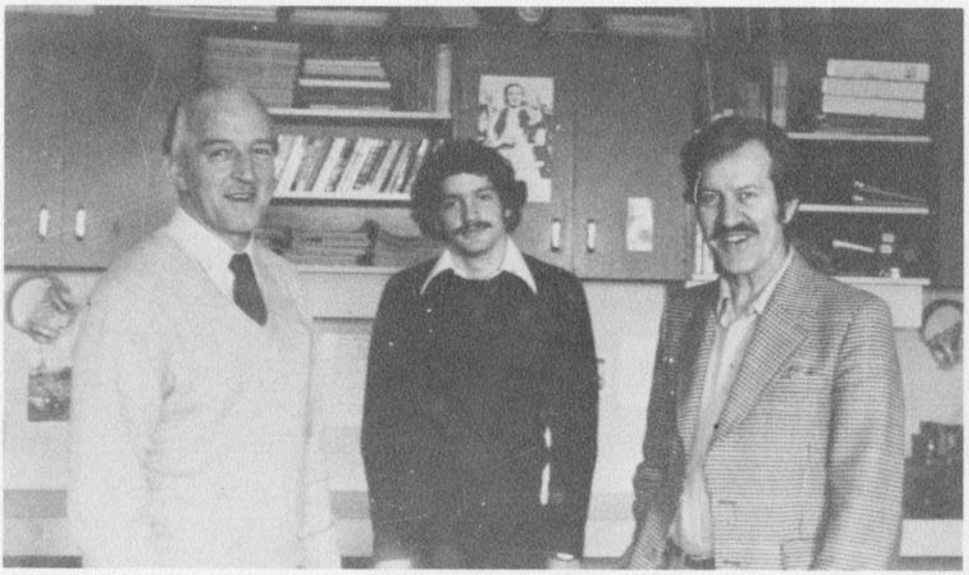
. . . two men in a tub.

Ham Radio Club

The Ham Radio Club was a new addition to the many events in our school. It was too bad that this club had such a bad start when there was no lunch hour at Central during the shift. Even though this club was unorganized, they managed to raise $125.00 by setting up a carwash. Mr. Sinclair sponsored this club. David Moore, the president, Alan Gilmour, the vice-president, Lyle Fish, the treasurer, George Sinclair, the secretary, and Cory Johnston, Ervin Geisiegel and Gurbi Basi contributed their time in creating this club.

S.K.Y. Club

The S.K.Y. Club (Special Kiwanis Youth), also known as Sp-aides, dedicated their time helping the less fortunate. These students arranged toy drives, collected candy for children that were hospitalized at Halloween, arranged the Christmas hamper drive, and held a Bunny raffle for the Lions telethon. Each week, groups of students visited various hospitals on their own time and met every few weeks in room 312. Very special thanks to Mr. McHugh and Mr. Owen for sponsoring this club. The members were Tamara May, Geoff Burns, Laura Marwick, Lisa Tandberg, Cindy Hausen, and Theresa Plaxton. (p.s. We apologize to the Sp-aides for the problems involving their club photo.)



Audio-Visual Club

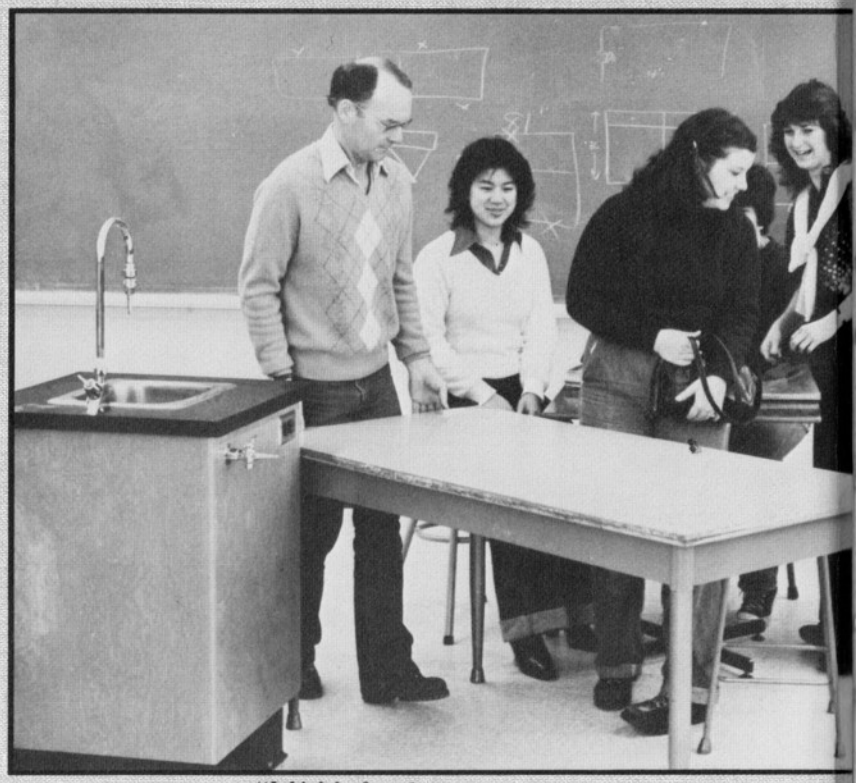
This year the Audio-Visual Club has satisfied the needs of teacher requests for audio-visual equipment. These students were busy taping and ordering as well as looking after requests which took up about five to seven hours a week. Since these students were so busy with other jobs, they met only in the halls as they passed by. The members were Alan Gilmour, the president, David Moore, Steve Sandue, Kenneth Hovgaard, and their sponsor Mr. Kreiser.

Sailing Club

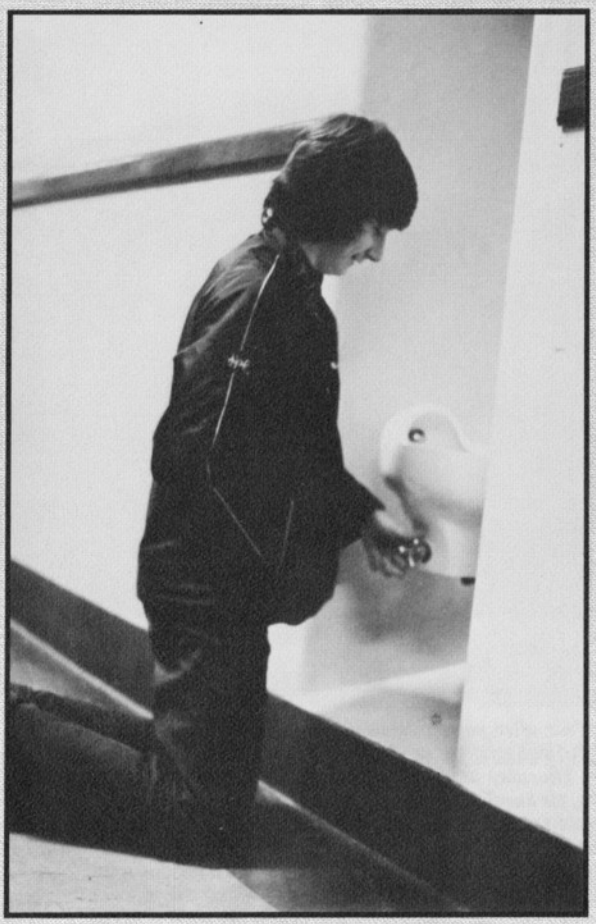
Year after year, interested students of Vic High have been learning the graceful and exciting art of sailing. During the spring and fall, the club met every Thursday at the Oak Bay Marina where they learned to read marine charts, tie knots, and master sailing. Thanks go to Mr. Wickstrom for his nine dedicated years as sponsor for the club.
Members: Paul Modos, Dan Cote, Grace Alexander, Tamara May, Stuart Hall, Simon Dockerill, Terry Mack and Paul Baker.

Perhaps it's time to look ahead as we enter a new decade in an ever changing world.

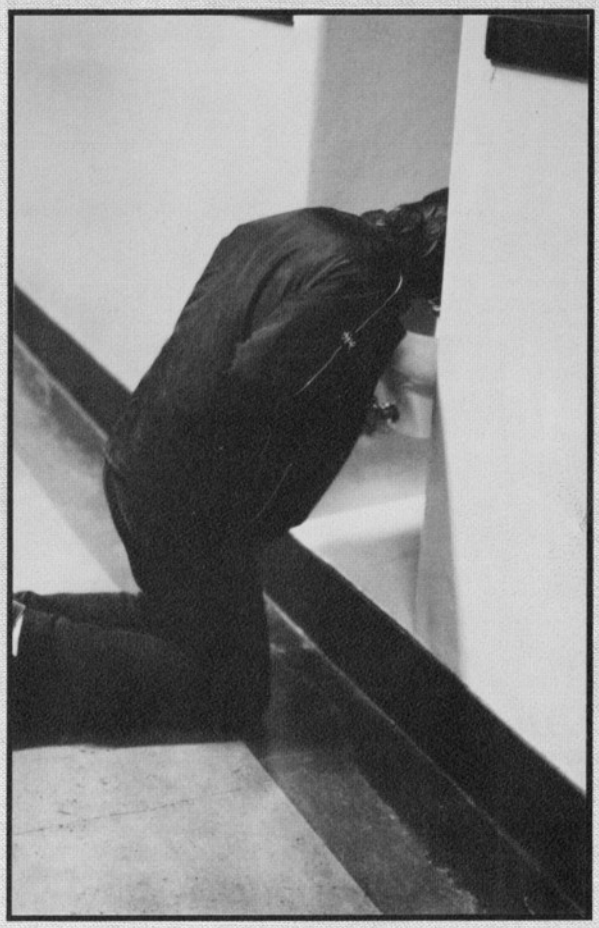
"They wouldn't dare!"



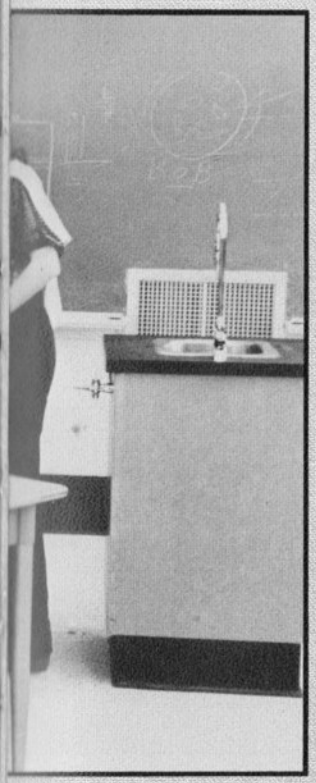
"I think he found my gum."

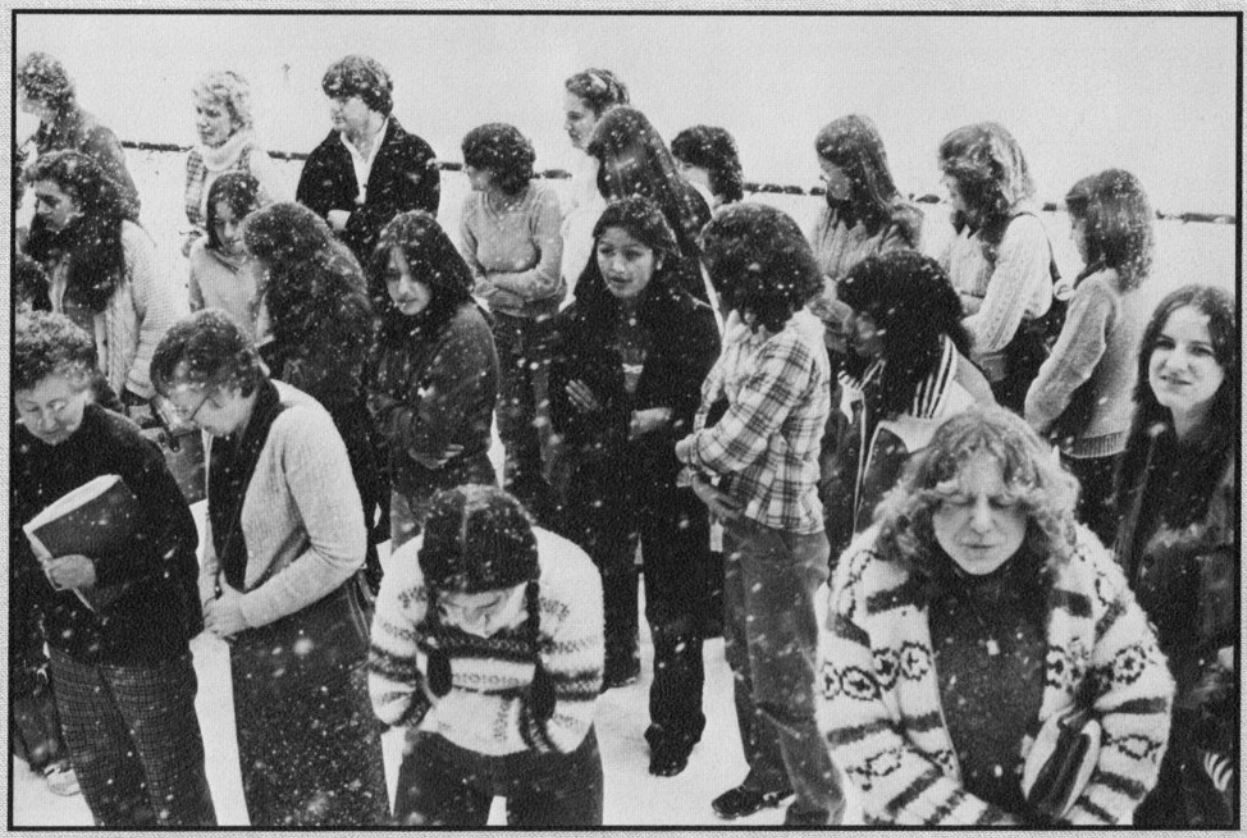


"Aw, who dropped their gum?"

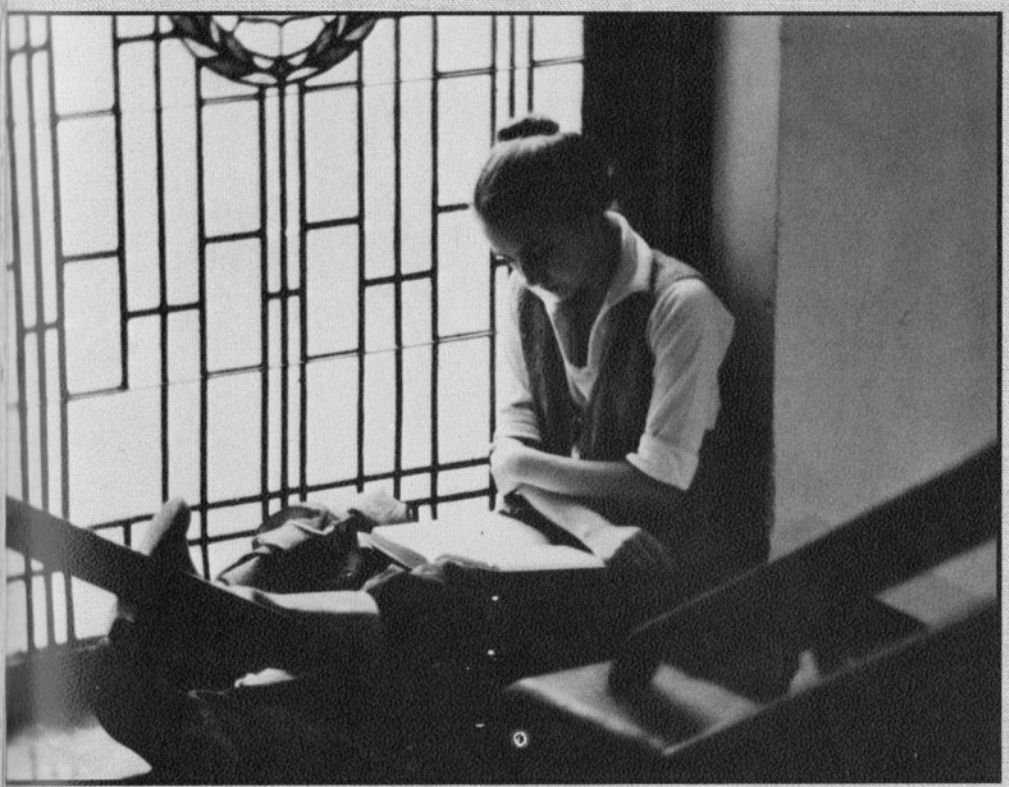


"Mmmmm...Juicy Fruit!"





"How about some fire out here?"

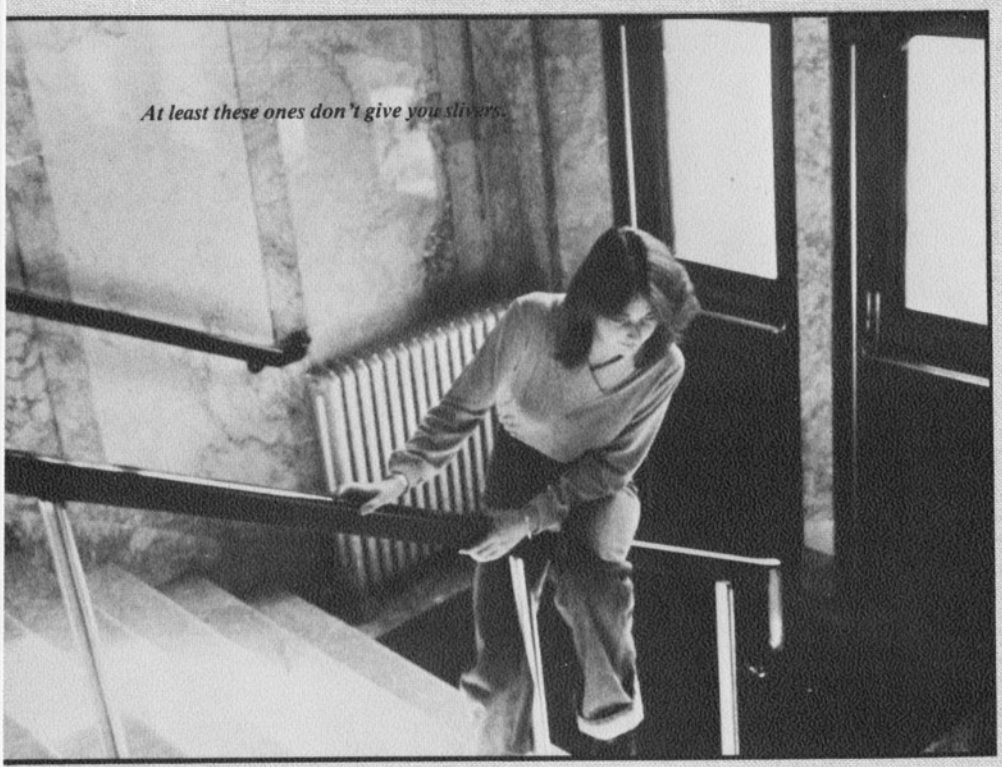


Light reader.

As the end of the year comes closer, we're still occasionally reminded of the renovations; small things like 'No Parking' signs inside the building. With everything they did to the school, I thought they might have raised the fountains, but they're still dwarf-size.

Like wisps of smoke in the wind, we are forever changing.

Wretched renovations.



At least these ones don't give you slivers.

"But sir, I'm NOT writing on the wall!"

It took a long time, but we finally got our cafeteria back. There's still not much room to eat lunch however, as it's half the size that it was last year. The plastic handrails have turned out to be useful after all, and the new smoking area even more so.

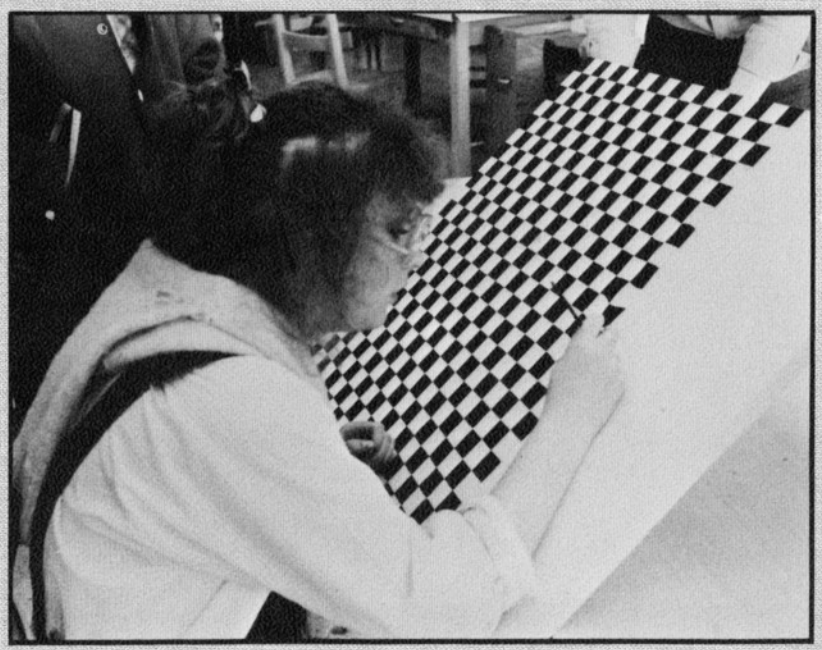
"Sure, they're cigarettes."

Mixed reactions.

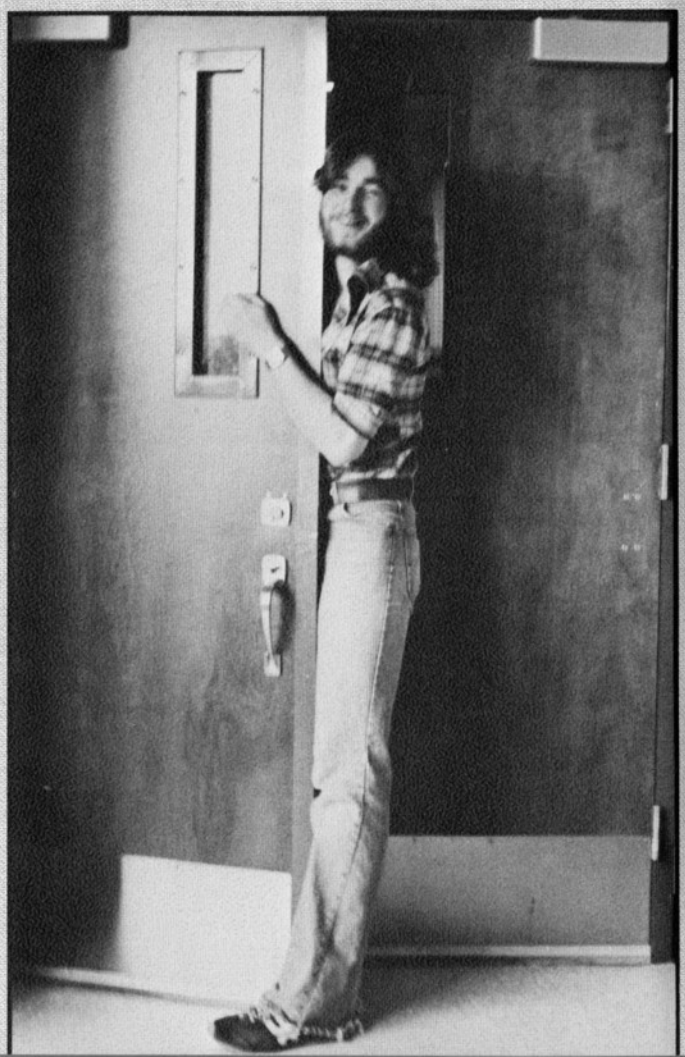
"Mind your own business!"

Our face has been altered, but the spirit remains the same.

Lots of lates.



Self-inflicted brain damage.



"Love my door?"

Reflecting back on the year, I think it's reasonable to say that we've all had a pretty good year at Vic High. Really, school has something for everybody; whether it's sports, drama, music, or just a place to meet people and hear about parties. Those of us who are grads look at the end of the year with mixed feelings; we're elated to finally be finished, yet at the same time we'll be drifting away from a lot of friends and a lot of good times.
